-Teachers-

(Continued from Page One) May continued. "This is not a local issue... it is not a decision for Negroes; it is a decision for America. I wish we could take a positive attitude and not a negative one... I wish we would assume that if there is a shortage of 75,000 teachers in America... that we are not going to need fewer teachers but more teachers... that if Negro teachers are competent, if they have tenure, if they meet the standard of excellence as set by the state and by the regional board... that we will have jobs, and we will have schools in which to teach and students to teach."

The meetings' crowning moments was the ATA's presentation to the NAACP of $500 for a life membership and the customary 10 per cent of annual memberships to the legal and educational defense fund, amounting to $1,809.90. The presentation was made to Thurgood Marshall by ATA Trustee C. L. Harper amid the applause of a standing ovation.

Major officers elected were: Mrs. Lillian Rogers Johnson, Mississippi, president; Elmer T. Hawkins, Maryland, Vice-president; Mrs. Minnie D. Bell, D. C. and C. L. Harper, Georgia, executive committee; G. A. Key, Tennessee and Dr. J. H. Taylor, N. C., Board of Trustees; Dr. H. Councill Trenholm, Alabama, executive secretary; Dr. Howard H. Long, Ohio, treasurer.

(Continued from Page One) than 500 delegates and housewives from 26 states are expected to attend the five-day meet at the scenic North Carolina College. The Durham and Chapel Hill Chapters will be hosts to the convention which has as its purpose To Raise The Economic Status of the Negro by Directed Spending. This year's convention theme will be "Building Better Business Is Our Business."

The National Housewives League of America had its beginning in 1933 at the White Rock Baptist Church in Durham with Mrs. Fannie Peck of Detroit, Michigan as its Founder. The organization grew out of an idea Mrs. Peck had by which Negro women could help in the development of better businesses. The Durham Business and Professional Chain, composed of leading businessmen of the city, is lending its efforts in the planning of the convention.

Activities for the first day will include registration at the Annie Day Shepard Dormitory at North Carolina College, an institute meeting, and an automobile tour to one of the city's cigarette manufacturing plants.

The City Mayor, the president of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company and many other outstanding people of the city will welcome the delegates Tuesday. Delegates will also be carried on a tour of their building afterwards.

A mammoth public meeting will be held Tuesday evening, August 17, at Durham's White Rock Baptist Church where the first organizational meeting was held 21 years ago. Principal speaker for this meeting will be L. E. Austin, publisher of the CAROLINA TIMES newspaper.

Convention business will be discussed Wednesday highlighted by a social period in the evening sponsored by the Durham Business and Professional Chain of Durham. Housewives attending will have an opportunity to gather helpful hints on homemaking through demonstrations to be given by representatives of the Pet Milk Company, several local dairy and wholesale food distributors.

The convention banquet will be held at the Do Nut Shoppe, Negro owned and operated restaurant, Thursday evening. Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Fuqua, and members of the host chapter will be speakers for the occasion. Reports from all chapters, committees, and the election of officers will be on the agenda for the closing session Friday.

Mrs. Callie Day is president of the host chapter, and Mrs. Marjorie Page is chairman of the Chapel Hill Chapter. Attorney Floyd B. McKissick is Chairman of the Convention Planning Committee. Others assisting in the convention planning are Mrs. Magnolia Leake, Mrs. Atrella Bryant, Miss Sarah Dotson, and Mrs. Jacqueline DeShazor.

Members of the Business and Professional Chain on the Planning Committee are W. J. Clement, J. J. Henderson, J. M. Schooler, N. B. White, G. W. Cox, John H. Wheeler, and Mr. McKissick. National officers are Mrs. Christina Fuqua, president, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Pearl Bell, first vice-president, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Estelle Crosley, second vice-president, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Callie B. Daye, third vice-president, Durham, N. C.; Mrs. Nannie Black, recording secretary, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Earnestine Mahone, assistant recording secretary, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Josephine Smith, Corresponding secretary, Detroit, Michigan; Mrs. Ruth Jackson, treasurer, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Ella Martin, financial secretary, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Arena J. Bugg, parliamentarian, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Judith Payne, parliamentarian, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Unise Randolph, historian, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Addie Duff, chaplain, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Hortense Howell, organizer, Dallas, Texas; and Mrs. Fannie Peck, Founder.

Mrs. Terrell, who died in Annapolis, Md., at the age of 90 years, vigorously crusaded for equal rights for women and for members of minority races. For many years she advocated these rights from lecture platforms, and in recent years she was active in the Congress of Racial Equality in the nation's capital.

For thousands of Americans the name of Mrs. Terrell was synonymous with militancy and zeal in the advocacy of civil and political rights for women, and racial equality under the law.

Mrs. Terrell received wide publicity when, at the age of 85, she applied for membership in the Washington, D. C., branch of the American Association of University Women, and was rejected because of her race. The succeeding controversy resulted in a revision of the Association's by-laws, making an academic degree the only qualification for membership. Mrs. Terrell led her graduating class at Oberlin College.

During the course of her career, Mrs. Terrell served as a member of the Board of Education of the District of Columbia, president of the National Association of Colored Women, and president of the South West Community House in Washington.

the civil rights legislative program, was approved on July 21 by the House Commerce Committee by a vote of 19 to 7. It still must be cleared by the House Rules Committee before being voted upon by House members. Meanwhile, no action has been taken on the companion bill in the Senate.

NAACP branches in key states have been asked by Gloster B. Current, director of branches, to secure commitments for support of the bill from their respective congressmen. "This bill," Mr. Current told the branches, "can be passed in this session of the 83rd Congress if our people let their representatives and senators know that this is a crucial item in our legislative program and should be enacted forthwith."

The new degree program will be under the general supervision of Dr. Rose Butler Browne, chairman of the department of education. After the 1954 school year, the department of education is expected to move into new quarters in the college's $600,000 Education Building which is expected to be available for occupancy in 1955.

-Mrs. Wells-

Born in Bolivar County, Miss., Mrs. Wells was the widow of W. H. Dillard. The mother of five children, two of which survive, the deceased joined Mount Zion Baptist Church in 1949 upon coming to Durham and remained active in the church until illness rendered her disable.

Surviving are one son, Samuel D. Dillard, one daughter, Mrs. Alice D. Luster, six grandchildren, all of Durham; three sisters and two brothers.
