

CAROLYN'S CHATTERBOX

(TEENAGE HAPPENINGS)
By CAROLYN McGHEE

Never Judge A Book By Its Cover.

This week's column is dedicated to: Leonoras Owens, of N. C. College, along with George Holiday, Mary Cozart, Marva Bullock, Clifton Singletary and Dacella Fogg and Leroy Long, the fabulous lovers of Hillside.

Hi Gang:
What's the word for the present? Ready to swing into the haps of the Bossville Center in Jive-town? The President and his Cabinet, are steady rounding up the tales of the city, so loafing will get us no where. So with no further delay, let's get some Scat and catch up on the Chat.

BARNES RETURNS HOME

Ernie Barnes, a former Hillside Hornet, and North Carolina griddler who started the year with the Baltimore Colts and ended up with the Los Angeles Chargers, has returned home from the Professional Wars of the Gridiron. Barnes will report back to the LA club in July, unless the Chargers move their franchise to San Diego as it has been said. Barnes was unable to play in the Championship game last Sunday between the Chargers and Houston because of a bruised back and a bad finger, but our man's coming along okay now. Gee Ernie, it's good to have you home.

A GET WELL WISH

To Joseph Blue, Mary Johnson, To Joseph Blue, Mary Johnson, Mr. Gattis, Barbara Waddell and Mrs. Elizabeth Hester. We all miss you, so hurry will you and for our sake—GET WELL.

"Flame" I spec you had better come on back and keep Bruce company

SHO IS GETTING OLD

Charles Harris celebrated his birthday January 5th; Valinda McGhee celebrated her birthday January 7th; Elizabeth Nelson celebrated her's January 8th; Ernell Hawles celebrated her's January 9th; Wilhemina Bracey had one January 10th and Maxine Bouknight celebrated her Birthday January 7th also. Happy Birthday, Kids and many, many happy returns of the times.

YEAR BOOK PROBLEMS

For the last two years the student body at Hillside has been fortunate to have a year book. And this year we hope to do the same. In order to publish the Hornet, however, we need a certain amount of patrons and subscribers. At the present time we need at least 20 more subscribers. Why not help your children and their class. We would like to make a special appeal to you as parents and friends. Why not be a patron, or better still why not buy a year book. They are only $4.00 each without name, and $4.50 with your full name engraved on the front of the book in gold letters. The deposits are only $2.00 and $2.50. Get a book now and look back later at the good old days you or your children spent at Hillside, 'cause those were the good old days. Thank you, The Senior Class of Hillside.

CONGRATULATIONS

TO Coach Easterling and his JV's for their victory over Williston High Tuesday nite. Keep up the good work.
Friday nite they tackedel Paisley High and we wish them luck throughout the Basketball season.

Our congratulations also go out to the swinging basketeers at Merrick-Moore for the terrible grip they held on Chapel Hill the other night. Keep it up.

WE MISS YOU

Dear Mother:
We wish you so much, so hurry up and come on home so you can be with us. It's so lonesome since you've been down there, and we don't have anybody to play with, so come on now. Okay?

Love,

"Your Children"
Arms, Robert, Carolyn and Ike

SPECIAL NOTICE

To Mr. Charles Taylor of Philadelphia, Pa. The Chatterbox wishes to tell you that we are thinking of you and that we wish you all the luck on your mission. May your mission be ended with success, may you reach your goal soon which as you know is "rat here," dig?

To Dot, Jimmie, Sam and Neat of Baltimore, Maryland: We've waited long enough; the kids are getting impatient and the chicken's getting cold; the coffee's getting stale and the cake is getting old, so just s'pose you come on home like you wuz told.

SPECIAL HELLO'S

To Our Out-of-Town Pals
To Charles Taylor, Philadelphia: Hello Pal, from a special friend at Hillside. To Claude Verbal—State College (Raleigh): A warm greeting from Constance Sartor. To Charlie Red — N. C. State: Hey there kid from from Patricia Poole.

African Women Have Low Status, Little Security

African Women have a low social status and little security, a University of North Carolina sociologist said here this week.

The speaker was Dr. Guion Johnson. She was addressing the January meeting of the National Association of College Women, held Sunday afternoon at Harriet Tubman YWCA.

Dr. Johnson and her husband, Dr. Guy Johnson, spent 11 months in Africa recently.

Her husband, who is also a sociologist, showed slides following his wife's lectures before the College Women.

Ladies Auxiliary of Oxford Hospital Donates Incubator to Institution

An incubator was presented to the Shaw Memorial hospital during the Christmas holidays by the Ladies Auxiliary of the hospital, it was revealed this week.

The presentation of the equipment was made by Mrs. B. G. Gooch. She expressed the auxiliary's interest in the work of the hospital and its service to the community.

Dr. J. S. Colsin accepted the incubator. Board members the Rev. Frank Smith and the Rev. G. C. Hawley witnessed the presentation.

Mrs. M. W. Lassister's address on the topic "The Greatest Gift," preceded the presentation of the incubator. Mrs. Lassister is a member of the city's library staff.

The incubator was purchased by the auxiliary at a cost of of $398.

The auxiliary has also donated other pieces of equipment to the hospital in the past. Earlier it presented the hospital with a gift of linen valued at $100.

The organization is an outgrowth of a series of Red Cross classes directed two years ago by Mrs. Heard. At the close of the series, the class members decided they would like to continue the fellowship and service to the hospital.

Frequently members of the auxiliary work as volunteers at the hospital in nursing and in other duties.

minority, Dr. Johnson said. She is a beast of burden, bearer of children and has complete charge of the child.

She also has the duty of procuring food and water, a job which often necessitates her carrying water over long distances. She has no right to a salary.

The dilemma of the African woman is that of having the protection of some man. Polygamy is "the order of society. To have several wives gives a man status.

The African woman feels no real security until she has a grown son. So she favors her male children. There is a strong tie between mother and son.

In Christian Africa, Dr. Johnson pointed out, men are prepared for domestic service.

Following her lecture, Dr. Johnson's husband presented slides which showed much of the beauty of Africa, gardens of flowers, animals, buildings, schools, children, customs and tribal dress.

The one and one half hours of lecture and pictures were enjoyed by members and visitors. Tea and assorted cookies were served following the presentations by the Johnsons. Hostesses were Miss Bettie Foster, Mrs. Edna Mills and Geneva Cheek.

The February meeting will hear Mrs. L. R. Swift speak on her recent trip to Russia and eastern Europe.

The National Association of College Women in previous years has sought to work along the national theme, which seeks to "arouse in college women a consciousness of their responsibility in aiding in the solution of pertinent problems on local, state and national levels."

This year, the Durham chapter's program committee planned a series of lectures by persons who have visited abroad. Two members of the organization toured Europe during the summer and several other residents of the area have visited abroad recently.
