THE SAMPSONS AT RECEPTION

Reception Is Held in Charlotte For Robert R. Sampsons, Newlyweds

CHARLOTTE — The palatial residence of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben McKissick was the setting on Jan. 9 for a reception for newlyweds Dr. and Mrs. Robert Russell Sampson.

Mr. and Mrs. Sampson were united in a ceremony at Providence Baptist Church in Greensboro on Sunday, Dec. 21. The Rev. Lorenzo Lynch, pastor of the church performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Sampson was Miss Myrtle T. Boykin before her marriage. She is the daughter of Mrs. Junius Austin Boykin of Clinton and the late Thomas J. L. Boykin.

Her husband is the son of Mrs. Annie Sampson and the late Mr. John J. Sampson.

The McKissick home provided a luxurious setting for the reception held for the Sampsons in Charlotte following their wedding. A decor scheme of pink, green and white was used for the occasion. Guests were greeted by the hostess, Mrs. McKissick, who was charming in a dusty rose chantilly lace and peau de soie frock with light blue accessories and rhinestone bib.

Miss Julia Clisholm received guests and presented them to Miss Marion Jacobs, who, in turn, introduced them to members of the receiving line.

At the head of the receiving line were the bride and the groom. The bride was a lovely picture in a hazel pink dress of chantilly lace. (Continued On Page 8)
