

Seven North Carolina Negro City Councilmen Slated Institute Municipal Corporation For NCC

The North Carolina College Law School will sponsor an Institute on Municipal Corporations at the N.C.C. Law Building on Saturday, April 24. The Law School's Moot Court Room will be the scene of registration at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Seven Negro councilmen representing some of North Carolina's principal cities will be among the discussants on a race relations symposium at 11:30 a.m. J. S. Stewart, Chairman of the Durham Committee on Negro Affairs, will preside. The topic of discussion is "The Elements Necessary for Attaining Negro-White Cooperation in the Election of Negroes to Municipal Office".

City officials slated to take part include: R. N. Harris, Durham; Dr. G. K. Butterfield, Winston-Salem; Dr. W. P. DeVane, Fayetteville; Dr. William Hampton, Greensboro; Nathaniel Barber, Gastonia; and Hubert S. Robinson, Chapel Hill.

The objective of the institute "will be to highlight the best thinking and experiences on complex problems encountered by city government, to encourage constructive thinking and action by citizens in their communities, and to help materially in the process of citizenship training for fuller participation in government affairs, especially at the local level", according to Prof. Paul Simmons of the Law School planning committee.

Dr. A. L. Turner, dean of the N.C.C. Law School, will preside at the opening session. President Alfonso Elder will bring greetings to the institute.

The resident faculty of the N. C. College Law School will conduct an introductory panel at 10:00 a.m. on "The Nature of the Municipal Corporation". Participants and their topics are: Professor Paul A. Simmons, "The Creation and Legislative Control of a Municipal Corporation"; Prof. Sybil M. Jones, "The Powers of a Municipal Corporation"; Prof. Stanley P. Hebert, "The Legislative, Administrative and Judicial Procedure Used in Operating a Municipal Corporation as a Consequence of its Breaches of Contracts and Torts".

In the afternoon session beginning at 2:30 p.m. three experts in the field of city government will discuss several problems in the operation of a municipality. C. V. Jones, City Attorney of Durham, will discuss "The Letting of Municipal Contracts" at the first session from 2:30 to 3:15 p.m.

John A. McMahon of the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill will discuss "Revenue Sources and Tax Collection" at the second session from 3:15 to 4:00 p.m.

At the final session from 4:00 to 4:15 p.m., George Esser of the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill will discuss "Remedies Available Against Municipal Corporations as a Consequence of its Torts".
