Charlotte. He described them as leaders in a movement by Charlotte citizens to secure a branch of the bank in that city.

If the bank's request to open in Charlotte is approved, it will bring to four the number of offices maintained by the firm. It already has two offices in Durham and one in Raleigh.

In discussing this year's rate of growth in earnings Wheeler pointed to an increase in number of loans made by the bank during the year. A total of 4,536 loans amounting to $2,582.09 was processed in 1960, he pointed out.

A steady increase in number of deposits and the dramatic growth of the Trust department were pointed out to stockholders by the report.

Deposits increased by $756,284.37 during the year. This rise was felt as "particularly heartening" by bank officials because of the increased competition of savings and loan associations.

Wheeler's report showed that the Trust Department is now handling a total of 68 trusts with assets of over $188,000.

The report paid tribute to officials and employees of the bank for their participation in civic affairs of the community. It singled out Nathan White, sit-in leader, and Walter Ricks, who was voted handicapped worker of the year by the B'nai B'rith.

Wheeler's report continued a note of optimism for the institution's future growth. He said expected expansion of Charlotte's population to 500,000 by 1970, development of the Research Triangle and urban renewal movements in Raleigh, Charlotte and Durham would result in an unprecedented volume of business for the bank.

J. E. Strickland presided over the meeting. I. O. Funderburg, cashier, read the minutes of last year's meeting.

The stockholders, on a recommendation of nominating committee members J. S. Stewart, Mrs. V. G. Turner and C. A. Hayward, re-elected the current board of directors.

He revealed that the firm increased its weekly premium debit by $12,276.88, the largest increase since 1958.

Spaulding also reviewed other developments of the year, including purchase of a new home office site.

Another highlight of this meeting was the re-election of Dr. Clyde Donnell and W. M. Rich, both of Durham, to the Board of Directors.

The company currently operates in nine states, most of which are located in the middle and south Atlantic area. They include Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

ber of the Virginia State Conference NAACP legal staff, for acting as counsel in three NAACP cases.

These cases dramatize the Association's fight to defend the civil liberties of its membership, such as freedom of speech and association, thus enabling them to go about the business of winning civil rights.

He also cited the U.S. Supreme Court victory which said Arkansas school teachers did not have to list their outside organizational ties.

Had the State of Arkansas been successful, few Negro school teachers would have dared participate in NAACP activities.

Carter also signed out the Association's victory, in the U.S. Supreme Court, in a case threatening to deprive Tuskegee, Ala., Negroes of their right to vote in municipal elections.

Tuskegee officials re-established the city boundary lines, changing from a four-sided to a 18-sided area. Had they succeeded 400 Negroes would have been ineligible to vote.

an ample supply of home buyers in 1961, he said.

He listed highlights of Mutual Savings and Loan Association's 1960 operation as follows:

1. Net savings increased by $197,345.64, or six per cent, boosting total savings capital to $3,532,799.17 at year's end.

2. Dividend payments to savers totaled $132,900.42, sixteen per cent above the 1959 figure, and an all-time high.

3. The dollar value of the home mortgage loan portfolio increased to $3,926,798.62 at year's end, or by five per cent.

Looking ahead, Mr. Stewart suggested that the recent slowdown in business probably contains in itself the "seeds of its own recovery." He listed as "plus factors" a continued high level of sales and production, employment, and personal income.

Indicating that housing may be one of the bright spots in the economy, he forecast the building of between 1.2 and 1.3 million new homes in 1961.

The company voted to retain its board of directors for another year.

Members of the board, who were re-elected, are Dr. Clyde Donnell, Dr. Alfonso Elder, J. W. Goodloe, R. N. Harris, J. J. Henderson, W. J. Kennedy, Jr., J. S. Stewart, G. W. Logan, E. R. Merrick, H. M. Michaux, T. M. Parham, A. T. Spaulding, C. C. Spaulding, Jr., and J. H. Wheeler.
