

LEAZER'S LEAN PICKIN'S Leazer Picks N. C. College To Defeat A&T College For Conference Title

By PERRY R. LEAZER

THE HANGING IN EFFIGY of the sportswriter in Charleston, South Carolina last week makes one wonder whether or not the prognosticators are next. I was so worried about being hanged after some predictions I made last week that I called in my friend "Winner Rabbit" to stand guard around the "LEAN PICKIN'S" box to protect me in the coming week and also to keep me from reaching the esteem epitome of coaches and Athletic Directors.

The box was pretty lucky last week in piling up nine winners against one lost and one tie. However, the score were way out of line. For instance consider the Morgan State-Hampton score, 60-0. I predicted Morgan in a 14-12 win. Yes sire, I was way off base. On the season 63 winner, against 14 losses and two three ties, for an average of .816.

THIS WEEK IS THE "D" WEEK. That's right because it's the last week of picking winners and also the week to predict the Thanksgiving Day outcomes. I've been looking forward to this week because it is definitely the week for some tough decisions to be made on my part and so I've called in my scouts, and along with my yardsticks, lucky charms, crystal balls and every imaginable source to help predict these games. Herewith is what we've found:

Johnson C. Smith vs. Fayetteville State

Two of the cattle country's roughest animals get together this week to find out just who is superior. Yes, in the Queen City it's the Bulls vs. the Broncos. W. A. Bryant charges pulled a few surprises when they under pinned Bluefield, and Smith, under the tutelage of Eddie McGirt, has been pulling surprises all season. Fayetteville State made notable gains during the season and would like nothing better than a victory over Johnson C. Smith to close out the season. On the other hand the Bulls, snorting after their defeat at the hands of Saint Augustine last week, would like to close out with a win over the Broncos to add a feather to the growing list for Eddie McGirt as the conference's "Coach of the Year." Watch the Bull in a real close one. SMITH 14—FAYETTEVILLE 8.

Maryland State vs. Shaw University

IT'S HOMEcoming FOR SHAW UNIVERSITY BEARS AND A VICTORY over Maryland State has long been a Shaw wish. Shaw started the season like a ball of fire rolling up six successive wins until they met the claw of the mighty Eagle. Maryland State, led by Johnny Gray, lost two early games by a mere three points before they too met the claw of the Eagles. However, after the stunning defeat at the hands of the Hawks have been rolling along exhibiting one of the conference's best offensive shows, scoring 86 points in their last two games. Shaw is not a real scorer like the Hawks, but relies on a stout defense for victories. This week the Shaw defense won't contain the Hawks. MARYLAND STATE 20—SHAW 8.

Saint Augustine vs. Delaware State

The 1958 North Carolina College football team which will close its regular season in a game in Durham on Thanksgiving with the A and T College Aggies is pictured here.

Chapel Hill Faces Clinton Friday For Western Double "A" Crown

Lincoln high school of Chapel Hill and Sampson County high of Clinton will clash at Carrboro Lions park in Chapel Hill Friday night for the right to play in the North Carolina Athletic Association Double A championship game.

The feature game of the high school football week-end card will see Booker T. Washington of Rocky Mount and Carver of Winston-Salem pitted in a battle to determine the champions of the big Triple A division.

This contest will get underway at eight o'clock Friday night at Rocky Mount.

Titans of the eastern and western divisions of the triple A, Rocky Mount and Carver will enter the game with unblemished records.

Rocky Mount knocked off a strong Adkins high school team of Kinston, 21-16 to earn the right to defend its triple A crown. Carver downed Stephens Lee of Asheville, 22-12, in winning its way to the title game.

The championship game in the double A division will be played next Wednesday at Lexington. The host Dunbar high team has already clinched the western division double A title. A 42-12 victory over Ridgeview of Hickory accomplished this for Dunbar.

Friday night's game at Chapel Hill to determine the eastern division champion, will settle the opponent for Dunbar.

Lincoln and Sampson high will enter the game with perfect records.

Defending champion Lincoln has met Dunbar for the title for the past two seasons. The first meeting ended in a tie, but the Chapel Hillians won last year.

Twin Gridiron Bill Saturday At Raleigh

Football fans in the Raleigh area are due for a doubleheader Saturday when the two Raleigh schools play opponents at Chavis Park on Saturday afternoon.

St. Augustine's will face Delaware at two o'clock in the opener and Shaw will play Maryland State for its homecoming in the finale at four o'clock.

The Shaw game with Maryland will follow a parade which is set for 3 p.m. It will follow the usual parade route of other Shaw homecoming parades.

The Bears, under the direction of Coach Clifton J. Anderson, have a won-lost record of 6-2 so far this season. This is the Bear's last game of the season.

Six seniors will be wearing the maroon and white for the last time. They are center Edward Turner from Roselle, N. J.; Clement Richmond from Charlotte; guard Albert McClain from Camden, N. J.; tackle Willie McDaniels from Asheville; halfback Eugene Hammonds from Asheville, and fullback Nathan Lewis from Tarboro.

The probable starting lineup will include ends Glen Knight and Charles McKenzie, tackles Herman Hinton and Lou Hagler, guards Albert McClain and Otis Clark, center Edward Turner; halfbacks Eugene Hammonds and Phil Jackson; fullback Nathan Lewis and quarterback Calvin McDowell.

A&T Moves Up With VSC Win

GREENSBORO — The A&T College Aggies rolled over the Virginia State College Trojans, 34-6, in an important CIAA football game played here last Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

The victory moved the Aggies into a two-way tie in the conference flag race with North Carolina College of Durham, the team they will face on Thanksgiving day to settle the affair.

A crowd of more than 13,000, swelled by 7,800 school boys and girls, guests of the college for High School Senior Day, saw the scrap. It was the largest turnout of the season.

The Aggies used practically every player on the bench and in doing so caused five players to participate in the scoring.

Howard Smith, senior quarterback, was a prime factor in the two TD's, but Paul Swann was inserted and engineered the

Benedict Pays Walker Honor

By Alexander N. DeVeaux
COLUMBIA, S. C. — Dr. Leroy T. Walker, associate professor of Physical Education and head track coach at North Carolina College, was honored by his Alma Mater and the Block "B" Club of Benedict College on Saturday night for his outstanding contributions to athletics and physical education.

Dr. Walker (Bo-Belly as his alma mater teammates called him) was presented with a plaque by Dr. J. A. Bacoats, president of Benedict, during the Benedict College-North Carolina Games, in which coach Riddick's Eagles brought back to Durham a 38-14 victory.

A native of Atlanta, Georgia, Walker was star Benedict College football and basketball player from 1936 to 1940.

Livingstone Beats St. Paul

LAWRENCEVILLE, Va. — Livingstone College's Blue Bears ended their football season on a successful note by pounding out a 28-6 victory over St. Paul College in Lawrenceville, Va. Saturday afternoon.

It was the sixth win against two losses for the Bears from Salisbury. It was their last game. Livingstone scored a touchdown in every period. St. Paul got its lone marker in the final period on a 12-yard pass play.

Morgan Buries Hampton Under Big 60-0 Score

BALTIMORE, Md.

The rampaging Morgan Bears roared on to their fourth victory in seven starts by unleashing a devastating ground and air attack to topple the Hampton Pirates, 60-0. By tallying 24 points in the first quarter, 8 more in the second, only 6 in the third period, but a whooping 22-point finale, the rebounding Bruins ran their two-game scoring total to 129 units.

Substitute fullback and co-captain, Senior Larry Buffalo headed the scoring parade with two touchdowns of the Morgan eight. Quarterback Jack Dennis pitched a touchdown strike to scabback Homer Robinson, the covering 53 yds. In addition, the classy signal-caller connected with two of three aerials in conversion attempts.

Robinson personally accounted for ten of the high-point total by rushing over a pair of P.T.A. twin-pointers to supplement his touchdown.
