

Mack's Quack (Teenage Happenings)

By JOYCELYN MCKISSICK

Hi Teens... Vacation Time is here, but it seems Durham teens are working, going to summer school and waiting till later in the summer to vacation.

TEENAGE LITERATURE

Teens today read surprisingly more than any other generation. This is due to many factors. Even though this is not enough to satisfy the parents of the teenagers. The parents want teens to read "good" literature, but who knows what "good" literature is until they have read all kinds and compared them.

Frankly, I see nothing wrong with comic books, which seem to be very popular with the younger teens. MAD magazine is the favorite of 96% of Durham High School seniors and was chosen the most popular comic magazine. In the same poll 84% liked TIME as the best newsweekly. Fiction books rank first and biographies, second at that school.

The difference in environment sometimes influences the reader. One great example is myself. I like Crisis Magazine better than any other book. Any fiction, non-fiction, biographies, or any type of book which deals with civil rights is right down my line.

Many of my friends enjoy reading books which have been banned from local newsstands. Others wouldn't think of reading anything other than the Bible.

The best bet is to read all kinds of literature, magazines, novels, etc. Then, you will be able to distinguish yourself between "Good" and "Bad" literature.

AROUND THE TOWN

Woodrow Brown, William Clement, and Eldee Brown are attending summer school at Morehouse in Atlanta, Georgia. Where here in Durham two of their dear friends are working at the Mutual Insurance Company, Betty Goodloe and Marsha Goodwin.

Catherine Pratt is secretary at Fuller Products Company. Lana Thompson and Cornelia Weatherford are taking Freshman English at North Carolina College. Charles Stanback and Leory Walker got jobs at Nello Teer Construction Company. Working at North Carolina College's Dining Hall is Winnifred Richardson, Gloria Hill, June Rosser and Jackie Brown. Also on Campus at the Science Mathematics Workshop are Claudine Daye, Wanza McCauley, Leon Creed, and Doris Scholer. Some others working at the Mutual are Fred Young, Major Geer, Evelyn Kennedy, and James Henry. Evelyn Kennedy recently returned from a short trip to Washington to a wedding. Home from college are just about all of '59 graduates. That's about all the news for this week. If you have any news please call me by Friday. See you next week!!

MORRIS

Morris Compiles Best Record at Laurinburg High

Miss Ella Alda Morris, brilliant young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Morris of Laurinburg, can well be classed as one of the most outstanding students ever to graduate from the I. Ellis Johnson School in Laurinburg.

During her entire school career, she has maintained excellent scholarship and her conduct has been above reproach. In high school, for four years taking six subjects each year, averaging "A" in each, she graduated with an unexcelled record of twenty-four straight "A's".

She was awarded a scholarship to study at North Carolina College's Summer Science Institute last summer. She also has a perfect attendance record for the four years in school.

Miss Morris received a total of seven medals, namely, Latin, Science, Mathematics, Scholarship, Band, Outstanding Student, and Valedictorian.

Her high score on the National Merit Scholarship Examination attracted numerous schools of note, and she was offered scholarships by Spelman College, Atlanta, Ga. and Fisk University Nashville Tennessee. She accepted the latter and plans to matriculate at Fisk in the fall. The John F. McNair scholarship was also awarded her.

Miss Morris has a very pleasing personality and served as president of the Student Participation Association the past year. She plans to be an actuary.

RAY THOMPSON DIRECTS INSTITUTE

Dr. Ray Thompson, counselor teacher-trainer at North Carolina College, is currently directing a National Defense Educational Act Counseling and Guidance and Training Institute at NCC. NCC is sponsoring the program through the cooperation of the U. S. Office of Education which provided an operational budget of $44,214 to finance the program for 48 enrollees.

RETURNS TO NCC — Roger D. Russell, former North Carolina College faculty member now on the faculty at Hofstra College, will return to the school this summer as a special consultant in a guidance workshop.

MRS. MATTIE SELF ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. Mattie Self of 1919 Noble Street proved a very charming hostess to the members and friends of the Friendly Helpers Club Saturday night, June 11, at her home. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers of the season. Souvenirs were given to all present and a menu of ice cream and cookies was served. Everyone enjoyed a very pleasant evening with the next meeting scheduled to be at the home of Mrs. Virginia Mason, 788 E. Fowler Avenue.

Salisbury Man Meharry Grad

SALISBURY—Richard W. Sherrill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sherrill, Salisbury, received the Doctor of Medicine degree at Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., on June 7th. A native of Salisbury, he received his B. S. degree from Livingstone College in 1953.

The grandson of Dr. Joseph C. Price, founder and first president of Livingstone College, Dr. Sherrill has already taken the Georgia State Board of Medical Examiners' Examination and plans to do his internship at Cooper Hospital, Camden, New Jersey. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

Lawyers To Hear Atty. J. Walker

Attorney James R. Walker, of Weldon, is scheduled to be one of the key speakers for the annual convention of the National Lawyers Guild at San Francisco, California in July. The convention opens on July 28. Walker is a leading civil rights lawyer in eastern North Carolina.

ses Gladys Greene, Thelma Byers, Maria Wynn and Willie Mae McKissick. Standing are Mrs. Bobbie Allen, hotel proprietor, and Mrs. Spears, hostess.

Mrs. A. E. Spears Entertains at Dinner Party for Friends in Charlotte

CHARLOTTE—Mrs. A. E. Spears entertained a number of her friends at a dinner party at Alexander Hotel, Friday evening, June 10. Dinner was served in the spacious and beautifully decorated dining room at 6:00 p.m.

The centerpiece on the main table was made up of gold-tipped grapes and red-dipped green apples surrounded by polished magnolia leaves to bring out the green motif. Each individual table had on it a green bowl with floating gardenia blossoms which blended with the general color scheme.

After dinner, the group moved into the spacious hotel lobby which was beautifully decorated with magnolia blossoms, gardenias, and hydrangeas. On each side of the entrance were two huge green potted rubber plants. All of this green and white splendor vied with the glittering jewels worn with the ladies fashionable party attire.

There the 40 ladies enjoyed the evening playing progressive contract bridge. The usual prizes were awarded for high scores, and each guest received an item from the toiletry accessories line, as a gift from the hostess.

The first prize, a bottle of Chanel No. 5, was won by Mrs. Mauvrene Alexander. The second prize, a bottle of Arpege, was won by Miss Grace Crawford. The third prize, a bottle of My Sin, was given.

The guests included: Mesdames Gladys Green, Julia Boulding, Bobbie Allen, Rosalie Duraate, Mable Russell, Cora Booton, Claudia McFadden, Lucille Tyson, Maria Wynn, Carolyn Graham, Vivian Williams, Laura Malone, Vinnie Watkins, Dorothy Flagg, Bessie Mulliens, Floretta Gunn, Dorothy Steele, Thelma Colson, Thelma Byers, Mildred Alridge, Lelia Davis, Malta Levi, Cordela Stiles, Margretha Rann, Grace Wiley, Gladys Moreland, Helen Moreland, Daisy Stroud, Ione Jones, Mauvrene Alexander, Nancy Williams, Lydia Wilkins, Willie Mae McKissick, Samella Twitty, Lelia Lindsay, Esther Hill, Evelyn Maxwell, and Mamie Brewington; Misses Hattie Russell and Grace Crawford.

DANVILLE VOTES TO CLOSE LIBRARY

DANVILLE, Va. — Citizens of this southwestern Virginia city voted Tuesday to close the city's public library rather than integrate it under a federal court order.

The vote, however, was not legally binding. The City Council called for the referendum to obtain sentiment.
