(Continued from Page One) publicity director, stated that is what they have for you Barnes. He was joined by a Mr. Ladd, who gave the assenting nod. Barnes not only refused to sit down, but walked out of the place in protest, and promised to report the matter to the powers-that-be in the party.

Barnes' failure to stay at the meet, it is believed, might affect Republican chances during the forthcoming election. He is well-known throughout the eastern seaboard as a Republican. He started working for the party in 1928 as a member of the staff of The CAROLINA TIMES. He has been active in every national campaign since 1932 for the GOP. He worked for Hoover, Landon, Wilkie, Dewey and Eisenhower, on the national level and toured the state in 1948 and 1952 as a representative of the Republican National Committee. He has been publicity director for quite a few Republican organizations, and is recognized as a first lieutenant for Dr. J. W. V. Cordice, state GOP.

Local leaders have been mum on the matter and do not care to be quoted.

SPORTS BEAT

But Jones, I am told, after receiving the award walked over to Garrett of Morgan and said, "you deserve this award more than I do" . . . 'twas the first time I recall seeing officials receive an award. Considering all of the things the poor official usually receives, I am sure that they must have been moved by the gesture, and will dedicate themselves to better officiating.

The basketball coaches of the CIAA formed an Association during the tournament and elected as their first president Floyd Brown of NCC. The Association can do much good for basketball in the CIAA. One of its first efforts should be to right the questionable procedure of stopping the 18 teams of the league to pick one team to send to the NAIA. Until our teams can enter the other national tournaments the schools should not be denied the right to play another two weeks of basketball.

The Warlick in the Xavier (La.) line-up against the "Eagles" in the NAIA first round play-offs is the brother of Ernest "Hands" Warlick of North Carolina College fame . . . The spectator decorum at this 9th CIAA tournament was excellent. There were fans from Brooklyn, New York to Nashville, Tenn. and from Charleston, W. Virginia to Charleston, South Carolina gathered here. For making this tournament such a great success, hats off to you, you and especially you.

Nashville, Tenn.
MARCH 1-2-3

NCC	85	XAVIER	68
TENN.	79	VIRGINIA UNION	73
NCC	81	TEXAS SOUTHERN	80

The "Eagles" moved into finals against Tennessee State. Coach Brown solved the fast-break style of Texas Southern University, but was forced to win in the last 20 seconds on a 40 foot field goal by Slight to tie the score and a charity toss by Bennie Dix in the last five seconds.

The winner of the NAIA at Nashville will go to Kansas City, Missouri for the 32-team play-off for national honors.
