Chicagoan Is Elected Head Of National Dentists' Body

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dr. Charles E. Williams, Chicago, Illinois, was elevated to the Presidency of the National Dental Association at its 45th annual convention in the Sheraton Hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Williams has served for nine years as Chairman of the Executive board and has held many responsible positions that qualify him for heading this organization.

Attending the convention were 400 practitioners among the 400 practitioners present. The youngest, Dr. Yvonne Jones and her father, both dentists from Springfield, Massachusetts.

Dr. Ruth Carter, her three children and mother, originally from St. Louis, now living in Los Angeles. Dr. Westanna O. Bryon, Washington, D. C., a dental operator in the public schools also in private practice. Dr. Clarisa Wimbush, Lynchburg, Virginia, who finished Howard University Dental School class of 1926.

Dean Russell A. Dixon, Howard University College of Dentistry, oldest Dean in point of service in the United States starting his 30th year, addressed the members at a business meeting.

Farmers' Role In World Told 4-H Encampment

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard University and host to the 11th Annual Regional 4-H Club Camp, August 10-18, told the delegates Sunday that farmers have an important role to play in the achievement of world peace.

"Man has never been certain," the educator declared, "that there was enough food to go around, and so he has never risen above the animal level, fighting, killing, and taking to try to make sure that he has enough for himself and friends.

"But farmers and scientists now have the means of producing enough for everyone," Dr. Johnson continued, "and you 4-H club boys and girls and your parents must continue to utilize the results of research to help give assurance of abundance and of world peace."

Listening were 125 rural people from 17 Southern States who were here representing 354,000 fellow 4-H'ers. They were accompanied by 43 adult leaders.

N. C. College Appoints New Band Director

A former U. S. Navy trombonist has been named director of the North Carolina College band.

Richard Henry Lee Jones, Summerfield (N.C.) native and graduate of A and T College (B.S., 1940) and Northwestern University (M.M., 1942), will take over band chores at NCC on Sept. 1. He will be coming from a position at A and T.

Prior to joining the A and T staff in 1955, Jones taught and directed bands at Epps High School, Greenville, N. C.; West Virginia State College, Institute, W. Va., and Alabama State College.

Jones played first trombone in the U.S. Navy band stationed at Chapel Hill and later at Pearl Harbor in 1942-46.

School Opening Conference Of A&T Faculty To Hear Official From United States Office Of Education

GREENSBORO A prominent government official in education will keynote the annual Pre-Session Faculty-Staff Orientation Conference at A&T College, September 6-9.

Dr. Ambrose Caliver, chief, Adult Section, Office of Education, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D. C., will speak to the group on Monday, September 8. A native of Virginia, he is a graduate of Knoxville College and holds the Master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and the Doctorate degree from Columbia University. He entered the U. S. Department of Education in 1930 and was elevated to his present post in 1950.

Following the address a series of smaller group conferences will be conducted along the theme of the conference, "By What Means May A&T College Perform Most Effectively Its Primary Functions: Instruction, Research and Public Service."

The conference gets underway early Saturday with the annual message by Dr. Warmoth T. Gibbs, president of the college. The Saturday program also calls for a tour of the campus facilities and the city for new faculty and staff members and a Get-Acquainted Social that evening.

The President's Dinner, honoring the group, will be held in Murphy Hall on Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

The conference draws to a close on Tuesday afternoon following meetings of the faculties of the several Schools.

A.&T. Teacher Earns Degree In Education

GREENSBORO Albert W. Sprull, Assistant Professor of Education in the Graduate School at North Carolina A. & T. College will receive the Doctor of Education Degree from Cornell University in September at the close of the Summer Semester.

Sprull, who specialized in Agricultural Education with extensive minors in Educational Administration and Rural Sociology, completed all requirements on July 18.

A native of Columbia, North Carolina, Sprull graduated from the Tyrrell County Training School in 1944.

Sprull's dissertation which was done in Sociology has been acclaimed by his professors as a significant work in race relations. The title of the study is, "Consequences Encountered By Negro Teachers In The Process of Desegregation of Schools in Four Southern States."

Professor Sprull has held former teaching positions with the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service, Mississippi Vocational College, Tuskegee Institute, and graduate assistant at Cornell University. He is a member of Theta Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, a national educational honorary fraternity, Who's Who in American Education, and The American Association of University Professors.

The thirty-two year old A&T professor is married to the charming former Floydella Earls of Roxboro. They have one son, Albert Jr.

Oratorical Excellence brought smiles to the faces of the three 4-H'ers, currently attending the 4-H Short Course at Tennessee State University, who won the first, second and third place Annual Prince Hall Masonic Scholarship Awards, being presented by Tennessee State University's speech and drama head Dr. Thomas E. Poag, (right) education commission director of the Most Worshipful Prince Hall

Tuskegee Nurse School Gets $100 Grand Dimes Grant

TUSKEGEE, ALA. A March of Dimes grant for $110,000 announced today will make it possible for Tuskegee Institute to improve its school of nursing and increase its fall enrollment.

The grant, effective immediately, was announced by Dr. L. H. Foster, president of Tuskegee, and Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation (originally the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis).

The Tuskegee Institute School of Nursing was founded in 1891. Its basic program in nursing was fully accredited by the National League for Nursing last year. It is the only collegiate nursing school for Negroes in Alabama, supplying an increasing number of graduate nurses to the South.

Dean Lillian H. Harvey, director of the program and dean of the school of nursing, said that Tuskegee will now be able to make a greater contribution to the field of nursing. It is hoped, she said, that it will be possible to increase enrollment in the nursing school to 160 students and possibly to 180 in the near future.

Dr. Jean Noble, New York College Teacher, Delta Prexy

WASHINGTON, D. C. Delta Sigma Theta Sorority climaxed its week-long 25th national convention—centered around public service projects—by electing as president of the Greek-letter organization Dr. Jeanne L. Noble, a professor at the City College of New York.

Elected as first vice president was Dr. Geraldine Pittman Woods, a former instructor at Howard University, Washington, D. C., who is now a Los Angeles housewife.

The new second vice president is Miss Gloria Randall, a junior at the University of Indiana. Secretary is Dr. Ann Lucille Campbell, chairman of the department of English at Prairie View A. & M. College, of Prairie View, Texas and treasurer is Mrs. Vivian E. Washington, a social worker in the Baltimore public school system.
