School Teachers Turn Actors

CHARLOTTE The West Charlotte High School faculty presented "Outward Bound", a drama in three acts, December 7 in the school auditorium. The play was centered around a group of oddly assorted characters who were passengers on an ocean liner whose destination was unknown. Suddenly the bewildered and puzzled travelers came to a realization that they were all dead and were headed for judgement day. The examiner came on board to judge their individual cases and each reacted to his own philosophy and background. Members of the cast were: Misses Joyce Privat, Anna Layton, and Hortense Reid, Joseph White, James Herring, Gerson Stroud and Gentry Roberts. The production staff included Mesdames Barbara Davis, Martha McKinney, Elizabeth Randolph Adelaide Hunt, Leroy Washington, Joseph Towns,
