

East End Betterment League Elects Holloway, Renames School Heads

John L. Holloway, retired insurance executive and East End community leader, was elected president of the East End Betterment League at the organization's meeting last Sunday afternoon.

The meeting was held at the E. D. Mickle Youth Center or Alston avenue.

In addition to Holloway, other officers elected were J. L. Moffitt, W. P. Edwards and Robert Jamieson, vice president; Thomas Strudwick, secretary; and Samuel Nance, treasurer.

Moffitt was appointed chairman of the program committee, and David Gilmore was picked to head the membership committee.

Other committee officers will be appointed at the organization's next meeting, it was reported.

Besides the elections, the League heard a report on the operations of the Play School.

The Play School headquartered in the Mickle Community Center building, is in its first year of operation. It was sponsored by the League.

The report was made by Mrs. J. D. Daniels and Mrs. Dorothy S. Sellers, directors. They were reappointed to direct the school for the coming year.

The League meets on the Monday following each second Sunday at eight p.m. at the Mickle Community Center.

It was organized to help improve the community's physical and moral welfare.

President Holloway said membership in the organization is open to any resident of the community. He defined the community boundaries as the areas commonly referred to as "East End," Albright" and "Peachtree Street."

Tips on Touring

The 1971 Car

Chances are you're not giving much thought to your 1971 car right now. But engineers in Detroit are. While they differ in details, they predict generally:

The choice of cars in 1971 will be much greater than it is now. There'll be everything from tiny four-cylinder cars to big "Land Cruisers." At least seven basic types of cars will be available, each designed for a special function.

The 1971 car will still have the reciprocating engine. Trucks and buses may be using the gas turbine.

The car will have no spare tire. It'll probably still have the engine in the front in most cases. The success of present rear-engine cars could change this, though.

Another factor that could affect engine position is the successful development of the fuel cell or other power plant.

Some of the small cars will have front-wheel drive. The hump in the floor will be eliminated.

The car will probably have a central hydraulic system. This could control brakes, power steering, windshield wiper, windows, seats, starter.

Bucket seats will be more common. The car might have an all-plastic body. Perhaps there'll only be one door on the left side (the driver's door).

Finally, it might have brakes that release under extreme pressure and help prevent skidding, or a separate hydraulic system for rear and front brakes. A failure in one system would not mean a total failure.

REV. JAMES

Rev. P. O. James Is New Minister At Emmanuel

Emmanuel AME Church's new pastor is the Rev. P. O. James, a native North Carolinian who has spent 29 years in the ministry.

The Rev. James was appointed to the church located on Kent street, at the annual conference of the AME Church held in Morganton in November.

He exchanges pulpits with the Rev. Peter G. Crawford, former pastor of Emmanuel. The Rev. Peter Crawford was assigned to Bethel AME of Charlotte, formerly pastored by the Rev. James.

The Rev. James entered the AME ministry in 1932. He attended Johnson C. Smith University's Theological Seminary, and was ordained in 1935 at St. Stephen's AME in Wilmington.

His first pastorate was in Reidsville, in 1937. He served eight years on the Hillsboro circuit as pastor of two churches then he moved to Liberty where he spent three years as an AME pastor.

The Rev. James went to Charlotte in 1952 where he served as pastor of Bethel AME until his reassignment in November.

He is married to the former Miss Lucy Mae Mitchell, of Hillsboro. Mrs. James, also an evangelist for the Western N. C. Conference, is a teacher at Cedar Grove school, of Hillsboro.

They have one daughter, Mary Elaine, 14, who is a tenth grader at Central High, of Hillsboro.

The Jameses will take up residence in Durham at 1101 Moreland avenue.

The campaign of terror being conducted by the white supremacists of Fayette and Haywood Counties, in an attempt to prevent relief supplies from reaching the helpless refugees there, might have been the immediate reason for the unprovoked attack.

Mrs. Moore has been known for many years for her militant work in behalf of her people. She visited Washington only a month ago to testify in behalf of the Louisiana children who were taken off the relief roles by the reactionary and racist Louisiana legislature and governor.

She fought hard in the campaign to free E. Labatt, a famous victim of Southern injustice, who has been held in the Louisiana death house almost as long as Chessman, but with considerably less publicity. His crime was alleged murder, but much of the evidence was held questionable in a lengthy feature article in Look Magazine last summer, which also referred to Mrs. Moore's patient and heroic work in this case.

Baha'is To Observe World Religion Day

World Religion Day will be observed Sunday, January 15 in 1500 Baha'i Centers in the United States. A meeting will be held at 5:00 at the Van Sombeck residence at 1808 Essex Road. The public is cordially invited.

The aims of purpose of the Baha'i Faith is embodied in the following quotation:

The revelation, of which Baha'u'llah is the source and center, abrogates none of the religions which have preceded it, nor does it attempt, in the slightest degree, to distort their features or to belittle their value. It disclaims any intention of dwarfing any of the Prophets of the past, or of whitening down the eternal variety of their teachings. It can, in no wise, conflict with the spirit that animates their claims, nor does it seek to undermine the basis of any man's allegiance to their cause. Its declared, its primary purpose, is to enable every adherent of these Faiths to obtain a fuller understanding of the religion with which he stands identified, and to acquire a clearer apprehension of its purpose. It is neither eclectic in the presentation of its truths, nor arrogant in the affirmation of its claims. Its teachings revolve

Balance of Payments

What is known as the "balance of payments" deficit—which has resulted in a substantial decline in U. S. gold reserves—will inevitably become a first order of business item for the new Administration.

This deficit, it should be emphasized, is not a trade deficit—our commercial exports still exceed our commercial imports. It is the result, instead, of other spending abroad, private and governmental, which is not balanced by foreign spending here.

One aspect of this, ironically lies in the vast increase of foreign travel by Americans, largely as a result of the emergence of the dramatic jet age of air transport. Everyone agrees this is all to the good—the more new, as individuals, know about the peoples of other lands the less likely we are to develop prejudices and misconceptions. People-to-people, in whatever manifestation, offers a unique opportunity to further world understanding, world friendship, world peace.

Yet the dollars that are left abroad in the form of francs, lira, pounds and the rest contribute to the deficit. But they would not—if the citizens of Europe, whose incomes and economic standards are higher for the most part than they have ever been, visited us in sufficient numbers to bridge the currency gap.

Representative O'Brien of New York has proposed a means of helping to bring this about. We are the only nation of any consequence which does not support tourist agencies abroad. Even very small countries maintain their agencies here, and supply American tourists with invaluable help and information.

BURTON LEAGUE TO MEET TUESDAY

The Burton Community Civic League will hold its quarterly meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the T. A. Grady Community center.

League president Atty. William A. Marsh, Jr., said reports will be made by the civic, political, recreation, educational and youth committees at the meeting.
