At this point Mrs. Gladys Rhodes introduced the guest for the afternoon, Robert Long, owner of Long's Florist, who brought to us information on arranging spring flowers. He also mentioned what beautiful arrangements that could be made with such few flowers. Flowers were donated to patients at Lincoln Hospital.
While enjoying this demonstration refreshments were served.
Miss Ruth Horry, sister of the hostess assisted in serving and also Mrs. Minerva Evans.

Members present were: Mesdames Lyda Wray, Lucy Norwood, Minerva Evans, Mable Davis, Hazeline Wilson, Naomi Thorpe, Marie Pittman, Virginia Alston, Lizzie Cannady, Georgia Whitted, Eleanor Lloyd, Mozella McLaughlin, Gladys Swift, Elana Peddy, Marion Henry, Consuelia Foreman, Geneva Dillard, Gladys Mc-Kinnie, Mary Smith, Minnie Gilmer and Mable Powell.

Mrs. Swift thanked the hostess for her fine hospitality and the group adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Estelle Freeland on Dunston Street.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE—Friday evening Mrs. Josie Rich entertained at bridge at her home on Linwood Avenue, honoring her cousin, Mrs. William Comfield of San Francisco, California, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Miriam Kyle and family on Rosewood Avenue. Invited in to meet and enjoy bridge with Mrs. Com-field were: Mrs. Margaret Goodin, Mrs. Louise Elder, Mrs. Mae Spaulding, Mrs. Dorothy Manley, Mrs. Isador Michaux, Mrs. Edna Spaulding, Mrs. Lovie McKay, Mrs. Minnie Turner, Mrs. Helen Scott, Mrs. Margaret Shearin, Mrs. Carolina Owen and Mrs. Miriam Kyle.

MRS. TEASLEY ENTERTAINS FRIENDLY WORKERS SICK CLUB—On March 21, Mrs. Mary Teasley was hostess to the Friendly Workers Sick Club at her home. The meeting was presided over by the President. The group donated $12.50 to sick members.
After the business session the hostess served a most delicious menu to guests and members present.

Club members include Mesdames Ola Cross, Dora Lewis, Ollie Price, Addie McCormick, Daisy Bass, Effie Weaver, Lillie Williams, Alice Hill, Novella Crawford, Ella Mae Andrews, Miss Paty Leacroft, Miss Margaret White, Miss Margaret Geer, Avery Cross cause of her brother, when she accused Edward Oscar, 50, of rape. Two white ex-policemen were fined $700 each and given a 30-day jail sentence in Stuttgart, Arkansas last week in connection with the brutal beating of an 18-year-old Colored boy, Leroy Phillips, who refused to buy liquor for them. Four Colored doctors were elected by acclamation to the Pulaski County Medical Society in Little Rock, Arkansas

Scholastic basketball in North Carolina enjoyed its most successful year since the 1949 re-organization of the State Athletic Association. More teams played, more money was made and the play was generally improved. Commissioner W. T. Armstrong is due congratulations for the job he is doing in bringing about better organization of athletics in North Carolina.

And now, basketball gives way to baseball, track and tennis.

TIMES.
Therefore all taxi drivers nominated thus far and up to March 30 will receive only the 50,000 votes. Thus each driver nominated will start off with the same number of votes.
Remember, nominations for your favorite taxi driver will be received until March 30. It will not be necessary to fill in and send but one blank to the office of the CAROLINA TIMES at 518 E. Pettigrew Street to nominate a driver.

The following six weeks of the contest, however, will tell a different story when each blank will count for 25,000 votes for the first two weeks, 23,000 votes for the second two weeks and 21,000 votes for the last two weeks.

As promised in our announcement with the April 4 issue of the TIMES, the relative standing of each driver will be published each week of the contest. The actual standing and the winner of the contest will be published in the May 16 issue of the CAROLINA TIMES.

Nominees should be judged on the following points: Personal appearance; politeness to customers; politeness to pedestrians; politeness to drivers of other cars; cleanliness of his taxi, inside and out; promptness in answering calls; ability as a smooth driver; ability as a safe driver; general conduct while on and off duty; his regard for all the laws of safe driving.

Taxi drivers and their cab numbers nominated thus far are as follows:

Monday night to endorse a candidate for the Third Ward.
When the tempest finally subsided, the vote for endorsement stood 31 for Harris, six for Taylor and three for Mazzyk.

Taylor, who was the Committee's choice for the Third Ward seat in 1951, denounced the committee's action of endorsing one man and charged that a conspiracy had been set in motion against him because "some few people" didn't like him.

He charged further that one candidate (presumably Harris) withdrew his letter announcing his candidacy after learning that he (Taylor) had entered the race, only to announce his candidacy at the meeting Monday night. Taylor further charged that Mazzyk was urged to enter the race for fear that there would be no other Negro candidate to oppose him. This, he alleged, savored of a deliberate attempt to "gang up" on him.

It became evident even to the most uninitiated that Harris would be the committee's choice before the meeting was ten minutes old. The deliberations were shot through in countless instances with "let's do what we came here for and get this over with."

Only L. E. Austin, H. M. Mich-aux, N. B. White and perhaps Atty. C. O. Pearson urged that the committee not endorse any candidate but declare an open race. Pearson was stopped in the middle of his speech on a point of order.

Austin feared that the committee would do "irreparable harm to itself unless it declare an open race." White asked the committee to disregard its instructions to endorse only one man and allow the members of the committee to vote on the choice of an open race for all three or endorsement of one candidate. Pearson also seemed to fear that the committee might be doing harm by endorsing one man.

C. C. Cobb, J. M. Husband, Atty. M. H. Thompson, and Rev.
W. F. Cox were among those who chimed in for the committee to endorse only one man.

Mazzyk, who announced his candidacy to the assembled meeting second after Harris announced that he was in the race, appealed to the committee to "give labor a chance." He pointed out that both Harris and Taylor had been unsuccessful candidates in previous elections.

Harris, in a statement to the TIMES this week, outlined his platform as follows:

"To diligently search for all the facts in any matter that has the consideration of the Council; to digest these facts and, aiming at all times to protect and promote the best interest of Durham's citizens, draw the conclusion which it is believed would be drawn by any other honorable, logical and prudent man, and vote accordingly."

Harris was born in Abingdon, Virginia in 1900 and attended both Virginia Union in Richmond and Northwestern University's School of Commerce in Chicago.

He came to Durham 32 years ago and went to work for the Bankers Fire Insurance Company as a special agent. He has risen with the firm through the positions of managing under-writer, assistant secretary to his present position as vice-president-secretary.

He is married to the former Miss Plassie Williams of this city and is a member of the St.
Titus Episcopal Church here.

Harris serves as treasurer of Lincoln Hospital, vice-president of the Southern Fidelity Mutual Insurance Company, is a member of the boards of the Community Chest, the Mechanics and Farmers Bank and the Mutual Savings and Loan Association.

So far, the picture of Durham's municipal election shapes up something like this: Clarence Whitefield, J. E. Strawbridge and Dr. E. C. Brown are seeking the Fifth Ward seat. Brown is the incumbent. George Watts Carr and E. R. Williamson are seeking re-election as members-at-large. Floyd Fletcher will run for the first ward seat, and Mayor E. J. Evans will seek re-election.

Dr. Hampton, the first Negro to serve on Greensboro's city council in recent years, became the first incumbent to seek re-election for the election on May 5. Already six candidates are in this race, and if the number gets to more than 14, a primary will be had April 27.

Alexander, president of the American could justify discrimination legally, morally or logically. If there are any benefits to be derived from expenditures, the President asserted, they should be shared by all citizens regardless of such inconsequential factors as race or religion.

Informed President Eisenhower's statement, Mitchell said: "Segregation in schools on military posts is a problem that President Eisenhower can settle by calling the Pentagon on the telephone. His forthright statement gives reason to hope that State branch of the NAACP, is an at-large candidate since Charlotte does not use the ward system. He missed a council seat in 1951 by less than 2,000 votes.

Mrs. Anderson, who is seeking a place on the Charlotte school board, is an outstanding educator and retired school principal. Mother of four children, she was the motivating force behind the formation of the teachers credit union of Mecklenburg county.

Robinson, who is the second Negro to run for Chapel Hill's city council, has been a community leader for several years.

persons out of the car, which

A soldier, who said that the car passed him at a high speed and reported the accident.

The President instructed his press secretary to make note of the question so that immediate inquiry could be made. The NAACP has for a long period sought federal action to eliminate segregation in schools maintained by the government on military posts in Texas and other southern states.
