

$615,500 Budget For Bennett College Approved By The Board Of Trustees

GREENSBORO
Budget of $615,500 for the 1957-58 academic year was approved by the executive committee of the Bennett College board of trustees at a meeting held in New York City on Monday.

The figure represents an increase of $49,300 over the $566,200 budget set for 1956-57. In past years, the meeting has been held in Greensboro.

This year's meeting was held in the offices of Dr. Frederick D. Patterson, board chairman, in the offices of the Phelps-Stokes Fund of which he is executive director. He is also president of the United Negro College Fund.

A highlight of the meeting was the interim report made by Dr. Willa B. Player, president. Mrs. Julius W. Cone and Dr. J. A. Tarpley of this city attended the sessions.

Other members of the committee in attendance were: Mrs. Harry James, of New York City; Mrs. J. G. Meidenbauer, of Buffalo, N. Y.; and Bishop Edgar A. Love of Baltimore. Absent was Mrs. H. C. Black of Johnson City, Tenn.

Other board members in attendance were: C. Everett Bacon, of New York City, chairman of the college's investment committee; Miss Margaret Forsyth, Miss Muriel Day and Mrs. Millard Robinson, all of New York City; Mrs. J. Ernest Wilkins of Washington and Mrs. C. P. Hardin of Chattanooga, Tenn.

On Tuesday, Dr. Player attended the meeting of the executive committee of the Women's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

Dr. J. M. Hubbard, Jr., dentist, back from overseas after two years of service in the army, has resumed practice with his father, Dr. J. M. Hubbard, Sr., in offices located at 607 Fayetteville Street.

600 Salute Carl Murphy, Afro American Editor

BALTIMORE, MD.
Little folks and big folks, young and old, some 600 strong, they gathered here Sunday, April 7 to salute Carl J. Murphy, journalist, public-servant, 40th Spingarn Medalist and man's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

Morgan State College Trustee. Occasion of the salute was a testimonial dinner sponsored by the General Alumni Association of the college to honor the pioneer journalist and president of the Afro-American Newspaper Company for "distinguished and dedicated service to Morgan State College, his city, state and the nation."

"You have made me very happy" was the response Dr. Murphy gave at the conclusion of the capacity-packed dinner during which he had been hailed by representatives of the college, of the City and State Governments, of the judiciary, by officers of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, of the Elks, the Masons, the Alumni, of his Alma Mater, Howard University, and by friends.

Fifth Annual Senior High School Day Set For Shaw University, April 27th

RALEIGH
The fifth annual Senior High School Day will be held at Shaw University on Saturday, April 27, and boys and girls from practically every county in North Carolina are expected.

The occasion is the outgrowth of the over-all pre-college counseling program of the University to acquaint high school students with Shaw University and its offerings.

Dr. Nelson H. Harris, director of the division of education will preside over the activities which will be high-lighted by events as follows:

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. in Spaulding Gymnasium, followed by a special program at 10:30 a.m. The program will include greetings by the President of Shaw University and the President of the Student Council. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the University Choral Society and the Ligon Junior-Senior High School Band. At 11:00 a.m., there will be a tour of the campus followed by lunch at 1:00 p.m. in University Dining Hall.

At 2:00 p.m. the Shaw "Bears" will play Maryland State "Hawks" in a baseball game at Chavis Park. The series of activities will close in a fellowship hour beginning at 5:00 p.m. in Spaulding Gymnasium.

impress upon you gentlemen here today. We live in a land of opportunity. God bless America!" Tears sprang to his eyes and his voice quavered as he asked his questioner, "Does that answer your question?"

"It does," the poor guy said and sat down. Old man Mayer sounds like an ideal candidate for the U. S. Senate himself.

Dr. W. Montague Cobb, professor and head of the Department of Anatomy in the Howard University School of Medicine, was unanimously elected president of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists at the 26th Annual Meeting of this society at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, on Saturday, April 13, 1957. The association is a professional scientific organization of about 450, with foreign members scattered throughout the world. This is the first occasion on which a Negro scientist has headed a national scientific society in the United States. In 1955 Dr. Cobb was chairman of Section II (Anthropology) and a vice president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a similar first.

Evans Keynotes A&T Annual Career Confab

"Patient persistence" was described last Tuesday at A&T College as the key to success in careers in this day of automation.

The speaker was James C. Evans, assistant civilian aide to the Secretary of Defense at Washington, D. C. He was delivering the keynote address at the annual Career Conference held at the college all day Tuesday.

Speaking along the general theme of the conference, "Vocational Opportunities in the Day of Automation", he told the audience which filled Harrison Auditorium, "this is a day of specialization—we need to know as much as we can about one-two-things." This, he said, results from a personal discipline of patient and persistent study.

"JUST WINDOW-SHOPPING? No," the spokesman of a property-touring couple was recently heard to say, "we're shopping for an entire house!" Jocular as this remark may have been, it is significant. More and more, families in all walks of life are deciding that owning a home is an attainable goal. How so? One important factor is the availability of sound, economical bank financing. In 1956 alone, America's banks extended over $7 billion in mortgage loans to help families realize the dream of ownership.

IF YOU ARE THINKING ABOUT BUYING, ASK US ABOUT THE FINANCING!
