

Civil Rights Record of Nixon, Kennedy Revealed By NAACP

NEW YORK — The civil rights voting record of Senator John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate, contrasts sharply with that of his running mate, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, the NAACP's legislative scorecard for the 86th Congress reveals.

The report, published this week, records the vote of all members of both Houses of Congress on civil rights issues during the regular sessions of the 86th Congress. It does not include the special post-convention session in August, 1960. In that session both Senators voted with the majority to defeat two civil rights bills.

There were eight issues before the Senate and six before the House in the regular sessions. Senator Kennedy is recorded as having voted favorably on five of the eight measures. On the other three, although absent, he was paired favorably.

Only on two of the measures—for the civil rights bill of 1960 and for extension of the life of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission—did the Texas Senator vote favorably. On each of the remaining six issues, he voted unfavorably.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, as presiding officer of the Senate, had no opportunity to vote on any of these issues during the 86th Congress. His vice presidential running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, was not a member of that Congress.

The eight Senate issues follow: the civil rights bill of 1960; three attempts to amend this bill to provide school desegregation; to include a committee on equal opportunity and to store Part II which was stricken from the 1957 bill; cloture motion to end the filibuster against the civil rights bill; the anti-poll tax bill; extension of life of U. S. Civil Rights Commission; and a motion to modify Rule 22 to make it easier to end filibusters.

Civil rights measures before the House of Representatives during the 86th Congress include: anti-segregation amendment to federal aid to school construction bill; federal aid to school construction; civil rights bill; extension of life of Civil Rights Commission; bill to curb authority of the U. S. Supreme Court; and the signing of petition to discharge the civil rights bill from the Rules Committee.

Of these measures only two were enacted—the Civil Rights Act and extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission.

The record of the Congress members is published in a 24-page pamphlet available at 5 cents a copy at NAACP National Office, 20 West 40th Street, New York 18, New York.

Stephens-Lee Halts Atkins

ASHEVILLE—The Stephens-Lee High School Bears, who have not lost a home game in five years, kept their record in tact here Friday night by defeating the Atkins High School Camels, 1959 state champs, 12 to 0.

After having two touchdowns brought back and fumbling on the one-yard line, the determined Bears after meeting with Coach Moore at half time, took the kick off to open the third period and traveled 80 yards in five plays to score.

Willie Jones carried the ball four of the five times, scoring from the 10-yard line. Early in the fourth period, Clarence Kennedy broke through center and raced 65 yards to score.

A new member of Ford's economy vehicle family for 1961 is the Falcon Sedan Delivery (top), supplementing the versatile and unique Falcon Ranchero (bottom). Both the Sedan Delivery and the Ranchero offer maximum economy and maneuverability plus passenger car styling and comfort. The Sedan Delivery has a cargo volume of 76.3 cubic feet, and the Ranchero has a load capacity of 800 pounds. Standard powerplant for both vehicles is the Falcon 85-horsepower engine, with a new 101-horsepower engine optional.

WSTC Rams Set Sight on CIAA Football Crown

WINSTON-SALEM—The Winston-Salem Teachers College Rams are seeking a very elusive goal during the 1960 football season, the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship.

Coach Tom (Tank) Conrad and Rams have never won the CIAA title. Conrad played with the great Morgan pre-World War II champions, and he is, anxious to coach a champion. He said:

"We should have won last year, but just missed beating A&T in the last four minutes of the game. We may come through this time."

Tank is banking his hope on two quarterbacks, junior Ivory Roberts and sophomore Donald Wills. The Rams lost all-CIAA quarterback Bobby Rowe from last year. Roberts, a 6-1, 185 pounder from Hampton, is a magician with the ball and a good passer. He is a team brain. Wills, brother of shortstop Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers, has a whip as an arm. He is a good passer.

At halfback, Winston-Salem is well stocked. Top men are Nelson Guthrie, a junior from Gastonia, with breakaway speed, and Emanuel Witherspoon, a strong man and co-captain from Hickory, Chas. Guthrie of Danville, Va., also will do a lot of running.

Rodgers (Fat Daddy) Adams, a rugged 200-pound junior from Blairs, Va., is a powerful runner at fullback. Pushing him is a freshman, George Eubanks of Decatur, Ill.

On the line, Winston-Salem has an all-American candidate in Robert Jackson of Roselle, N. J., at end. He is a brutal tackler on defense and an eager pass catcher on offense. He also has speed. Sophomore Harold Bell of Fairmont Heights, Md., will man the other end spot.

Tackles include 220-pound Billy Adams of Gastonia, 230-pound Howard Blount of Tuckahoe, N. Y. and others.

Coach Conrad will rely on three juniors, co-captain James Young of Philadelphia, Thomas Crank of Gastonia and Jerome Jewell of Newark, N. J. The Rams' center is Victor Johnson of Winston-Salem, Phillip Hyman of Annapolis, Mr. will provide lots of help.

The Rams will rely on speed and finesse rather than bulk in their quest for CIAA honors. Their main rivals are expected to be A&T, defending champions; Maryland, N. C. College and Va. Union.

Jim Grant Draws Fine

Cleveland, Ohio — (CNS) — Pitcher Jim Grant took a walk when Coach Ted Wilks called him a black. That walk is costing Grant two weeks pay — something over a $1,000 and suspension to the end of the season.

Front office manager Frankie Lane, who's been bitterly disappointed over the Indians as they try hard to make it to first division, is backing Dykes all the way over Grant. Grant explains it all this way: "I was standing in the bullpen singing along with the National Anthem, as I always do. When it got to that part, 'Home of the Brave etc.' I sang, 'This Land is not so free. It can't even go to Mississippi!'"

"I sang it in fun. . . Wilks heard me and called me a black so and so. I got mad I couldn't hold myself back and told him that Texas is worse than Russia. (Wilks' home is in Texas.) Then I walked straight into the clubhouse. Maybe I should have told Dykes but in a situation like that, you can't think straight."

Gen. Mgr. Lane says: "I don't care what was said. . . There's no excuse for what Grant did. He's not working for Wilks, he's working for the Cleveland ball club. He had no right to leave. If there was a little personal difference that doesn't excuse him."

Hillside Seeks "Lay" Teachers

H. M. Holmes, Principal of Hillside High School, announced recently that the school is in need of several "lay teachers" to assist in a "reader program" that will begin early this fall.

A special program, under the auspices of the Ford Foundation, was introduced here at Durham two years ago. However, the foundation has since withdrawn its financial support and the program is now being sponsored with local funds.

In the program, selected students are assigned to write several additional English compositions during the school year, and "lay teachers" are needed for grading these papers.

Retired teachers, or former teachers who resigned from their positions for marriage or rearing families, or others who have had experience in English composition are urged to submit written applications for the "lay reader" work, immediately.

Holmes stated that teaching experience is desired, but not necessary, and any applicant who had experience that would compensate is invited to file applications through his office.

Announcement of selected applicants will be made at a later date, and specific information concerning the starting date for the program will be made later.
