BOOKIES ARE HELPING BABEBALL. This looks like a visitage year for newcomers in the major leagues. A flock of them were among the leading hitters and pitchers early in the season. More important, some of the new boys are real characters, and basebill bedly needs characters. One notable example: Bo Belinsky, Loa Angeles Augeis' phenom, who pitched a no-hitter on May 5. Before this season Balinsky was noted less for his pitching than for his eccentricities, like $200 mohair auts and a gibt tongue. "I'm just socially sharp," Belinsky and. "When there's a chance for a few laughs, I like to take advantage of it."

Another good-looking rockie is third baseman Rich Rollins of the Minascat Twins. The doctors told me I have one eye shaped like a basketball," Rollins says, "and the other like a football, I don't know which is which."

PRO FOOTBALLIS KEY QUIESTION MARKS, Two of the bigress t names in the game are kurting and if they don't come around, their teams will be in deep trouble. Quarterback Sanay Juvensen of the Philadelonia Eagles suffered, a shoulder separation in the post-seases "Pre Bowl" game in Miami last January, it is said he still can't throw a football.
