SIMMONS SHOWS HOW IT'S DONE

These scenes were taken as nearly 300 beauticians from throughout North Carolina assembled in Durham for a two day clinic and hair styles show Monday and Tuesday. At top is an overall view showing a portion of the more than 300 women who gathered at the clinic on the first day. As far right in the center of the circular seating arrangement can be seen Mrs. Magnolia Leake (white dress), of Durham, and Bill Simmons (wearing glasses) demonstrating techniques in hair styling. Simmons, stylist for the Ross Men's salons of New York, was the featured stylist for the show. At bottom left, Simmons is shown giving Mrs. Callie Daye (standing) of Durham a close-up of his hair styling techniques. The beauticians took part in the two day clinic, held Monday and Tuesday at John Avery Boys Club, then were guests at a clothing fashion show and dance at the Recreation Center Monday night. The show was sponsored by E. C. Turner, Durham beauty and barber supplier. — Photos by Manning.

ANOTHER SHOW SLATED MONDAY

Another show for beauticians and barbers will be staged in Durham next Monday and Tuesday. It will be held at the E. D. Mickle Community Center on North Alston Avenue between ten a.m. and six p.m. for both days.

Henri Childrey, chemist inventor of the Hair-Strate formula, a new hair straightening process, will demonstrate the new product.

HERE'S HOW LA. DENIED VOTE

NEW ORLEANS—Six methods of denying Louisiana Negroes the right to vote are outlined in a statement submitted to the United States Civil Rights Commission which held a two-day hearing on discrimination in voting rights here recently.

The statement, prepared by Clarence A. Laws, NAACP field secretary, cited the following means:

Beauticians Watch Demonstration

Chapel Hillian Comes From Far Back; Grandy Moves Ahead

Like a bolt out of a clear blue sky, Mrs. Susie Weaver of Chapel Hill blasted her way to the first place position in the Carolina Times Beauticians Popularity Contest this week. Mrs. Weaver has thereby served notice on all contestants for the three airplane round trips to Hawaii, Haiti and Bermuda that she is to be reckoned with in the race to nail down one of the prizes.

In taking over first place Mrs. Weaver came from 19th position the previous week where she had given only small indication that she would be one of the top contenders. In the dark horse contestant that rumors have persisted about for the past several days or is there another? Could it be Mrs. Earlie Grandy who has quietly eased from 29th place to 13th place or Mrs. Dorothy Parker of Greensboro, who last year ran a hot race, and has this week moved from 24th place up to 16th.

Back in second place this week is Mrs. Quincy H. Mullen of Roanoke Rapids who the previous week had been pushed down to fifth position by other top-ranking contestants.

Wednesday, October 5, marked the beginning of the second period and there is evidence it will be tight all the way. This week found leading contestants in a neck to neck standing with few newcomers pushing their way into the top ranks. Among them is Miss Doris Jean Garrison who has stepped in and taken over the sixth position. Up Burlington way, her supporters say Miss Garrison will be heard from before the closing hour of the contest on Monday noon, October 31.

In spite of the fact that Mrs. M. H. DeVane of New Bern was forced this week to yield the top position she held last week to Mrs. Weaver, there is strong indication that she will be a formidable contender for the first prize which is the free round trip to Hawaii.

Still to be counted among the top runners are Miss Martha Rowland and Mrs. Jessie Nunn. Both of these contestants are known to be hard and smart workers and will be in there up to the last moment when the final count is made.

In spite of the fact that she is down to 14th position this week, Mrs. Eula Steele Laney should not be counted out yet. Mrs. Laney is also known to be a hard and smart worker as was indicated last year when she walked off with the top prize, a free airplane round trip to Bermuda.

Not to be counted out are three contestants who are consistently forging on. Could they be holding back? We wonder if they will shoot forward from out of the blue. They are Mrs. Otto White of New Bern, Mrs. Oneida McGhee of Durham and Mrs. Goldie Gray of Pollockville.

A big jump this week for Mrs. Alice Reed from 21st place to seventh will also be causing eye brows to raise in wonder.

COMMON-LAW HUSBAND INDICTED

Shot-Gun Victim Rites Sunday

A 37 year old mother of six was killed instantly in Durham Tuesday when she was shot at close range by her common law husband with a sawed off shotgun.

She is Mrs. Beulah B. McIver. Funeral services will be held for her Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9, at Pilgrim Baptist Church.

Her assailant, 37 year-old Clifton Jones, gave himself up at the Durham police station and was indicted for murder in the same afternoon.

The shooting took place at 808 South Street, home of the victim, shortly before one p.m., police reported.

The Rev. William Farrington will preside at last rites for Mrs. McIver at Pilgrim Baptist Sunday.

She will be buried at Beechwood cemetery.

Her body will be taken from Scarborough and Hargett funeral home Saturday afternoon to 905 Gaston avenue where it will lie in state until shortly before the hour of the funeral.

Detective Clyde Cox and Frank McCrae, who handled investigation of the case, said Jones told them he and Mrs. McIver had become embroiled in a running argument which started on Monday, a day before the shooting.

They said Jones told them that on the next day (Tuesday) he purchased several No. 4, 12 gauge shot-gun shells, took them to the home of his sister on Haywood street where he got his single barrel shot-gun, sawed it off to 18 inches and returned to Mrs. McIver's home.

Police said Jones claimed he sawed off the gun so that he

William Morgan Businessman Succumbs To Heart Attack

William Morgan, 53, Durham barber shop operator for the past 25 years, succumbed to a heart attack at the Veterans hospital in Durham early Tuesday morning, October 4.

He was stricken at his home late Monday and taken to the hospital later that evening.

Funeral services were scheduled to be held at the Scarborough and Hargett funeral chapel on Thursday, October 6. The Rev. J. A. Brown, pastor of Ebenezer Baptist Church, was to officiate, and burial was to be at Beechwood cemetery.

Morgan was owner and operator of the Carolina Barber Shop on Fayetteville street since 1935.

The deceased was a native of Scotland County, where he was born on Nov. 7, 1906, son of the

Spaulding Says Firm Has Made No Decision on New Building

The President of North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company refused to comment late this week on speculation that the company is planning to occupy a proposed multi-million dollar office building to be erected on Chapel Hill street.

"Absolutely none," the answer given by A. T. Spaulding, N. C. Mutual president, when asked

School Cases Mixed, Ruling May Come Soon

Two suits filed against the Durham school board charging it with discrimination in assignment of Negro school children have been lumped together in the same case and expectations are that a decision may be forthcoming in the case near the end of the year.

These were the developments here this week as attorneys representing both sides in the cases appeared again in U. S. Middle District Court.

Judge Edwin Stanley granted a motion by attorneys for the plaintiffs Tuesday that a suit filed against the school board last year and another filed this year be consolidated.

Plaintiffs' attorneys argued that the cases were similar.

Doctors Clinic To Open Oct. 26 At Lincoln

The 15th annual Postgraduate Clinic, sponsored by Lincoln Hospital and the Old North State Medical Society, will be held at Angier B. Duke Nurses Home in Durham on October 26.

Some 100 physicians from North and South Carolina and Virginia are expected to attend the all-day session.

Dr. Charles D. Watts, president of the Old North State Medical Society, said this year's program "will include papers on Breast Cancer, Myasthenia Gravis, Multiple Sclerosis, Peri-Arteritis Nodosa, Lupus Erythematosus and injuries of the hand."

Three eye specialists will conduct a panel on the Conservation of Vision. Participating will be Dr. R. E. Dawson and Dr. W. B. Anderson of Durham and Dr. C. M. Quick of Fayetteville.

The clinic, which was founded in 1905 by an inter-racial team of North Carolina medical men, is designed to review the more recent methods in diagnosis and treatment of disorders. It is also planned as a review to stimulate discussion and thought on the part of participating doctors.

TO HONOR MERRICK Details Of Program To Hear Ex-Maryland Governor Told

Details of St. Joseph's A. M. E. Church Men's Day program at which former Maryland Governor Theodore R. McKeldin will speak was announced this week.

Sunday will be set aside as Men's Day at the Church. McKeldin's address, coming at the regular 11:00 o'clock worship hour, will be the feature of the day's activities.

The program will honor the memory of the late John R. Merrick, pioneer business genius who was one of the founders of North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Attorney William A. Marsh will preside over the 11 o'clock program.
