

High Court Agrees to Review Death Sentence for Rape Intent

NEW YORK — The U. S. Supreme Court this week agreed to review the case of a Birmingham, Ala. Negro arrested and sentenced to death on the charge of "burglary with intent to ravish" a white woman.

The convicted man, Charles Hamilton, was arrested in October, 1957 charged with entering a home with intent to burglarize and to rape an 80 year old white woman.

While the burglary charge was dropped, Hamilton was sentenced to death for "intent to rape" and has been held in Kilby Prison, Montgomery, Ala., since April, 1957.

The case was taken to the U. S. Supreme Court by attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund in cooperation with Hamilton's Alabama lawyers on the ground that Hamilton was denied the services of an attorney at the preliminary stages of the proceedings. A lawyer was appointed by the court to defend him several days after he was brought before the court for arraignment and the entry of plea recorded.

Legal Defense Fund attorneys contend in their petition to the U. S. Supreme Court that this denied Hamilton "due process of law."

The right to counsel in cases where the death penalty is involved is absolute at every stage of the court proceedings following the indictment of the defendants," the attorneys argue.

They pointed out that the Alabama Supreme Court held last summer that under local law an accused did have the right to an attorney before arraignment and entry of plea. However, the court denied Hamilton's request for a new trial stating that he did not show he was harmed by the lack of counsel at the arraignment.

The major issue raised by Legal Defense attorneys in behalf of Hamilton is whether the right to counsel at preliminary hearings and before arraignment in capital cases is absolute or not.

Attorneys in the case are Peter Hall and Orzelle Billingsly of Birmingham, Ala., and Thurgood Marshall, James M. Nabrit, III and Jack Greenberg of the Legal Defense Fund staff in New York.

Muslim Blask Supremacist: Discrimination In Reverse

NEW YORK — "Black Supremacy" and "Discrimination Against All Whites" are the slogans of a little-known but rapidly expanding religio-political movement which claims a quarter of a million followers among American Negroes.

Negro journalist William Worthy, writing in the February issue of Esquire Magazine, takes a revealing look at this Negro counterpart of the Ku Klux Klan which calls itself the Muslims.

Vaguely oriented to the teachings of the Koran, the Muslims have as their leader Elijah Muhammad, who was born Elijah Poole in Georgia in 1897. He has a third grade education, an early history of residence in "white" jails and a violent hatred of all white men.

Ministers in the 29 Muslim Temples of Islam in major cities around the country prophesy a "War of Armageddon" within five years in which the black nations of the world will be victorious over the white.

According to Esquire article, Federal authorities suspect the Muslims of being perilously close to a violation of the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States government.

Meanwhile Elijah Muhammad's organization continues to have wide appeal for many semi-literate Negroes equipped with no special skills who find themselves rejected not only by the white man but also by most other Negroes.

Esquire quotes historian Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., as saying the blame for the movement lies not with the Negroes, but with the whites. "White Americans have brought this on themselves," he says, "and the responsibility can't be evaded by attacking the Muslims."

Elizabeth City Teachers College Accredited By Southern Asso.

ELIZABETH CITY — Elizabeth City State Teachers College is now fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Notification of this action by the Association was contained in a letter from Dr. Gordon W. Sweet, Executive Secretary of the Association, which indicated that all notations and questions have been removed from the name of Elizabeth City State Teachers College's listings in the accrediting Association's "APPROVED LIST."

Such action by the rating association indicates that the college is now fully accredited.

The college has been on the "Approved List" since 1947; however, its listing carried a notation indicating a question concerning meeting only two standards.

Dr. Sweet's letter also stated, "The Committee noted the real improvement that has been made and commends Elizabeth City State Teachers College for its progress."

As a result of this action, the college is listed in the U. S. Office of Education 1960-61 Directory of Accredited Institutions of Higher Education along with other accredited colleges and universities.

When asked to comment on the significance of the Association's action, Dr. Walter N. Ridley, President of the College said, "On the basis of these circumstances, Elizabeth City State Teachers College will be considered for full membership in the Association at its December 1961 meeting. We now look toward elections."

Are Termites Going North?

Is there a termite problem ahead for home owners in the North?

Entomologists of the University of Wisconsin have been trying to find the answer to this question. They suspect that termites may be undergoing evolutionary changes resulting in a winter-hardy relative of this traditionally southern insect pest. The number of areas in northern Wisconsin reporting termites is increasing, they say.

A very gradual migration northward of certain species of termites has been reported by entomologists in a number of States in recent years. Some suggest that this is because of weather conditions in some areas. Then, as housing developments have expanded and replaced woodlands, termites have infested homes. Heated basements or heated concrete slab foundations for houses often keep the ground underneath warm enough for termites to be active in winter.

The Wisconsin entomologists are cooperating with the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wis., to determine why termites are being found so far north and whether they can develop winter tolerance.

Though the studies have been underway only a short time, they offer evidence that termites can become winter-hardy.

Home owners who have questions about ground-nesting termites will find detailed information on prevention and control in "Subterranean Termites" (HG-64). This fully illustrated, 30-page USDA publication may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. for 15 cents a copy (coin, not stamps). Also for sale at 5 cents a copy is "Soil Treatment, An Aid in Termite Control" Leaflet 324.

College Fund's 1960 Campaign Drive Collects Over $2 Million

NEW YORK — Contributions to the United Negro College Fund's 1960 campaign topped the two-million-dollar mark for the first time in the history of the organization.

The record amount raised — totaling $2,035,020 — was announced here this week by Bruce Barton, national campaign chairman.

More than 4,000 volunteers worked in 125 campaign centers across the country to raise this total.

"This dramatic record is especially heartening in this year of general economic decline," Barton, chairman of the board, Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, said.

"Our success demonstrates the intrinsic interest and increasing confidence of the American people in the Fund and its 33 member colleges. In their quiet way, these colleges have been instilling in their students — not only the stuff of leadership — but also the love of country and democracy, the sense of dignity that distinguishes the Negroes' climb to equal rights," Barton said.

In 1960, as in earlier years, individuals contributed the largest percentage of the amount raised, accounting for $956,250 of the total. Corporate giving also exceeded last year's mark, amounting to $832,280. Foundation gifts totaled $246,510.

W. J. Trent Jr., UNCF executive director, said, "The College Fund's 1960 campaign added many new names to our list of contributors. Gifts raised and contributed by alumni advanced to new highs — with alumni expressing heightened interest in their colleges."

UNCF campaign funds are distributed among the private, accredited colleges and universities comprising the Fund's membership. The money is not specifically allocated, but is used where most needed — to provide scholarships, improve faculty salaries, and expand educational programs.

Total gifts to the College Fund from all sources in 1960 amounted to $2,186,502.

Since it pioneered in cooperative fund raising for private colleges in 1944, UNCF has raised a total of $41,248,938.

Ike Praises Work of Committee on Government Contracts on Report

Earlier, Wednesday, the Committee's seventh and final report to Eisenhower, entitled "Pattern for Progress," was presented to him at the White House. Included in this report were recommendations for expansion of the Committee's scope of activity and authority.

"I urgently call the attention every American to the recommendations made to me today in the final report of the President's Committee on Government Contracts under the able chairmanship of Vice President Nixon. These recommendations, if acted upon, will bring our people closer to the great goal of full equality of opportunity," and faces a possible sentence of ten years.

ACLU Complains Against Police Brutality in La.

NEW YORK — The American Civil Liberties Union filed a complaint Wednesday with the Department of Justice charging that police officials in Shreveport, La. had beaten a Congregationalist-ordained minister who publicly proclaimed his anti-segregation beliefs.

The civil liberties organization asserted in a letter to Harold Tyler, head of the Department's Civil Rights Division, that the police action taken on January 3 against the Reverend Ashton Jones of San Gabriel, Calif., was a violation of the federal Civil Rights Act.

Submitting sworn statements by the Rev. Jones and his traveling companion, Joe Glynn of Sumnerville, Mass., describing the attack, the ACLU asked for a prompt and vigorous investigation by the FBI and quick prosecution by the Department of Justice.

The federal law prohibits any public official acting "under color of law" from depriving a person of his civil rights.

The ACLU request was signed by its executive director, Patrick Murphy Malin.

The Rev. Jones asserts his religious beliefs by preaching in and driving from community to community in a car which has attached to its sides slogans and pictorial symbols extolling brotherhood and peace.

Born and educated in Georgia, the Rev. Jones was ordained in the Congregational Church in 1928 in Atlanta. He is now the associate pastor of the Neighborhood Community Church in Los Angeles. In recent years his preaching about brotherhood in the South has been interpreted as support for desegregation.

The Rev. Jones took an active part last April 26 in "sit-in" demonstrations in Dallas, Texas protesting lunch-counter discrimination against Negroes.
