(Continued from Page One) Supreme Court; 2. "We invite all citizens to join hands to work for... more and better schools for every child in Mississippi" regardless of race; 3. Appointment of Negroes to "all policy-making boards and committees at all levels in matters of human relations;" 4. While seeking to "preserve the present good relationship between the races, ... we respectfully request our state leaders and agencies not to ask us to do those things which would destroy our influence with our own people;" 5. "Let us, therefore, rally to one standard — to remove as soon as possible from the lives of our children, both Negro and white, those severe penalties which they now suffer because of an inadequate and segregated system of education;" and 6. "The only solution to the school problem that Mississippi can morally and financially afford, and at the same time will meet the approval of the United States Supreme Court, is to consolidate and integrate the present schools on all levels and then equalize and expand within the framework of consolidation and integration. After these schools have become consolidated and integrated, equalization can take place rapidly throughout the state and within the ability of the state to pay. The principal requirement under the consolidated and integrated program is that each child must attend the school nearest his or her home."

Dr. Howard Leads Group Spokesmen for the group were Dr. T. R. M. Howard of Mound Bayou, president of the Mississippi Regional Council of Negro Leadership; E. W. Banks of Jackson, Miss.; Ruby Lyles, former librarian at the state-owned Jackson College for Negroes; Percy Greene, editor of the Jackson Advocate; President J. H. White of the state-owned Mississippi Vocational College for Negroes at Ita Bena; L. S. Alexander of Jackson; J. D. Boyd of Utica, former president of the Mississippi Negro Teachers Association, and Reverend H. Hume of Greenville, president of the Negro Baptist Convention and editor of a weekly Negro newspaper. The lone supporter of the Governor's "voluntary" plan continuing segregation was J. W. Jones, a school teacher from Union County. However, Dr. Howard submitted a supplemental five-point program and Mr. Greene offered a seven-point compromise.

You reported to the Communist Party District on March 28, 1944 and were entered on the membership rolls of the Communist Political Association in the summer of '44. Reportedly, consistent with Communist Party policy, your name was dropped from membership rolls when you became a Federal employee. It is reliably reported that in the period from approximately 1942 to 1949, you were not expelled by the Communist Party and did not break with the party." Mrs. Moss got these charges in a letter from John G. Connell, Jr., chairman of the Army Security Screening Board and it began, "Dear Mrs. Moss and closed with "very truly yours." It advised her of her rights to appeal.

It was necessary for us to revert all surpluses, or unallocated balances, in all departments in order to have a balanced budget for the 1954-55 year." Coltrane explained the reasons for postponing the bid letting to a reporter after NCC's budgetary hearings. The budget officer also said the action "was in no way influenced by the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in the schools." On July 28, the Advisory Budget Commission heard Dr. Elder request $1,713,731 for two new buildings and a modern underground electric and telephone system. The buildings included a dormitory for senior and graduate women to cost an estimated $521,269. The cost of the underground electric system was quoted at $176,100. President Elder of NCC was away from Durham last week and unavailable for comment

Former Olympic Runner On Local Business Tour

Prior to the week when most of Durham's population will be engaged in discussing business problems and their solutions, a noted businessman is visiting various establishments in the city promoting sales for the Pabst Brewing Company. The person referred to is Herb Douglas of Pittsburgh, Pa. Douglas has been working throughout the southern states with the Pabst Company for the past four years. He attended the University of Pittsburgh where he received his B.S. and Master of Education degrees. Probably known more widely for his athletic achievements, Mr. Douglas was the first Negro to play football at Pittsburgh University in 1945 under Clark Shaughnessy.

As a former track man, the young salesman represented his school at the Olympic Meet in London, England in 1948, and placed third in the event. He has also won titles for the 100 yard dash and the running broad jump. His present job consists of coordinating programs between the distributors and the Negro market, handling taste promotions, and arranging banquets. It was during the process of arranging a banquet several years ago that Mr. Douglas had the opportunity to work with Larry Doby, noted big league baseball player, who works in the field during the winter months. Following his stay in Durham, Mr. Douglas will move on to Greensboro and other cities in the State.

A public meeting, banquet, tour of the city and some of its buildings, will be among the highlights of the convention week. last night on the latest developments in the biology building. However, William Jones, business manager, said, "Naturally we are all very pleased, for this action means we can relieve considerably the overcrowded conditions in our science departments."
