The pupils of one of the sixth grades at Spaulding School gave a surprise party to their teacher, Mrs. Christine Boone. The party was held at the home of Wauna Dooms. The plot to get Mrs. Boone to his home was that Mrs. Dooms wanted to talk with her. When she arrived, the children, who were waiting in the garage, rushed out with "Surprise, surprise." Mrs. Boone was very surprised. She was showered with many gifts from her pupils.

Carol Phillips celebrated her seventh birthday at her home on Alston Avenue. Her party was held Wednesday, October 6. The guests played Hallowe'en games, had ice cream, cake and punch, and really enjoyed themselves. Those helping Carol to celebrate were: Pinky Pippin, Yolanda and Tony Ford, Alice and Phillip McCollum, Sandra McClain, Dwight Price, Buddy and Joseph White, Denise Jennifer, Marjyn and Clinton Weston, and Gina Fulbright.

Fred Daniel Lyles and his sister, Karen Bernice, left the city for Detroit, Michigan, where they joined their father, Mr. S. D. Lyles, Jr. They were accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Bernice Lyles.

The Fun Club at the Stanford Warren Library met last Wednesday and elected their officers for the year. They are: President, Betty Jo Goodloe; Vice President, Portia Waller; Secretary, Lafayette Williams; Assistant Secretary, Elsie Locust; Chairmen of Program Committee and Recreation Committee, Barbara Smith and Laurette Williams.

Ann McMillon was four years old on October 8th. She and her daddy, whose birthday is on October 7th, had a joint celebration with a family dinner.

Y-Teens of the YWCA of Durham on Wednesday, Oct. 6, told their story to their classmates, both boys and girls, in Whitted Junior High School. The occasion was Y-Teen Day in the schools of the 438 communities and in the rural areas where teen-agers are active in the program of the Y. The Y-Teens of the Harriet Tubman Branch are among the more than 300,000 in the United States who participated during the week of October 10-16 in the seventh annual observation of Y-Teens. An assembly program was scheduled at 10:15 on Wednesday to give Y-Teens here an opportunity to bring their story to fellow students and to invite both girls and boys of Whitted School to join them in their activities. Y-Teens who took part were: Viola Jones, Joyce Barnes, Willie Taylor, Ann Davis, Frances Green, Laurette and Lafayette Williams, Janet Claggett, Wynella Tatum, Katherine Fuller, Reia McMillan, Mary Cannady, Barbara Sties, Mary Martin, Carrie Harley, Barbara Fields, Warnetta Jenkins, Phyllie Halstack, Marion Best, Carolyn E. Hayes, Barbara Holder, Rita Edwards, Norma Sligh and Barbara Walker.

GOING TO CHURCH WITH NED DAVIS

A successful check-up meeting of the Western N. C. Conference recently was held at the St. Stephens AME Church in Gastonia. Bishop William J. Walls, presided. The opening date of the annual conference to be held in Charlotte will be announced later.

On Sunday, Oct. 17, The Golden Tone Singers will celebrate their anniversary at the Clinton Metropolitan Church. On November 7, the "Couslers" will appear at the Clinton Church featuring a husband and wife team.

Our Men's Day program will close Oct. 17. On October 12, the trustees will sponsor a program in the interest of the Brotherhood club.

Len Long, general manager of the Piedmont Negro Fair, and your reporter have visited two fairs, this season in Manning, S. C. Childrens Day at the Fair drew more than 4,000 paid admissions. A large crowd attended the opening of the Cleveland County Negro Fair, now in its 20th year. The Southern State Fair which closed Oct. 9th drew on its opening day the largest crowd in its history.

Your reporter is keeping his promise to tell you how to make your church interesting. Instead of trying to show people "how big you are, manifest humility and kindness. All successful business men must take care of old customers and attract new ones. The big element in success here is not what is sold. It is the character of the personnel.

This holds true of the church whose mission is to save souls and to enrich the life of the community. As a part of the church, start inviting folks to church and welcoming them with a handshake when they come.
