Brotherhood Cure For Ills, Rabbi Declares

GREENSBORO — "Brotherhood" was described at A. and T. College last week as an answer to international ills.

The speaker was Rabbi Abraham Sheingold, spiritual leader of the Roanoke, Va., Temple Emanuel. He spoke last Tuesday, Feb. 21, appearing under the sponsorship of the Jewish Chautauqua Society of New York City.

He conducted the experiments with 16-adult rats, some of which were denied foods bearing high prevalence of vitamin B6. The latter group, he found, all showed a serious lack of development of spermatazoa and the tissues which produces them.

He is continuing his studies and is convinced that his experiments "will reveal the same in the case of females. In fact, this is what he started out to prove.

This discovery about the effect of B6 on males is only incidental. He is actually interested in finding ways and means of increasing and improving milk production by increasing the supply of vitamin B6 in the diet of dairy cattle which he believes will lengthen the productive range of cows.

Dr. Pati, a native of Calcutta, India, has completed two other research projects, dealing with artificial insemination for farm animals and treatment for distemper in dogs.

He is a graduate of Veterinary Science, University of Calcutta, secured the M.S. degree in Physiology at Texas A. and M. University and the Ph.D. degree in Animal Industry at N. C. State College, Raleigh.

While he is deeply involved with his research, Dr. Pati has a personal problem of deep with which he is now wrestling. Last summer he was faced with deportation from this country because his visa, granted him for study in the United States had expired.

The U. S. Immigration Service, upon appeals made by the college, state and national officials, granted him another year to continue his research and teaching assignment at A. and T. His time here is rapidly expiring, but he has begun other efforts to remain in this country where he has available to him modern equipment and facilities for further research.

If he can get a break-through on this problem, this young and brilliant professor would be a happy, happy man.

South Carolina Check Violence NAACP Urges

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Gov. Ernest F. Hollings was urged to "institute prompt investigation" of acts of violence against Negro sit-in demonstrators in Rock Hill this week by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins.

The NAACP executive pointed out the beating of two college youngsters by a mob of white by-standers who were antagonized when the students attempted to peacefully demonstrate against lunch counter discrimination in Rock Hill.

Wilkins, in a wire dispatched from the Association's national office in New York City, called attention to the arrest of the Rev. Cecil A. Ivory, president of the Rock Hill NAACP.

Rev. Ivory, although confined to a wheel chair, is pastor of the Hermon Presbyterian Church. He and White House Tour for the Ladies Auxiliary. Special nursery and day camp facilities will be provided for visiting children.

Lack of Vitamin B-6 Brings On Sterility, A&T Scientist Believes

GREENSBORO—Sterility among males may occur earlier in life because of the foods they eat or fail to eat.

That is the firm conviction of a scientist at A. and T. College who is engaged in a research project he believes will prove it.

The scientist is Dr. Nityananda Pati, professor of Biology who has been engaged in the study since last spring. He announced this week a break-through in his experiments.

He told reporters, "deficiency in vitamin B6 definitely causes sterility in males by interfering with the follicular stimulating hormone from the brain which is responsible for growth and development of spermatazoa, the male reproductive cell."

He intimated as much when he presented a scientific paper dealing with the same research before the American Dairy Science Association—Southern Division annual meeting held at Jackson, Miss., on February 6-8. Findings since he returned further substantiate his original ideas.

"THIS GHOST BUSINESS"

Have you ever thought that there was a spook sitting in the seat next to you? Have you ever thought: you heard footsteps behind you, or squeaking doors? Have you ever had your hair stand on top of your head when the wind wasn't blowing? Have you ever seen a ghost? Have you ever been scared half out of your wits? Have you ever laughed so hard that you were sick and you thought you would never recover?

Well, if you went to the senior class play Tuesday night, February 21, 1961 in the Hillside auditorium, you caught all these thrills and chills at once.

The characters in this breath-taking event were: The star: Magnolia the cook, Billie Cue; Mose, Magnolia's boy friend, Preston Kee; Bill, a tramp, Bill Jones; Laura Hardy, Joe's wife, Annie Verbal; Joe Hardy, a young married man rather serious and inclined to believe in the supernatural, Stanley Fisher; Eddie Canfield, a young married man full of schemes and practical jokes, William Stewart; H. G. Stephens, former owner of "Weary Rest"; a summer cottage near the lake, Ronald Jacobs; Mable Canfield, Eddie's wife, Selena Henderson; Elsie Forest, a neighbor, the talkative type, who brings startling news, Pearl Mangum; Marie, the French maid, Winnifred McQueen.

Congratulations to all of you that participated, and thanks to all of you who helped to make this the most successful program yet.

PLEASE GET WELL SOON

To Leondras Owens:
Dear Lee:
We are indeed sorry to hear of your illness. Sickness is a misfortune but don't let it get the best of you. Keep your chest out, and your head high, and everything will be alright. We all miss you and are praying for your speedy recovery.

Communism Has Little To Do With Root of World Woes—Griffith

RALEIGH—"Where our generation has failed," it will be your job of beating down national and racial barriers and building the Kingdom of God among Christians" said Dr. Ernest S. Griffith, dean of the School of International Service, The American University, Washington, D. C. to Shaw University students, Monday, Feb. 20.

Dr. Griffith spoke on the topic "The World Crisis and Its Basic Element."

He stated that communism, has no relation to the world situation. If there was no communism, the world would still be in trouble as there is a revolution of rising expectation of all common people, without relation to color, who have had little or no chance in industrial progress.

Throughout the world there is the realization that man need not be poor, exploited and hungry. Through TV and pictures of luxurious homes, streets, and the appearance of difference in dress between the rich and poor, man sees that he need no longer be poor, hungry and sick.

The speaker also referred to the population explosion in China, India, Egypt and Latin-America.
