

Union Fumble Leads to 14-8 Hard Earned Victory by Morgan Bears

BALTIMORE, Md. — The Morgan State footballers won their sixth victory in seven starts by sinking the sturdy Virginia Union Panthers, 14-8, in a bitterly contested game played in a veritable sea of mud on Hughes Field, Morgan's stadium.

The Bears scored first, but found themselves unable to contain the Panthers, who struck back to take an 8-6 lead at half time. A third period tally regained the lead position for the Bruins, who were to add a final session safety to boost their advantage to 14-8 proportions. Virginia Union won the toss, and elected to kickoff to the Bears. Halfback Leroy Kelly, Morgan's leading scorer, ran the ball back 12 yds. to the home team's 28 yd. line. The Morganites were to move 71 yards, with assist of a roughing the kicker and a personal foul penalty, in 10 plays. The touchdown came as the result of a pass from quarterback Carmie Pompey to wing man Al Bates, the maneuver spanning 10 yds. Wilbur Robinson attempt boot the extra point was smothered.

The Panthers were to rebound and go out in front midway of the second quarter. Kelly, kicking from the Morgan 28, got off a wobbly punt which went only to the Bear 42. The stage was set for some fine ball carrying by halfback Jones Davis and quarterback Bill Terry, who collaborated to move the ball down field to a first down on the Bruin 1. Fullback Bobby Marshall plunged into paydirt for the six pointer, and Davis, conversion rush netted the necessary credits to put the Panthers in front, 8-6.

Recovered a fumble on the Union 32 set up the Bears' second touchdown. In the five play sortie, Pompey skirted left end on a keeper play, and after Kelly's 6 yd. dash to the Panther 14, reserve fullback Ken Duke swung wide around right end to rack up the twelfth point. Halfback Donald Twine was repulsed in his effort to rush for the two-point.

Twice the Morganites drove goalward in the 4th quarter and on both occasions the visitors threw up a rock ribbed defense to take over on downs, once on the Union 4 and the next time on the 1. But on the attempt to run the ball out from the 1 yd. line, Marshall was smeared by the converging Bears ends to score a Morgan safety.

Say kids, when you ride your bike you're more than just a rider in the eyes of the law. You are a driver, too. The North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles says to obey all the traffic rules just like an automobile driver.

U. S. Must Beat Bias at Home, Says Kennedy

NEW YORK — Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy warned this week that the United States must end intolerance at home before it can win any struggle with the Soviet Union.

In a major address delivered upon receiving the American Jewish Congress Stephen S. Wise Award for Advancing Human Freedom, Kennedy declared:

"We will not win this struggle just by confronting the enemy. What we do at home, in the final analysis, is just as important.

"We all must accelerate our efforts to banish religious prejudice, racial discrimination and any intolerance which denies to any American the right guaranteed them by the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution."

Speaking only hours after Soviet Premier Khrushchev had agreed to dismantle Russian missile bases in Cuba, Kennedy declared:

"The confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union is in reality a confrontation of all people who believe in human dignity and freedom with those who believe the state is supreme. That is what this crisis is all about; that is why our ships are on station in the Caribbean and why American soldiers are on duty tonight in West Berlin, South Vietnam and South Korea."

One Defendant in Monroe Case Is Released on Bond of $10,000

NEW YORK — The Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants has secured the release on $10,000 bail of Jayvan Covington, 18 year old Negro youth of Monroe. CAMD Secretary, Berta Green, announced last week.

Young Covington was conspicuous in the efforts to integrate the municipally owned swimming pool and in the anti-segregation picketing initiated by Freedom Riders in Monroe in the summer of 1961.

Following the racial strife on August 27, 1961, Covington was arrested. The nature of the charges was not even known to the Negro community until the youngster had been held in the Union County jailhouse for 20 days. On March 29, the twentieth day, Covington was shot in the jail by a guard who alleged that he assaulted him and tried to escape.

It then was revealed that the young civil rights fighter was charged with breaking and entering, conspiracy to break and enter, larceny, resisting arrest and trying to escape. An additional charge of "secret assault" upon a filing station was held in abeyance. In a Union County trial Covington was sentenced to 7-10 years.

Attorneys Hal Witt and Richard Seupl of Washington, D. C., filed an appeal, and bail was set $10,000 was posted and young Covington was released October 22.

The CAMD undertook to raise this large sum in cash or negotiable securities since local bondsmen would not handle the case stemming from the racial strife of August 1961. The CAMD had previously arranged the posting of cash bail totalling $17,200 for the three defendants in the "kidnap" case and one defendant in a related case.

Jayvan Covington's appeal was heard in the North Carolina Supreme Court in Raleigh on Oct. 30. A decision is expected within a month.

A principal point in the brief, of Attorneys Witt and Seupl for reversal of Covington's conviction is Union County's intention of discrimination in the selection of jurors and the systematic exclusion of Negroes from juries. Their inspection of the grand jury list showed the designation "col." in the margins alongside the names of colored persons.
