

NCC Eagles, Shaw Bears In Homecoming Tilt

ERNIE'S SPORT SPOT

BY ERNIE INGRAM

BOB GRIER, PITTSBURGH FULLBACK SEPARATED FROM TEAMMATES

Bob Grier, Pittsburgh Panthers hefty fullback, was forced to live in separate housing while his teammates enjoyed the luxury of Washington Duke Hotel. Bob and his teammates landed early Friday and had dinner at the Washington Duke. Then the question arose as to where he would live. Bob told the SPOT, "his teammates didn't like seeing him segregated and weren't going to stay at the hotel. However, he discouraged any such action." "I knew how it would be down here," he said, "but I wanted to play against Duke who was ranked number five in the country."

Bob got his wish and was in the starting lineup against Duke. Bob handled the ball once in the first quarter for no gain. In the same quarter he failed to check a Duke pass play and was taken out of the game.

In the last quarter he picked up three yards on an off guard slant. After he was tackled, Buddy Stanley piled on and Duke was penalized 15 yards. Pitt scored on the next play. Bob was housed at Chidley Hall.

Wonder what will Notre Dame do with Aubrey Lewis and Wayne Edmonds when they play the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill? I recall Frank Leahy saying the last time at Chapel Hill: "If my Negro players can't have the same accommodations as the rest of my team, then we don't play. Well, they didn't get the same accommodations, and nothing was said about it. It will be interesting to see how Terry Brennan feels about it."

FOOTBALL BRIEFS

On the eve of their Homecoming the Eagles of NCC are going to be forced to rebuild their morale if they hope to beat Shaw. They play host to the fired-up Bears at O'Kelly Field this Saturday. Shaw tied Virginia State and lost a heartbreaker to Elizabeth City 19-18.

Against Maryland State NCC couldn't get anything going offensively. In fact, Al Montgomery was caught behind the goal for the Hawks' first two points. They scored two touchdowns via the airplanes, one 72 yards and the other 44 yards. Johnny Sample, Vernon Vaughn, Andy Dement, Lanny Butler, Willie Williams, Johnny Oates were the standout players for the Maryland Hawks. For the Eagles, it was a day of frustration. Before a Homecoming Day crowd of nearly 5,000 the Eagles just couldn't get started. . . . Lincoln High of Chapel Hill remained unbeaten through last week and has 5-0 record. . . . Hillside lost to Williston High of Wilmington, 25-0. Williston is in first place in the Eastern Division AAA ratings. . . .

It will be West Virginia State against Virginia Union in the Eighth Annual Shrine Fish Bowl game at Foreman Field, Norfolk, Virginia November 12th. . . . In defeating Penn State, 34-14, Navy held Penn State's speedy Negro halfback, Lennie Moore to 37 yards net. His lowest in two years. . . . The season's major disappointment is Hampton Institute, loser in three straight out of four games. . . . In North Carolina Scholastic Football there are 25 teams in the AAA and 34 in the AA. Hillside is second in the Eastern Division, Western District AAA ratings.

BOXING NOTE

The SPOT is predicting a victory for Bay "Sugar" Robinson in his quest to regain the Middleweight Championship. He will defeat Carl "Bobo" Olson for the crown. . . . Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson will fight Jimmy Slade in a rubber match before his proposed fight with Heavyweight Champion "Rocky" Marciano.

FOOTBALL SCORES OF LAST WEEK

Last Place Shaw University Bears May Pull Upset In Game Saturday

North Carolina College's first ranked 1954 CIAA football team and Shaw University's last place club are expected to scrap yesterday's record and launch a sixty minute action packed Homecoming battle here, Saturday, October 29 at 2 p.m. on O'Kelly Field.

Prior to the games last weekend, the Eagles and the Bears were tied for third place in the CIAA. This was a startling development for a Shaw team that this season is packing a scoring wallop in virtually every play.

Paced by the brilliant play of Laverne Hunter, Roselle, N. J., sophomore halfback, the Bears have served notice to all that theirs is a club to be reckoned with this season.

The NCC club, which enjoyed a 2-0-1 record prior to the Maryland game, previously defeated St. Augustine's and West Virginia, but settled for a 6 to 6 deadlock with Virginia State. Saturday's game will mark the 16th time that Shaw and NCC have met on the gridiron. The Eagles hold the advantage in the closely contested series 8-6-2.

The Eagles' Homecoming festivities will feature the home gridders Saturday in a contest that matches NCC's veteran Herman H. Riddick with Shaw's second year Duke Brown for the first time. In his first conference of the year with St. Augustine's Riddick spoiled the coaching debut of the Falcon's George Walker. In Raleigh, wisecracks are saying that this is Shaw's year and predictions are that Brown will trim Riddick in a game that is expected to fill NCC's 8,000 seat O'Kelly Field to capacity.

Gala half time activities will feature the crowning of Miss NCC Homecoming and pre-game programs start with a parade. A gay round of social events will be a part of the weekend program.

Shaw University Homecoming Set For Nov. 5

The annual Homecoming Celebration at Shaw University will be held on Saturday, Nov. 5. The clash between the Bluefield State College Big Blues and the Shaw Bears will be the main attraction.

The Homecoming Parade will begin Saturday, Nov. 5, at 12:30 p.m. The array of colorful floats, and the bands with their glamorous and high stepping majorettes will start from Raleigh Memorial Auditorium and proceed on Fayetteville St., to Hargett, right at Hargett, and down Hargett to Blount, down Blount to Lenoir and left on Lenoir to Chavis Park. Officer Samuel Clarkson will serve as parade marshal. The participating bands are the Ligon Junior-Senior High School, of Raleigh directed by Joseph Edwards, and Hillside High of Durham, directed by Philmore Hall.

Ottie West and Miss Ann Jones are co-chairmen of the Float Committee. Others serving on this committee are James Currie, Paul Warren, Howard Pritchard, Leroy Smith, Miss Jonquil Lawrence and Camie Harris. Miss Victoria Morris is the adviser.

The kick-off is scheduled for 2:00 p.m. at Chavis Park. In 1953 the Bears defeated the Big Blues by a score of 13-6. However in 1954 the tables were turned and the Bears lost to the Big Blues by a score of 41-18 on Bluefield's territory. This season so far the Shaw Bears have remained undefeated, having emerged victorious over the Howard Bison to the tune of 21-0, St. Augustine's Falcons 19-0, and a tie of 0-0 with the Virginia State Trojans.

Hornets Trim Lincoln, 18-0

In their second home game this season, Delaware State College Hornets remain unbeaten, untied, pigskin thespians as they felled Lincoln University of Oxford, Pennsylvania, 18-0 to post their fifth victory.

The scoring took place in the first three periods. In the first quarter fullback "Gus" Davis Salem, N. J., intercepted a Lincoln pass on his own 38 yard line and ran to Lincoln's 28 before he was stopped. "Lefty" Wilkerson, Washington, D. C., at halfback for Delaware State, repeatedly gained valuable yardage. Davis then scored on a plunge from the one yard line. Conversion by U. Roseboro, Charlotte, N. C., was missed.

Aggies Swamp Rams, 32-6

Before a crowd of 10,000 swelled by better than 6,000 high school seniors who were guests of the College, the once-beaten A&T Aggies defeated the Winston Salem Teachers College Rams by the score of 32 to 6 here Saturday.

Led by their stellar fullback, Johnny Russell, the Rams surprised the entire crowd by holding off the vaunted attack of the Aggies for most of the first half, but were finally overcome by the constant Aggie pressure two minutes before the end of the first quarter.
