Care of African Violets Discussed

The Year Round Garden Club met with Gardener Loraine Thorpe at her residence on Lincoln St. The Garden Gate was opened by Gardener Madge Hargraves who read a short story pertaining to Brotherhood Week.

Vice President, Gardener Plassie Harris, presided over the business session. After the business, Gardener Alma Bennett gave an interesting and informal talk on African Violets. Highlights of her discussion centered on soil, sunlight, moisture and room temperature. A lively and stimulating question and answer period followed.

The hostess served a delicious repast to Gardeners Alma Bennett, Carrie Burch, Sarah Felder, Lena Gates, Madge Hargraves, Plassie Harris, Gazella Lipscomb, Katie Love, Edna Mason, Annie Mayo, Hattie Meadows, Wilma Milum, Lessie Morrow, Emma Randolph Eugene Simmons, Annie Strickland and Flossie Torajn.

The Garden Gate was closed by Gardener Emma Randolph.

It was also decided at our next meeting to show slides of flower arrangements made by the group.

Members present at the meeting were: Miss Lillian Cole, Mrs. Jennie Fuller, Mrs. Susie Martin, Mrs. Cora Brown and Mrs. Lillian Alston.

Mrs. Curtis Hostess To Stewardess Board Of St. Marks Church

Miss Kittyola Curtis was hostess to Stewardess Board No. 3 of St. Mark's A. M. E. Zion Church, in the Church Parlors, February 26, 1961. The Chaplains, Mrs. Ophelia Chadwick and Mrs. Laura Burgess, led the devotions. The president, Mrs. Minnie Alston, presided over the business session. Ways and Means of replenishing the treasury were the main items of business.

At the close of the business session the following members, Mesdames Minnie Alston, Catherine Boone, Laura Burgess, Ophelia Chadwick, Olla Hayes, Esther Hayes, Cornelia Herndon, Helen McNeil, Annie Mitchell, Marie Penny, Lula Royal, Louise Sears, Dorgie Skinner, Pearl Spearman, Carrie Williams, Ethel Williams and Swannie Wilcher assembled around a beautifully decorated table (carrying out the St. Patrick's motif) for a very delicious repast.

Mrs. Lillie Farrington Hostess to Club

It was "Hobby Show and Country Fair Night" for the Daughters of Dorcas last Thursday night. The affair was held at the Algonquin Club on Fayetteville Street. The "Daughter's" costumes were both unique and amusing, but Mrs. Annie Lassiter and Mrs. Maggie Walton surpassed all the others in terms of being amusing. Members who failed to dress "Hobby Show fashion" had to pay fines—this of course will help to fill the club's coffers, which is needed in carrying on its extensive work to the needy.

"Country Fair" displayed many "goodies," including bakery products and other salable foods and other items.

Regrets were expressed over the hospitalization of Mrs. Artelia Bryant, a recent, but very useful "Daughter" of Dorcas.

As usual, Mrs. Farrington proved a charming hostess, serving her guest a delicious repast prepared by Mrs. Newby.
