

Business School Students Attend Sales Institute

Three members of the Salesmanship class of the Durham Business School were selected to attend the annual sales institute in Chicago, sponsored by the Fuller Products Company. The students are Robert Hackney, Chapel Hill; Leon Penn, Raleigh, and Theolise Fogg of Henderson.

The students, part-time salesmen for the Fuller Products Company, were chosen because of their salesmanship ability. They became interested in selling after enrolling in a class in "Salesmanship Fundamentals" at the Business School.

-School Board-

Already in North Carolina, three cities have moved to lower segregation barriers, and requests are pending in two other cities and one has refused. In addition, a law suit has been entered in two communities to seek desegregation of the schools.

Winston-Salem, Charlotte and Greensboro school boards voted to admit Negro students. At Raleigh and in Caswell County, requests for admission of Negro pupils to all white schools are pending action by the school boards. Bryson City recently rejected a request by Negro parents to enter their children in the white schools, and a law-suit has been entered in Old Fort seeking to desegregate schools there. A copy of the form letter sent by the 14 parents to Superintendent Weaver read as follows: "We are parents of—and—who are attending the school according to the way the schools have been run before May 17, 1954. Last year our children were assigned to the same segregated school system. We have no notice from you advising where our children will be sent for the next school year. Therefore we have reason to believe that our children will be re-assigned to a segregated school system. Moreover, it would work a hardship on us to wait until you assign our children for the next year in that the 10 days allowed for our objections after our children's assignment may come at a time which will prevent us from bringing an action against you if the same pattern of segregation is followed."

"For these reasons, we are now entering an objection on behalf of our children at this time so that they will not be assigned to a segregated school system."

"Please let us know if you intend to assign our children to the same segregated school for the school year 1957-58."

-Bryson-

Board member Mrs. Francis Colville's opinion that it should take the lead in preparing the community for eventual desegregation of the school was joined in by another woman member of the board, Mrs. Ora Lee Sossamon.

Mrs. Sossamon was quoted as saying that the board ought to consider in the beginning in doing everything peaceful settling and handling the situation if and when the federal court orders integration.

-Auto Crash-

The car was reportedly being driven by Lonnie Purcell at the time.

All of the victims were residents of Fayetteville. The Christie family lived at Cape Fear Court in Fayetteville. The exact residence of the Purcells could not be obtained.

The Purcells, whose residence in Fayetteville could not be identified, were claimed by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Purcell of Raeford.

-Funeral Rites-

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Laney Malloy, a son, Dr. H. Rembert Malloy, both of the city, a brother, Percy Malloy of New York City, a grandson, several nieces and nephews.

-Simmons-

(Continued from page 1) Mrs. Naomi Hill Simmons; his mother, Mrs. Julia A. Simmons of Fayetteville; two daughters, F. Bette Simmons of Baltimore, Md., and Sidella Simmons of Washington, D. C.; four sisters, Mrs. Albert L. Simms and Mrs. Hattie Kelly of Tuskegee, Ala.; Mrs. Ann Dixon of Chicago and Miss Esther Simmons of Fayetteville; and one brother, Victor Simmons of Chicago.

-Calhoun-

(Continued from page 1) Joseph Mehan, publicity director of the NBC-TV "Bride and Groom" show told the TIMES Wednesday that the show would mean about $3,000 to $2,500 in gifts for the couple. Mehan said the show would provide complete outfits for the wedding party, a free honeymoon trip and gifts for the bride.

If the show goes on as planned, the couple will be seen by the network's nationwide audience at 2:30 EDT. (1:30 EST.) Calhoun's father, Rev. Cary Calhoun, will officiate at the ceremony.

According to Mehan, Calhoun and Miss Bannister will be interviewed before the ceremony by Bob Paige and Myron Palmer, New York stage and television celebrities. The entire ceremony will be performed before the camera on the show.

Miss Bannister and Calhoun met while Lee was a sophomore at college. The romance lasted through Calhoun's two year absence from the school while he did a stint in the Army and really flourished on the athlete's return to school.

NBC's outlet in this area which will carry the program is WRAL-TV at Raleigh.

If the pair are married on the NBC-TV show, a reception will be held in Pinehurst two days later at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Morrison.

one Mr. Still, auditor who it was felt gave the most damaging testimony against Bishop Nichols in the presentation of checks and other evidence which tended to show the mis-handling of funds, and Reid Jackson of Paul Quinn College, Waco, Texas.

Due caution is being exercised to guard against the trial judge, and members of the trial committee being tampered with during day and night recesses. Two marshalls have been stationed outside the parsonage where the trial judge and committees are staying and no one is allowed to communicate with any of them.

As it now stands, observers are satisfied that the hearing will last far into the week, probably as late as Saturday afternoon, in that the large amount of evidence cannot be presented in a shorter time.

First Grader Reads 51 Books

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. Lawrence Michael Bryant, son of Dean and Mrs. Lawrence C. Bryant, Florida Normal and Industrial Memorial College, Saint Augustine, Florida, read fifty-one books while he was six years old. His parents purchased for him readers in five graded series. He read 11 primers, 18 primers, 10 second grade readers, 5 health books, one social study reader, 5 manuals, and one religious book. After school hours, Mrs. Ila P. Bryant, Michael's mother, taught him daily to read books. For three years prior to his entrance to the first grade he had an abundance of materials to prepare him for reading. His parents taught him, and held firmly to the conviction that he should read daily. Now, he reads for pleasure daily as a silent third grade reader after being in school one year.

Mrs. Ludmila Van Sombeek, returned Sunday from Blue Ridge, where she attended the Fourth Annual World Affairs Institute, sponsored by the American Freedom Association, the United World Federalists of North Carolina, the World Peace Committee of the Western N.
