

New Era Sounded At AME Miami Meet

Two Chances ... To Register

If you haven't already done so, you have just two more chances to register to be able to vote in the May 26 Primary.

Books will be open at regular polling places this Saturday and next Saturday, May 12. But May 12 is absolutely the last day you may register.

You may register at your precinct polling place anytime this and next Saturday between sun rise and sunset. Or, by agreement with the registrar you may register at his home or he will come to small groups seeking to register.

If you don't know where to go to register, call the CAROLINA TIMES at 5-0671.

Fund Drive For Olympics

Calhoun Day Set May 9th

North Carolina College alumni, students, faculty, and friends got the Calhoun-McCullough to California committee off into high gear this week.

Some $89 was contributed by spectators attending Duke Ellington's concert.

Ellington himself contributed $10.00.

The committee seeks to raise $1800. It will be used to send Lee Calhoun, world record tying high hurdler, and Charlie McCullough, aspiring Olympic high jumper, to five track meets including the Olympic Tryouts in California next month. Wed. May 9 is Rally Day when contributions are expected to be in.

Both athletes won their specialties at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia last weekend.

A campus wide meeting of all student organizations was planned for Thursday night at 7:30 in NCC President Alfonso Elder's conference room.

William Jones, NCC Business Manager, is treasurer of the committee. Checks, money orders or cash should be sent directly to Jones and made payable to the North Carolina College Calhoun-McCullough Committee. Contributions are deductible from income taxes.

Theodore Cherry, President of the Men's Dormitory Council, said yesterday he planned a proposal whereby each student would give fifty cents or as much as he can afford, as long as each student gives something. Cherry said he was sure his organization would contribute a substantial amount but he said formal action would have to be taken by the group.

Meanwhile, the faculty committee headed by Mrs. W. W. Lewis and J. E. Parker continued planning for the mammoth Calhoun-McCullough Day celebration on Wednesday May 9.

Students participating in the planning are Miss Josephine Long, Durham senior retiring president of the Off-Campus Women's Council, Miss Portia Burt, and W. Sherman Perry, retiring president of the Student Government Association.

N. C. Mutual Director Dies In Maryland

Arthur John Clement, Director of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, died April 30 in Baltimore, Md., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Emma C. Gilkes. He was 78 years old.

Clement was born in Cleveland, North Carolina, and was a graduate (AB) of Biddle University, Charlotte, North Carolina—now Johnson C. Smith. In 1908 he married Miss Sadie K. Jones of Charleston, South Carolina. He was a Mason and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Following his graduation, he went to Wilmington, North Carolina, to work for the People's Benevolent Relief Association. He became connected with North Carolina Mutual November 6, 1906 and associated with the late John M. Avery as a traveling representative. While visiting Charleston, he became interested in the possibilities of that city and when he was offered an opportunity to

Dentist Dies

Word was received here this week that Dr. J. A. Jackson, prominent dentist of Charlottesville, Va., died Monday, April 30. Dr. Jackson had served for nearly a quarter of a century as secretary and treasurer of the National Dental Association.

Funeral rites were held on Wednesday, May 2.

Seating Policy Expected Soon At Ball Park

WILSON

An early meeting to clarify seating policy at the city-owned baseball park here is expected between officials of the baseball team and the city.

This was the gist of opinion following an incident here at the park last Wednesday when a group of Negroes were refused admittance to grandstand.

The group, which included a member of the City Board of Commissioners, Dr. G. K. Butterfield, appeared at the park Wednesday night to attend one of the Wilson team's games. All but one had season tickets, which carry no restrictions.

Dr. Butterfield said that they were refused entrance at the gate to the grandstand, and Rev. T. A. Watkins, who did not have a season ticket, was not permitted to purchase a grandstand ticket.

School Finals To Honor One Of Its Founders

Commencement exercises at the DeShazor's Beauty College in Durham will honor one of the school's founders, Mrs. Eva Bishop Mock.

Main speaker for the exercises will be Rev. J. R. Manley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Chapel Hill.

Some 79 students will be graduated in the rites which will be held at St. Joseph's AME church on Monday, May 7. This will be the 19th commencement exercises for the school.

Special music for the services will be rendered by the student chorus. Three of the school's graduates, Mrs. Fidella Brooks, Mrs. Callie Daye and Mrs. M. D. Leak will be heard in remarks.

Mrs. Mock, who is now in declining health, was one of the founders of the school in 1934. Since that time she has served as dean as well as instructor and treasurer for the college.

In a statement issued this week, Mrs. J. DeShazor, president of the institution, made the following remarks about Mrs. Mock:

"In touching the lives of over 5,000 graduates of DeShazor's Beauty College, Dean Mock, in an unselfish manner has oft times sacrificed her personal welfare as well as her health to inspire youth to greater achievements."

She described Mrs. Mock as "most of all a Christian."

PRICE 10 CENTS

Part of the delegation from Hillside high school which attended the recent publications conference at North Carolina College is shown here examining a yearbook exhibit. The conference was sponsored by the North Carolina College student newspaper, the CAMPUS VIBRO, and attracted some 200 high school journalists from 30 schools throughout the state. Shirley James, editor of the NCC student newspaper, and H. G. Dawson, advisor, directed the conference.

Some 10,000 Of AME Flock Gather In Fla.

By L. E. AUSTIN
(Publisher, the Carolina Times)

DINNER KEY AUDITORIUM, MIAMI, FLORIDA — The 35th Quadrennial of the A. M. E. Church got underway here Wednesday morning at ten o'clock with approximately 10,000 officers, delegates and ministers in attendance.

Scene of the meeting, the spacious Dinner Key Auditorium, though one of the largest in the South, was packed to capacity. Many were forced to stand.

Preliminary gathering of delegates and visitors began Tuesday, May 1, first day of the various pre-General Conference meetings. Bethel A. M. E. Church of this city is serving as host for the sessions.

On Tuesday morning, at ten o'clock, a meeting of the Brotherhood at the Mount Zion Baptist Church heard the Rev. Ralph Jackson, its president, deliver a most stirring address in which he courageously sounded a new day for the AME church and the freedom of its ministers and laymen from the tyranny of thoughtless members of the Board of Bishops.

Declared Rev. Jackson, "God did not call bishops to be millionaires; God did not call preachers to drive expensive automobiles or buy expensive homes, but to go into the highways and compel men and women to come to God."

When someone from the audience shouted the advice that Jackson put putting his head on the Episcopal chopping block, the militant preacher replied "no one but God could put by head on the chopping block."

The Brotherhood is composed of ministers and laymen of the church, and its members cheered their brother when he called for the adoption of a budget in the church that would earmark all funds and halt the promiscuous spending of the church's money by the bishops.

Cheered when he came to the meeting of the Brotherhood was Bishop Frederick D. Jordan, who, because of his forthright stand for progressive church organization, is highly respected and loved by officials and members of the Brotherhood.

Embattled Candidate May Bank Hope On Write-Ins In 3rd District

WELDON

A "write-in" campaign appeared imminent this week for Thurston Brown. Warrenton undertaker who has been ruled off the ballot for the state senate from third district on the basis of the district's rotation agreement.

Indications that supporters of Brown would attempt a "write-in" campaign came in the form of a statement released last week by his campaign manager, Attorney William R. Walker of Weldon.

"We are disregarding the action of the secretary of the Board of Elections and still consider Thurston Brown a candidate for the State Senate from the third district, and he will still be so regardless as long as the voters of the district can spell THURSTON BROWN."

Northampton, Warren and Vance counties comprise the third district. Under terms of the agreement, only Vance county can supply candidates for this election. Brown is from Warren county.

Brown formally entered his name as a candidate for state senator from the third district on April 17. He was notified by mail on April 21, the last day for filing, that he was ineligible because of an agreement between the three counties of the district which holds that only one is eligible to furnish candidates for the senate seat at each election.

Walker said that the notice of Brown's ineligibility was mailed on Saturday, last day for filing, and bore a "one p.m." postmark, one hour after the deadline.

Walker also charged the Warren Board of Elections, which declared Brown's candidacy invalid, with "bad faith" and challenged the action as "illegal, improper and untimely."

His statement also declared that "Negro voters in Warren County have been brain-washed about political affairs."

Walker said that even though the Warren Board of Elections ruled Brown out of the race on the basis of the rotation agreement, he could not find any written evidence of the agreement, even in the minutes of the Board's meetings.

Walker's statement reads as follows:

"Thurston Brown of Warrenton, candidate for the State Senate from the third district, has forwarded to me a letter from Mr. C. C. Britton, secretary of Warren County's Board of Election, to Thurston Brown. The letter is postmarked Warrenton, N. C. April 14, 1:00 p.m. Of course, this is one hour after the closing of the filing time for notice of candidacy."

"The way Negro voters in Warren County have been 'brain-washed' about political affairs, it was the duty of the County Board of Elections to

Dismissal Of Registrar In Halifax Sought

ENFIELD

The removal of a registrar for refusing to register Negroes was asked here last week in the wake of an incident Saturday involving trouble experienced by several Negroes of the county in attempting to register.

Attorney William R. Walker of Weldon, handling the campaigns for four Negroes seeking office in two counties of this section, called for the resignation of a registrar for using an "improper" examination which disqualified a Negro seeking to register.

No answer had been received by Atty. Walker late Wednesday on his request. He told the TIMES that he was informed by Halifax County Board of Elections chairman James F. Curran that the board would have to call a meeting to act on Walker's request.

Atty. Walker's charge against the registrar grew out of an incident here last Saturday involving Louis C. Francis and several other Negroes.

Walker related the incident to the TIMES in this manner:

"Francis came to my office and told me that he had been refused registration because the registrar was not satisfied with his answer to the question: 'which has the most force, the militia or the general assembly.'"

"Francis said the registrar told him to come back next year."

"I then accompanied him to the registrar's office, which has been set up in the office of the chief of police."

"There we encountered other Negroes waiting outside the office who had complaints similar to Francis'. The door to the registrar's office was closed, but I could see through the glass panel in the upper portion of the door that he was chatting amiably with another white man."

"Finally, I opened the door and walked in with Francis. The registrar protested by presence and declared there could be no observers. I remained, however, insisting that the registrar's office was the same as a polling place and should be open to observers."

"When I questioned him as to why he had refused Francis' registration, he replied that Francis did not satisfactorily answer his question on the state constitution. He repeated the question, but this time he substituted the word 'power' for 'force.'"

"I then told him that the question was one of law and therefore improper, but he maintained he had to be satisfied with the answer given to any question he might ask."

"I then opened the door to the other Negroes who were waiting outside and at that point
