1st Baptist Church News

APEX
A week of successful revival effort climaxed by the observing of Sunday as homecoming day was engaged in last week at the First Baptist Church. The revival service was conducted by the Rev. James Stewart, pastor of the White Oak and Mt. Sinai Baptist churches. The meeting resulted in thirteen conversions.

Homecoming on Sunday began when the pastor, the Rev. H. Albert Smith baptized sixteen persons prior to the eleven o'clock service. Three of the persons baptized (adults) were received as candidates at the scene of the exercise.

At 11:30 the pastor preached on the subject "Advantages of Not Paying Attention." Rev. Smith particularly stressed the thought of turning a deaf ear to every voice that tends to discourage religious inspiration and Christian incentives.

Rev. Smith also cautioned against accepting verdicts attributing inferiority to people of color. Directing his remarks more directly to the young people, the pastor said, "Feel and know in your heart that you are a child of God and the equal of any group on earth. That does not mean asserting equality by word of mouth at every opportunity, but by building character that compels recognition and behaving as superior persons."

Looking over the famous Abraham Lincoln Bible at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., are the University's president, Charles Johnson, and Arna Bon-temps, librarian. When the loyal colored citizens of Baltimore, Maryland presented him with this Great Book 90 years ago, President Lincoln said: "THE BIBLE, THE BEST GIFT GOD HAS GIVEN TO MAN..." Now this is the theme for the 14th annual observance of National Bible Week, sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee.

American Jewish Congress Urges Action Against Segregationists

The U. S. Attorney-General, Mr. Herbert Brownell, was yesterday (Wednesday), Oct. 6) urged by the American Jewish Congress to take immediate measures against persons violating Federal laws by attempting to defy the Supreme Court's decision barring racial segregation in the public schools.

In a special message to the Attorney General, Mr. Shad Polier, chairman of the executive committee of the American Jewish Congress, noted that the Supreme Court's decision last May was "one of the most effective blows yet struck in this nation's struggle to main its democratic institutions against erosion from within and subversion from abroad."

If the current efforts to annul this decision are successful, "we would lose the great gains in prestige and influence that the decision won for us in the eyes of the world," Mr. Polier declared.

"The United States Government cannot act on the assumption that the Supreme Court decision is self-executing. Certainly it must view with profound concern the acts of persons who seek to prevent citizens from exercising their newly declared right. The hoodlums who recently defied the law in our nation's capital as well as in Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia are openly violating the Federal civil rights laws. The Department of Justice should make plain, by maximum mobilization of its resources, that these outrages will not be tolerated."

"The Supreme Court decision has been accepted and successfully put into operation in many parts of the country. It is plain that the great precept it establishes is workable and will ultimately be accepted by all our people. The recently reported outrages are the exception. Yet there is real danger that they will encourage similar disturbances. It is therefore all the more important that the lawbreakers be dealt with energetically before the contagion spreads."

UNCF Program Explained At Bennett Rites

GREENSBORO
The significance of the program of the United Negro College Fund and aid it has given the capital improvement programs of 31 private southern colleges was clearly defined last week at Bennett College when buildings and campus projects valued at more than $300,000 were dedicated.

A fine arts building, Faculty Court Homes, the Children's House—all formally committed to the College's Board of Trustees during the dedication rites.

Mrs. Julius W. Cone, Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee, accepted the keys to these buildings from a representative of the George W. Kane Construction Company. Referring to the College as her neighbor, she said: Bennett College has learned a lot from being an ugly child; now she has grown into a lovely and gracious young woman."

More than a half million dollars has come to Bennett as its share of $25,000,000 raised by the Fund in its national campaigns during the past ten years.

Speaking to more than 450 students, the faculty, members of the Board of Trustees, and friends of the institution, W. J. Trent, Jr., Executive Director of the Fund, had this to say: "The United Negro College Fund has pioneered in educational chest-fund-raising." However, he emphasized that praise for the success of the pioneering venture should go to American citizens in Greensboro and elsewhere who have believed in the fund and the 31 colleges which it supports.

Dr. David Jones, President of the College, recognized the presence of out of town guests, among whom were Mrs. Richard Leongard, member of the United Negro College Fund Board of Directors, New York City; Dr. Arnaud Marts, also of New York City; Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Trent, Sr., of Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C.; and Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown and Miss Wilhelmina Crosson of Palmer Institute, Sedalia, N. C.
