as the auto was being raised. Hester's body was pulled from the water in a sitting position.

Authorities believed the car failed to negotiate a curve on the approach to the narrow bridge, knocked down two high-way posts then sailed 30-40 feet through the air before hitting the water. It was 16-20 feet at the point at which the car entered.

The accident took place sometime Saturday, the same day Hester purchased the automobile. The bridge, site of the accident, is located on N. C. 62, a few miles northeast of Burlington.

In Fayetteville Monday afternoon, Thomas Webb, 45, walked into the police station and confessed to shooting to death 37 year old Matthew Lilly after a quarrel.

Webb entered the station with the shot gun which killed Lilly still in his hands and told police how he had chased Lilly away from his home three times, adding, "the third time was the last."

The shooting took place at Webb's residence. Lilly died from a blast at short range in the face.

Webb was booked on investigation.

One of the bloodiest highway accidents of the year took the lives of four members of the Williams family and five other persons near New Iberia, Louisiana, Monday night. Two young drag racers who had bets on the speed of their cars were held responsible. Both died in the wreckage.

Only one passenger in the four ill-fated cars survived. He is Archie Alexander, 24 year old native of Patoutville, who was riding with the Williams family. He told authorities all he could remember was a car trying to pass, then headlights beaming from an oncoming car.

"When I woke up, I was lying in a ditch of water," he said. There were no living witnesses Sr., was manager of the district. His father later became a member of the board of directors.

Clement received his educational training at Avery Institute in Charleston and Talladega College. Shortly after graduating from college, he was given his first permanent assignment with the company as agent for the Memphis district.

From that position, he rose steadily through the various levels of the firm, from a special assignment in Charleston to assistant manager, agency supervisor in Atlanta, assistant to vice president and assistant agency director J. H. Wheeler.

In 1945, he was appointed assistant to the agency director and transferred to the firm's home office in Durham where he continued to the four car smash-up, which scattered wreckage over a block-wide area. Police could only theorize as to how the catastrophe happened.

It is believed that three cars were headed in the same direction and the fourth approaching from the opposite direction. Two of the cars brushed and collided with the oncoming car and the fourth crashed into the rear of the pile-up.

Evidence gathered from a companion of two of the victims, Geo. Babineaux, Jr., 17, of New Iberia, and Sebastian LaPorte, 21, of Jeanette, indicated that Babineaux and LaPorte had been racing earlier that evening and had decided on another race to see whose car was fastest.

LaPorte was apparently leading Babineaux when he tried to pass a car in which Aaron Williams, 70, his four sons, and Alexander were riding. His car sideswiped the Williams car and both cars then plowed into one driven by the Rev. Lloyd Taylor, 29 year old Mississippi minister.

Babineaux, trailing closely behind LaPorte, plied into the wreckage from the rear.

It was estimated that LaPorte was going over 100 when he attempted to pass the Williams.

Besides LaPorte, Babineaux, the Williams man and his three sons, the Rev. Taylor, others killed were Albin Bodin, of New Iberia, who was a passenger in Babineaux's car, and Patrick Henry, a rider in Rev. Taylor's car who died in a hospital shortly after the wreck.

In Charlotte, a Mecklenburg grand jury returned a true bill of indictment against 21 year old Melott Faust in the fatal shooting in May of a Charlotte policeman.

Faust, charged with pumping six shots into the body of patrolman John R. Annas during a street fight on May 21, is scheduled for trial on June 27.

Annas died immediately and police launched a 250 man city wide hunt for Faust, who gave himself up to Gene Potts, a Charlotte disc jockey.

Attorney Charles V. Bell, Faust's attorney, contended in vain that the indictment be quashed on the grounds that Negries are systematically excluded from the jury.

Cases against seven High Point youths charged with damaging a police car and the case against an other accused of attacking a police officer were continued in city court Monday.

A continuance until June 27 was granted when police reported they expected more arrests shortly in connection with incident.

William Burton, 16, was charged separately earlier in the day of assault with a deadly weapon. He allegedly tossed a brick which struck Patrolman Kenneth Gall during a riot Thursday which broke out at a park.

Others are accused on smashing windows, denting and otherwise damaging a police car the night after the park riot.

All of the defendants, 17 to 21, were released under $1,000 bond.

In Winston-Salem, an 18 year old youth was given four to ten years in prison for attempted assault on a white federal agency secretary.

King Fogle was accused to assaulting Miss Dorothy Shutt, 22, on Easter Monday.

Fogle pleaded no contest. His defense was handled by attorneys Hosea Price and Oliver Detting.

Announcement of the receipt of the check came after receipt of a letter from Sydney Llewellyn of New York, manager of Miss Gibson's recent tour with Karol Fageros with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Transmitting the check to Wheeler, Llewellyn said, "This amount represents a twenty five (25 cents) cents penalty for each double fault made by Miss Althea Gibson and Miss Karol Fageros during their recent tour with the Harlem Globetrotters.

"As manager of the tour I suggested the fine in an effort to better the standard of play. It was Miss Gibson's idea to donate this to her favorite charity.

"Just for the records, Althea made fifty (50) double faults and Karol made one hundred and thirty eight.

Announcement of Miss Gibson's contribution came as she landed in London to witness the tradition-

"Not since the dispatch of troops to Little Rock in 1957 has the executive branch of government taken such a positive position in a civil rights issue," the report asserts.

Other highlights of racial progress during the year noted by the NAACP included continuing school desegregation, although at a decelerated pace; reversal of a lower court decision upholding the validity of the Florida pupil placement act.

Also conviction of four white men for rape of a Negro co-ed at Florida A&M College, Tallahassee, Fla.; reaffirmation by the U. S. Supreme Court of the invalidity of an indictment or conviction of a Negro by a jury from which Negroes have been systematically excluded.

For the NAACP itself, 1959 was the second consecutive year during which income from all sources exceeded $1,000,000. The Association's $500 life membership campaign accounted for a significant portion of this.

Baltimore Conference voted unanimously for the Council, Bishop R. L. Jones, who presides over this Conference, is said to be in favor of the measure.

The Council was also approved by the Indiana and Michigan Conferences presided over by Bishop S. G. Spottswood.

It is reported that Bishop Spottswood has refrained from expressing any opinion until after the vote is taken.

The count is now tied at three all. The Missouri Conference, presided over by Bishop J. D. Caughen is reported to have voted against it. It is believed that an unnamed bishop will take the stump against the measure and is expected to make his appearance at the Ohio Conference, when it meets in Cleveland, Ohio, June 28, through July 3. This is expected to precipitate a fight that will pervade the coming Connectional Council, which meets at Price Memorial Church, Atlantic City, July 27-31.

acted subsequent to the Supreme Court ruling of 1954. So far, no Caswell schools have been desegregated.

In Chapel Hill there were indications that some desegregation would take place at the next school term. The Chapel Hill school board, which reported Monday receiving applications for admission to white schools from nine Negro children has adopted a policy that is expected to begin desegregation at the start of the next school term.

Indications were that the first grade at least might be desegregated. Three of the assignment requests are from first grade students, Supt. Joseph Johnston said.

Requests for assignment to white schools came during the week-end from the Negro students. Among them was Stanley Vickers, who sought unsuccessfully to be admitted to a white school in Chapel Hill last year.

The deadline for students transfer requests passed in Raleigh without a single application being received by the school board. This insures the city of no desegregation for the next term.

Raleigh's only request for reassignment has come from Joseph Hiram Holt, who applied in 1957 to enter the ninth grade at Needham Broughton, a "white school. The case stayed in the courts until March, 1959, when the Court of Appeals ruled against Holt.
