had visited Durham the day prior to her death, allegedly to see Philip.
Police were told that a "light colored" station wagon was seen at the scene of the murder around 2 a.m. on the murder date. Philip owns a station wagon.
After an investigation, police said they found blood stains on the upholstery of Philip's station wagon. He was then arrested on a first degree murder charge and held without bail.
Philip was reported to have told police that Mrs. Tillery did visit him the day prior to the murder, but that he drove her to the Raleigh bus terminal and let her out. He said that was the last he saw of her.

Philip told the court that he had known Mrs. Tillery for nearly 23 years, but had no part in the murder.

good, with and for. I don't think the fact that a team does or does not have Negroes should be a deciding factor."
Edward Boyd, recreation director, 900 Plum St., "He'd have a better chance to show his wares with the Titans and I think Davis would benefit from choosing the Titans from a financial standpoint."
W. P. Wimberley, pharmacist, 702 Fayetteville St.: "My opinion is based on the previous attitude of the Redskins manager. I wouldn't want to work for him and I wouldn't want to see any body else work for him."

record speaks for itself when you are looking for talent for NFL play."
Riddick is NCC's head grid mentor, and he has sent John Baker to the Rams; Paul Winslow to the Minnesota Vikings; Luther Gerald to the Dallas Texans; James Brewington to the Oakland Raiders; Ernest Barnes to the San Diego Chargers; Clifton Jackson to the Edmonton Eskimos; and Ernest Warlick to the Calgary Stampeders.
"I'll kick as long as they (Browns) want me." My roots are deep in Cleveland, as I have a thriving insurance agency and interest in two dry cleaning establishments," was Groza reply when asked how long he will continue to play in the NFL. He has been kicking for the Browns since 1946, with a season out in 1960.
Gary Collins, Maryland end, was the Browns' first draft choice, Hinton, second, Sandy Stephens, Minnesota quarterback, and Leroy Jackson, Western Illinois, halfback, were their third and fourth choices.

Two other players on NCC's squad were drafted by both leagues. Frank Gardner, tackle, was the 14th choice of the Browns and the 17th choice of the San Diego Chargers in the American Football League. Vernon Hatch, end, was the 15th draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers.
Hinton has an invitation to play in the All-American Bowl in Tuscon, Arizona later this month.

handled with the same courtesy that we extend any guest."
She explained that the Inn's manager, Nolan Harden who was away from the city would have to make a final decision on the matter.
The Inn had already confirmed reservations for Miss Vaughan under her legal name of Atkins, members of the sponsoring NAACP organizations revealed.
Miss Vaughan is scheduled to give a concert at the North Carolina College gymnasium on next Wednesday night, Dec. 13.

It was reported from reliable sources that Holiday Inn hotels in Greensboro and Winston-Salem have accepted Negro guests.

his accident had place him.
He took the good-natured kidding of his brothers in stride.
Wilbur's rescue was the direct result of postman Winifred Jones' curiosity. Jones had taken a short cut on his west Durham mail route which takes in Wilbur's Hickstown neighborhood when heard young Wilbur's pleas for help.
The postman finally located Wilbur, realized that he couldn't reach the boy, and went for help. A garden hose was dropped down the hole, wrapped around his waist and the youngster was pulled free.

Wilbur's accident was just one in a series of reversals which the Oliver family has suffered in recent weeks. A student at Crest street school, Wilbur is one of a family of 12, all but two of whom have to depend on their mother for support.
The father is no longer a member of the family.
Mrs. Oliver, a large woman who appeared to be in her late thirties or early forties, has borne the burdens of trying to rear ten small children on her part-time income with incredible bravery.

Living with her in a small, three room house on Barnum street are seven sons, and three daughters. The oldest child is 14 and the youngest is two.
Ironically enough, Duke Power Company, in whose power hole Wilbur was trapped last Saturday, cut off the electricity to his home over week ago. Mrs. Oliver couldn't raise the money for the bill.
A domestic worker, she had hoped to get full-time work this week, even with a back injury which prevents her from bending over. But as of Wednesday, she hadn't.

Seniors Take Up Practice Teaching Assignments in N. C. High Schools

Some 32 North Carolina College seniors have taken up practicing or "cadet" teaching assignments in 20 high schools in North Carolina.

The NCC students, who are fulfilling education requirements prior to graduation, are observing and teaching in schools in 16 cities and towns.
They represent nine subject matter fields, including art, biology, business education, French, history, home economics, music, physical education, and social science. These represent the major fields of the students and the areas in which they hope to become certified as teachers.
The largest single group are majors in home economics. They are assigned as follows: Priscilla Ballard, Lincoln, Chapel Hill; Mae Frances Barham, Hillside, Durham; Jerline Broadnax, Dunbar, Lexington; Sylvia Faulk, Mary Potter, Oxford; Marian Lynch, Central, Hillsboro; Willie Ann Shaw, Merrick-Moore, Durham; Emily Starnes, Little River, Bahama; Corene Toomer, Unity, Statesville; Shirley Wright, Merrick-Moore, Durham; and Dorothy Mae Younge, G. C. Hawley, Creedmoor.
The students, according to their major fields and assignments, are as follows: ART: James Colt, Sterling, Chesapeake; Winston B. Fletcher, Ligon, Raleigh; and Ellis Smith, Whitted, Durham; BIOLOGY: Hayes W. Brown, Hillside, Durham; Gladys H. Langston, Hillside, Durham; BUSINESS EDUCATION: Catherine Harrison, Hillside; and Beulah McDonald, Hillside Durham; FRENCH: Ella Davis, B. T. Washington, Rocky Mount; Joseph Fryar, Lincoln, Chapel Hill; Elizabeth Jones, Hillside, Durham; Vivian Lloyed, Nash Central, Nashville; Carolyn Long Whitted, Durham; and William Turner, Merrick-Moore, Durham; HISTORY: Oscar R.
