

NAACP Petitions Supreme Court To Review Alabama Decision

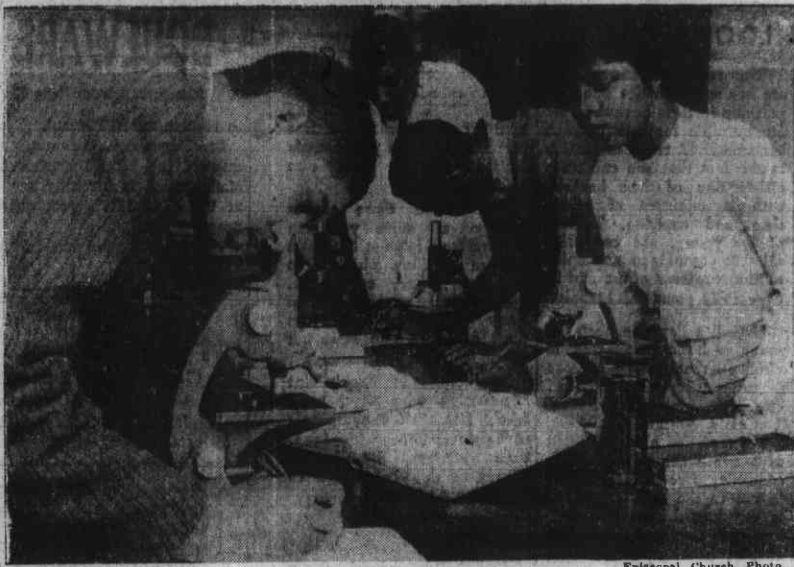

WASHINGTON — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Thursday asked the United States Supreme Court to review the action of the Supreme Court of Alabama in refusing to send to a lower state court the mandate of the federal court reversing the judgment of the Circuit Court of Montgomery County which found the NAACP in contempt and fined it $100,000 for failure to disclose the names and addresses of Association members in Alabama.

The NAACP petition for a writ of certiorari in the case included an alternative petition for a writ of mandamus "directing and requiring" the Alabama Supreme Court to send down the mandate of the United States Supreme Court to the Circuit Court of Montgomery and "to order, direct and require that court to proceed to hold a hearing to determine on its merits the validity of the ex parte temporary restraining order and injunction," still in effect against the NAACP.

The petition, filed by NAACP attorneys Robert L. Carter and Arthur D. Shores, reviewed the history of the case and asked if the Alabama Supreme Court may

"refuse to send down the mandate of this Court under the circumstances of this case," and if the NAACP may "be deprived of access to the courts of Alabama to test the validity of an ex parte order, in effect ordering it from the state as a punishment for contempt, thereby rendering the ex parte temporary restraining order a permanent injunction, without petitioner's having been granted the right to a hearing in accord with requirements of due process of law."

The NAACP has been banned in Alabama since June, 1956, when the Montgomery County court, on complaint of Attorney General John Patterson, now governor of the state, issued an order forbidding further activity by the NAACP in the state. A fine of $100,000 was imposed. On June 30, 1959, the U. S. Supreme Court handed down a decision reversing and remanding the Alabama court ruling which had been sustained by the state's Supreme Court. Last Feb. 12, the Alabama Supreme Court refused to follow the mandate of the U. S. Supreme Court on the ground that the federal Court's decision "rests upon a mistaken premise."

Rev. Gardner Taylor Urges Support for Mass March On Washington to Emphasize School Issue Action

NEW YORK — The Rev. Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, leader of the school integration fight in New York's Board of Education, this week urged public school students, teachers and principals to participate in a youth march in Washington on April 18th, "to win for the entire nation the democracy we seek in New York."

In a letter to over 10,000 student leaders, heads of parents' groups, teachers and school administrators, Dr. Taylor called for "thousands of marchers and hundreds of thousands of signatures on petitions to the President demanding speedy integration in all the nation's schools."

The 1959 Petition Campaign and March was initiated at a meeting of over 10,000 Negro and white young people in Washington last October 25th. The meeting, which included delegations from all parts of the United States, pledged to "come back to Washington again and again to press for the advancement of interracial democracy."

This year's march is expected to attract twice as many participants and has the support of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Other endorsers this year include AFL-CIO President George Meany; the Rev. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America; Father John La Farge, S. J., editor of "America"; and Rabbi Joachim Prinz, president of the American Jewish Congress.

Churches and school committees, circulating petitions and arranging transportation for the April 18th march, have been formed in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Toledo, Chicago, Detroit, Seattle, Los Angeles, Boston, Puerto Rico and Hawaii. Individuals and groups wishing to form committees in the communities were urged to write: Youth March, 312 West 125th Street, New York 27, N. Y.
