STUDENTS

I concentrated on music in Boston, Mass. for 12 years. During this interval, I became acquainted with many students then attending the New England Conservatory of Music. There was Paul Whiteman, today's famous maestro, Horace Whitehouse, Julius Chaloff, Guy Maier, Lee Pattison, former partners in a piano team; Wesley Howard, Louisa Jones, Andrew Rosemond, James Hinton, and numerous others.

These students whetted my desire to make the most of my opportunity to learn music. Some of us could be found on the street far into the night discussing some phase of music.

Then too, critics, in making comparisons had often said that students from the south show more warmth in their playing or singing than students from various other parts of the country.

Also, men like Sidney Lanier, Joel Chandler Harris, James Weldon Johnson, J. Rosamond Johnson, and William Grant Still never disowned the land of their nativity.

(to be continued next week)

and E. D. Lowery, parliamentarian.

The officers for Northside Parent-Teachers Association are: Willis Weaver, president; Mrs. Mable Weaver, vice-president; Mrs. Irene Jackson, secretary; Mrs. Ocie Mae Foushee, assistant secretary; Charles Farrington, treasurer; and Mrs. L. H. Summers, parliamentarian.

The new officers will be installed at the next regular meeting of the association to be held May 25 at Northside Elementary School.

Following the business session of the meeting of the association, parents and friends observed "Open House." A quartet and dance group entertained them briefly. Refreshments were served.

AN ASIDE

There was a fellow among us in some of these discussions who often attacked me in debate about telling that I was from the South. Apparently he thought to come from this section discredited a person. I took the opposite view, however, too many illustrious men have come from Dixie to warrant such a narrow view by anyone.
