

WATCH THAT BOY

National Jamboree Is History
It will be four more years before the Weekly Review of the Jamboree. So with the writing of the Weekly Review of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company written by J. W. Carrington, week of July 26, 1957, we end.

JAMBOREE CITY... Here among the rolling hills and sloping banks, like a mighty snake the Schuylkill River runs, and Boy Scouts throughout the nation have gathered in a program of fellowship, brotherhood and fun.

Here in this great State of Pennsylvania, the spot where General George Washington's army battled long, the occasion is the 4th National Boy Scout Jamboree, and we have gathered fifty one thousand four hundred and sixty eight strong.

No words can adequately describe this occasion, no vision can truly picture this might. Ho whis Tent City of almost fifty two thousand was carefully planned and erected overnight.

From every State in our great nation, and from thirty-two other countries too, Boys of all description here are coming, from elephants, bears, alligators, and rattlesnakes, down to a simple brass safety pin.

Trading is the chief motto among these Scouts, and as for trading, there really is no end, from elephants, bears, alligators, and rattlesnakes, down to a simple brass safety pin. They visit the shrine of General George Washington, where his great army fought, and died, to lift this mighty nation of ours, to a standard of liberty and pride. Then to Philadelphia, the city of brotherly love, the lesson they learn, they can never tell, they visited the home of Flag-Maker, Betsy Ross, then journeyed to see the Liberty Bell.

It's a glorious gathering here in Jamboree City, where everything is really fine. A wealth of knowledge each boy obtains, which will forever linger in his mind.

Mr. Carrington was the assistant Scoutmaster of Jamboree Troop No. 2, Section No. 4, Region No. 6, at the 4th National Boy Scout Jamboree, Valley Forge, Pa., and this is on the spot reporting.

On Saturday morning, eight Cub Scout Packs from Durham journeyed to Pope Air Force Base at Fort Bragg, N. C., for a day of fun. There were, 73 Cub Scouts, ten Den-Mothers and twelve men making the trip. We arrived at the base area and boarded an air-conditioned bus. For the next two hours we toured the Air Base installations with Officers and enlisted men on duty to show us around. They went inside the large Flying Boxcar Airplane, the weather station, listened to the officer on duty talking to planes in the air many miles away, and then to the Air-mess (Dining Hall). Here the boys did have a good time eating in the mess hall with Air Force men.

The men serving behind the counter like to feed the Cub Scouts. After dinner settled down we were ready for the swimming pool. As the other sights went, the Cubs and the adults had a good time swimming in the pool with the Air-men.

Some of the adults just sat in the Officers Club and watched the Baseball Game of the Day. We returned to Durham around everyone tired. We hope next year to charter a bus for this trip. This we can do if we want to.

Next week we will tell you about the Circus and Pack meeting at Union Baptist Church. Remember Tuesday, August 6th will be our Regular Roundtable Meeting, held at the home of J. L. Lyon, 1622 Fayetteville Street, at 7:30 p.m. Two films will be shown, "Highway by the Sea" and the "All Star Game of 1956." Until next week, Henry W.

Former UNC Dean Addresses Miss. Workshop

JACKSON, Miss.

Students in the Jackson State College Library Workshop recently had as their guest, Dr. Susan Grey Akers, former dean of the School of Library Science at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Dr. Akers, one of the nation's foremost cataloging authorities went to the University of North Carolina campus in 1931 as an associate professor of library science. When the School of Library Science was established in 1932 she became a full professor and acting director of the School. She was promoted to director, now dean, a position she held until three years ago when she retired.

Speaking to the workshop group, Dr. Akers emphasized the importance of a good cataloging job in school libraries. "Remember," she said, "that the purpose of cataloging is to help students find books." Continuing she said, "Always do the job in such a way that it will not have to be done over."

Referring to her experiences in Iran, Dr. Akers said that in Iranian libraries the primary object was to preserve the books. "The idea of using books there is something new," she said. "Books are charged out to users through windows in the University, but you can't carry them home. Conditions in the high schools are worse," she stated. One reason why these conditions exist is that librarians are personally responsible for library books. The noted educator stated that there are only 2 attractive libraries in a city of more than a million in population.

Arrangements for Dr. Akers visit were made through Miss Alice Hamer, State library supervisor and a former student of hers.

Nation's Top Home Economists Applaud New Hostess' Costume at Fashion Show

Slim, trim and chic were the words to describe lovely young Sylvia Everett as she modeled this new-it-yourself "hostess" costume before an admiring audience of more than 600 leading home economists attending the recent national convention of the American Home Economics Association in St. Louis. All fashions presented at the show, a feature of the popular pre-convention "brandy brunch," were worn by top Negro models from New York and St. Louis.

This Spanish-inspired matador ensemble, made entirely on a standard home sewing machine, offers dramatic proof of the smart "custom-made" look which the home seamstress can achieve by using inexpensive printed patterns, a bit of imagination and the attachments on her sewing machine. Combining three different McCall's patterns into a charming "at home" costume, it was made by seamstresses of the Great Manufacturing Company, world's largest maker of home sewing machine attachments, for easy duplication by fashion-wise young marrieds and career women like Mrs. Everett. The important Spanish designer influence is shown in the tight-fitting slim pants and short bolero of creamy white corduroy, with richly decorated green and gold braid trim in a continuous "boodle" design; the braid "doodling" can readily be applied from any free-hand sketch, by using either the top braider or underbraider on the machine. Perfect Spanish accent appears again in the finely ruffled shirt front, made by using the ruffler on the machine. Top stylists point out that smart fashions-to-sew like this ensemble are easy and fun to make—and to wear!
