Mrs. Devine Takes Lead In Subscription Contest

Final Reports Due Saturday;
$3,000 in Prizes Await Winners

Saturday 6:00 p. m. is it. At that hour the curtain will ring down on the Carolina Times' subscription contest, ending one of the tightest races in the nearly 40 years history of this newspaper's existence.

So close are the 10 top contestants that it was absolutely impossible at 12 noon Wednesday to predict who will be the winners of the brand new Ford Falcon, the brand new color television set or the $300 in cash. Reports were continuing to come in at press time Wednesday and the contest manager was forced to stop the count exactly where it was at noon sharp instead of trying to include all of the reports that came in after near that time in this week's relative standings as it appears in this week's issue.

There are indications that some surprises are in store for the Saturday 6:00 p. m. deadline when all contestants will shoot the works and hand in their final reports. Reports mailed and bearing a post mark before or at 6:00 p. m. Saturday, November 3, will count the same as if brought to the office of the Carolina Times.

In spite of the fact that extra help will be employed to tabulate the large number of subscriptions that are expected to come in just before the 6:00 p. m. deadline it will be absolutely impossible to determine who the winners of the three prizes will be until at least 24 hours later. These will be announced in the November 10 issue of the Carolina Times.

The contest manager has strong reasons to believe that some of the contestants have been holding back for the deadline report when they intend to spring a surprise he would attempt no predictions even as to which way the wind was blowing.

At noon Wednesday tabulations of reports that had reached the Carolina Times office showed Mrs. Ruby Devine still hanging to the lead but by a narrow margin with any of the 10 top contestants being in position to walk off with one of the three prizes. The remainder of the contestants who apparently have little or no chance to become winners have been dropped from the list in this week's relative standing tabulation which is as follows:

Mrs. Ruby Devine, Durham	1,968,000
Miss Hattie White, Durham	1,714,000
Mrs. Maudie V. Dickerson, Margarettsville	1,710,000
Mrs. Louise Lassiter, Rocky Mount	1,433,000
Mrs. Sarah C. Woods, Burlington	1,332,000
Miss Sylvia Outlaw, Roxboro	1,235,000
Mrs. Ulysses Grimes, Durham	1,177,500
Mrs. Odessa Moore, Greensboro	1,092,500
Mrs. M. T. Lakin, Gastonia	1,010,000
Mrs. Symmer Daye, Durham	1,031,000
Mrs. Marian Crutchfield, Durham	218,500
Mrs. Viola Brodie, Durham	192,500

Key Figure in Finance Meeting

WASHINGTON — A former consisted of two vice presidents, Mechanics and Farmers Bank, who joined a Wall Street real estate management firm in 1932, and subsequently became president of this state's first Negro-owned financial institution, found himself a key figure at the annual convention of the United States Savings and Loan League meeting here this week.

He is Joseph E. Davis, president of the Carver Federal Savings and Loan Association an institution with $20,000,000 in assets, 40 employees and elaborate offices in Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Davis, who makes no secret of his conservative thinking where "other people's money is concerned," is highly regarded by financial experts here, New York, Chicago and California. His delegation to the Savings and Loan League's convention

Louise Beavers, Vet Hollywood Actress Dies in Calif. Hospital

Cheek Program To Be Held on November 11

A program to honor retired Durham educator Nathaniel A. Cheek, Jr. will be held on Sunday, Nov. 11 instead of Nov. 3, as was reported in last week's issue.

The affair will be held at White Rock Baptist Church on Sunday evening, Nov. 11 at 7:30. It is being sponsored by the Maude Logan District of the Church.

Cheek is a veteran educator who retired two years ago as principal of Pearson elementary school after long and distinguished career.

A spokesman for the Logan district at White Rock said details of the affair will be announced later.

HOLLYWOOD — Louise Beavers, Hollywood actress whose role in the television series "The Beulah Show" made her well known to millions of fans, died here last week. She was 60.

Death came to the veteran Hollywood actress on last Friday at a local hospital. She was taken there on the day before suffering from complications caused by diabetes.

Miss Beavers, whose motion picture career began 30 years ago, was regarded as a "star-maker" because even though her roles were rarely leading ones, many unknown players became famous after playing roles in productions with her.

Her first major role was in "Imitation of Life," filmed in 1934. She played Jackie Robinson's "mother" in the film story of that baseball hero's life, was seen in "The Gold Diggers," "Glad Rag Doll," "Barnum was Right," "Coquette," "What Price Innocence," "Bombshell" and "Made for Each Other." "All the Fine Young Cannibals" was her last major movie.

Allen's Wright To Return to NCC on Nov. 15

Dr. Howard E. Wright, president of Allen University, Columbia, S. C., and a former professor and head of North Carolina College's psychology department, will be the principal speaker at the NCC forum assembly Monday, November 12, at 10:00 a. m., in B. N. Duke Auditorium.

The program is part of the college's participation in the 42nd observance of American Education Week, celebrated this year November 11-17 and following the general theme, "Education Meets the Challenge of Change."

Well-known in Durham educational and civic circles, Dr. Wright has taught at North Carolina College on two occasions — from 1945 to 1948, and from 1953 to 1961. Prior to his first employment at the college, he taught at Albany State College, Albany, Ga., and Prairie View State College, Prairie View, Tex. Leaving NCC in 1948, he served as chairman of the education division at Texas Southern University, Houston, where he remained five years, returning to Durham in 1953 and remaining until 1961, when he accepted a position at Allen University.

Victim Shot 4 Times; Patrolman Says He Fired in Self Defense

GREENSBORO — A state highway patrolman told a coroner's jury here this week that he shot a Negro to death in "self defense."

The statement came from state trooper H. C. Pace, 27, who was testifying before a coroner's inquest into the fatal shooting on Saturday of J. T. Rutledge, 26, of Guilford County.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES

GREENSBORO — Guilford County Coroner R. D. Davis, Jr. ruled "justifiable homicide" here last Tuesday in the fatal shooting Saturday by a highway patrolman of a Negro truck driver he had halted for improper lights.

Davis made the ruling himself after a six man jury deadlocked over two days and one night on the case.

The jury was split 5-1. It consisted of five whites and one Negro.

Davis' action cleared 27 year old highway patrolman L. E. Pace, who said he shot J. T. Rutledge four times in self defense during scuffle in a woods south of here Saturday afternoon.

The coroner dismissed the jury which he had empaneled See SLAYING, 2-A

EDITORIAL

Negro Destiny at Stake In Next Tuesday's Election

For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there enlargement and deliverance of the Jews arise from another place; but thou and thy father's house shall be destroyed: and who knows whether thou has come to the kingdom for such a time as this?

Esther 4:14

We think it was Ralph Waldo Emerson who once said: "There is a time in every man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better or worse as his portion; that though the wide universe full of good, no kernel of nourishing corn can come to him but through his toil bestowed on that plot of ground which is given to him to till. The power which resides in him is new to nature, and none but he knows what that is which he can do, nor does he know until he has tried."

At no time in our day and probably no time in the near future has there been or will there ever again be so much at stake in an election for Negroes as that facing the voters of North Carolina and the South on next Tuesday, November 6. We might those who are looked upon as leaders of the race declare: this is it—now or never. Either next Tuesday's election must result in a crack in the democratic solid South or this section of the nation may prepare to sink into an

"MOST IMPORTANT SINCE 1954"

Supreme Court To Get City Sit-in Case

NEW YORK — The United States Supreme Court will hear the week of November 5th, argument on seven crucial race relations cases growing out of the student sit-in movement.

Jack Greenberg, Director-Counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, said today that the arguments involve "the most important civil rights issues since the school desegregation cases of 1954." The cases involve demonstrations by Negro youths from six southern states Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Maryland. They will be heard on appeal from state courts which have upheld the convictions. Greenberg said that the Supreme Court will allow ten hours of argument on the seven cases. The will be heard successively beginning Monday morning, November 5th, with arguments expected to conclude Wednesday afternoon. Greenberg said he expects the Court to announce its decisions early next year.

The appeals will question the validity of state trespass laws under which most of the 3,000 Negro students still under sentence for demonstrations were convicted. Greenberg said the cases go to the heart of the right of state governments to enforce discrimination policies of private property owners, as in the case of segregated restaurants and lunch counters.

"These cases may well indicate the future course of protest demonstrations against racial discrimination," the Legal Defense Fund Chief added.

The North Carolina case involves a lunch counter demonstration in Durham, N. C. by five Negro and two white students in May 1960. Greenberg will argue the NAACP Legal Defense Fund appeal. The two Alabama cases involve lunch counter demonstrations in Birmingham in March 1960 by ten Negro youths, and appeals of convictions of Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth and Charles Billups for "inciting" the students to sit-in. Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, Legal Defense Fund associate counsel,
