

GEORGIA POLICE HOLD REV. MARTIN L. KING

Four Months Jail Term Looms On Traffic Rap

DECATUR, Ga.—Dr. Martin Luther King was being held by Georgia police in State prison at Reidsville, 240 miles south of here, as attorneys fought to prevent him from serving a four months road sentence.

The passive resistance leader was ordered to serve the sentence after a ruling Wednesday by Judge Oscar Mitchell of DeKalb County Court.

King had been charged with violating the terms of a suspended sentence he received in September on a charge of driving without Georgia license.

The famed southern leader moved to Atlanta from Birmingham, Ala., last fall.

He was given a $25 fine and a 12 months prison term on the traffic charge. The prison term was suspended.

But when he was arrested last week along with 32 others who staged a sit-in at Rich's department store, Georgia prosecutors contended that he had forfeited the suspension of his prison sentence.

It was argued that the sit-in was in violation of a newly passed Georgia anti-trespass law, designed to curb sit-in demonstrations.

D. L. Hollowell, one of the Rev. King's attorneys, argued that the order to reinstate the traffic sentence was based on violation of the anti-trespass law, which he asserted was unconstitutional.

But Judge Mitchell said he found no merit in the argument.

King's attorneys were also prevented from obtaining his release on habeas corpus when the noted race leader was taken from the jail here to State prison at Reidsville in the early morning hours of Wednesday.

The court proceedings Wednesday were interrupted by a bomb threat. Spectators were evacuated and the hearing was moved to another room.

Negro Vote Is Seen Decisive In Election

NEW YORK—To date, indications are that it (the Negro vote) is one yet to be courted, but "outed" was the conclusion of a Report on the Strategic Significance of the Negro Vote in the 1960 National Election, issued this week by the Non-Partisan Crusade to Mobilize Negro Voters.

The Non-Partisan Crusade, chaired by A. Philip Randolph, President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and a national Vice President of the AFL-CIO, has been conducting a nation-wide Negro registration and "Get-out-the-vote" campaign for several months.

Members of the committee heading the Non-Partisan drive include leading Negro religious, civic and political personalities.

Legion To Give $4,000 Sunday To Orphanage

Division Six of the North Carolina American Legion and its women's auxiliary are expected to contribute approximately $4,000 to the Oxford Orphanage Sunday when the organization makes their annual pilgrimage to the institution.

Top officials of the Legion and the women's auxiliary will take part in the organization's annual program at the Orphanage Sunday. See LEGION, 6A.

"SWEET 50"—The pretty lassies above, honor students at North Carolina College, are displaying the "bigday symbol," a maroon "50" on a grey background, which is being used for decorations in connection with the college's Golden Anniversary celebration. Blending sweet smiles with the College's symbol are Geraldine Williamson, sophomore, French major, Yanceyville; and Barbara Massey, senior music major, and "Miss NCC", from Fayetteville.

"Demos For Working Man" WEAVER LEADS IN BEAUTICIANS RACE

Close Fight For Top Prizes Shapes Up as Last Week of Contest Opens

Mrs. Susie Weaver of Chapel Hill was back in lead this week in the Carolina Times Beauticians Contest with Mrs. Quincey Mullen of Roanoke Rapids who tied with her last week close behind. The contest this year has been a nip and tuck affair with the six leading contestants still in throwing distance of each other.

The contest officially closes Monday noon, October 31. All contestants are urged to get their reports into the office of the Carolina Times by that time or into the mails in time to bear a post mark of before or not later than Monday, October 31. The actual standing of the six leading contestants will be published in the Carolina Times along with the names of the winners of the three free airplane round trips.

As announced last week the winners may make the trips within 12 months after the closing date of the contest.

So close are the six leading contestants to each other this week that it is absolutely impossible at this time to determine who will be the winners of the three free airplane round trips. There were still rumors of a dark horse contestant entering the picture with a final report that will assure her of walking off with one of the three prizes. Whether this is true or not the contest advises all contestants to be in the running to take no chances. The winners are going to be those who endure until the end.

Shepard Tells Durham Rally Party Is Best

The Democratic party's program is the best for the working people, the Rev. Marshall Shepard told a rally sponsored by Durham labor unions and the local party organization in Durham Tuesday night.

Addressing an estimated 700 persons at St. Mark A. M. E. Zion Church, the Philadelphia Baptist minister, prominently identified with the Democratic party for many years, outlined several features of the party's platform which he described as designed for people "who have to work—with their hands or their brains."

Among these he pointed out the party's program for a minimum wage, medical care for the aged, federal aid to education and its position on civil rights.

He launched a broadside at the Republican party, attacking GOP campaign arguments as "scarescrow issues," charging Republican candidates with deception in wooing the Negro vote, and taking a poke at former baseball star Jackie Robinson, who has been making speeches on behalf of Vice President Nixon's campaign.

The rally was sponsored by the Executive Committee of the Durham County Democratic party and the AFL-CIO Tobacco Workers Labor Council. Shepard, pastor of Mt. Olivet Baptist Tabernacle of Philadelphia, was introduced by Roy Trice, vice president of the Tobacco Workers International.

Sharing the platform with Shepard and Trice were Al Kennon, chairman of the Durham Democratic party, N. B. White, precinct chairman, Fred Hines, precinct chairman, Walter O. Daye, president of local 194, J. H. Wheeler, member of the National Committee of Business and Professional Men for Kennedy and Johnson, the Rev. R. L. Speaks, host pastor, attorney F. B. McKissick, R. N. Harris, member of the Durham school board. See SHEPARD, 6A.

MEN'S DAY SLATED Mt. Vernon to Dedicate New $150,000 Structure Sunday

Mount Vernon Baptist's Church new $150,000 addition will be dedicated in a special service at the Church on Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. Miles Mark Fisher, pastor of White Rock Baptist, will be the speaker at the program at four o'clock.

Also, on Sunday, at the regular 11 o'clock worship hour, Dr. M. C. Allen, noted Virginia educator, will address a Men's Day program.

Mount Vernon's new building consists of two units, located on the north side of the main church building. One is a three story structure which houses the religious education department. The other is a chapel, designed along modern architectural lines and featuring a sharp-pitched roof.

There are outside entrances from both units and connecting archways to the main church building.

Work was begun on the addition last October. It is expected to be completed by Nov. 1.

The approximate cost of the addition is $156,000. M. A. Ham was the architect. A statement from church officers this week said the addition is designed for character education, moral and religious training of children and young people. The program includes youth from birth to 16 years of age.

The religious education building will furnish facilities for the Sunday School, other youth training programs underway at Mount Vernon and a wide variety of other church activities.

It will provide a room each for the Cub, Boy, Brownie and Girl Scouts, a children's choir room, young people's choir room, and an office for the Sunday School Superintendent.

The first floor will house classrooms for beginners and primary Sunday School students and assembly rooms. The second floor will furnish space for an infant care center, classrooms for junior Sunday School students and an assembly. On the third floor will be located classrooms for intermediate, and senior students and an assembly.

Tile bathrooms for boys and girls are located on each floor. Located in the building also is a children's chapel, seating 300. It will be the worship sanctuary for the church. See MT. VERNON, 6A.

EMERGENCY STRATEGY SESSION—Father Theodore R. Gibson, right, president of the Miami NAACP has been sentenced to six months jail and $1,200 fine for refusing to turn NAACP membership lists over to Florida officials. He came to the Association's New York City National Office this week for a top-level strategy session. From left are Robert L. Carter, general counsel, Dr. John A. Morsall, assistant to the executive secretary, Glester B. Current, director of branches, and Father Gibson. See REGISTER, 6A.
