Griffith Scores TKO Victory Over Christensen

COPENHAGEN — Emile Griffith, world welterweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Chris Christensen, of Denmark, in the ninth round here Saturday night.

Griffith, who was well in control all the way, pounded Christensen to the canvas twice in the ninth before the Dane's handlers threw in the towel.

The victory gave Griffith a share of the world's junior middleweight title. Before the fight he was recognized as the junior middleweight king only in Austria. The world boxing association recognizes Denny Moyer, of Portland, Ore. as the junior middleweight champion.

Since Griffith's middleweight crown was not at stake, the powerful puncher handled Christensen almost as he pleased. Most experts at ringside felt Emile fought only at half steam, but even then he won every round.

In the climactic ninth, Griffith rocked Christensen with a left then dropped a right hand "bomb" which sent the Dane crashing on his back. Christensen struggled up at the count of nine and walked into another series of shattering punches. He went down again but got back up, groggily, to take a compulsory eight count.

Once again Griffith smashed him to the floor and this time his handlers threw in the towel.

Clark Lays Claim To Sports Power

ATLANTA — If you're a sports fan and a freshman at Clark College nobody can prove to you that Clark is not a power in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Panthers have piled up a combined total of 17 victories in football and basketball so far this year. A single loss on the gridiron and one in basketball mar an otherwise perfect record.

Currently running in the top spot in the conference basketball race the Clarkites dropped Alabama State Monday for their eighth visitation victory and last week romped over Florida A. and M. by 22 points to assert their supremacy in conference play.

The Clarkites, who ran third in the conference tournament last year, need only one more victory in the Atlanta city competition (with Morehouse and Morris Brown) to again become champions in the "City Conference."

Switching from the aggressive strategy that won them all but one game in football, the Clarkites play a strictly defensive game, using their well-known "turn-it-over" play to account for most of their scoring.

Don Scott

Negro Team to Enter ABC Play

NEW YORK — The first all-Negro team ever to enter the Classic Division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament is being sponsored by Don Scott, a member of the AMF Staff of Champions.

Scott will serve as captain of the five-man team from Cleveland, Ohio, which includes a member who was taught to bowl by Scott only three years ago. All members of the squad, which has a 200 average, bowl in the All-Star Single and Doubles Classic leagues in Cleveland.

The team is composed of Larry Polk, 29, who was Scott's pupil three years ago and who now maintains a 196 average; Howard Sweeney, 25, with a 194 average; Reginald Douglas, 33, with a 198 average; Brady Walker, 33, with a 210 average; and Scott, who maintains a 205 average.

Scott has been bowling for the past 20 years. He is one of three Negro members of the famed AMF Staff of Champions, composed of some of the top names in bowling.

His team will bowl at the ABC Classic Tournament in Buffalo, New York, on April 8th and 9th. Scott and Polk will also enter the Singles and All-Events competition, and will team up in the ABC Doubles Division.

Birth Control Device Report Due at Confab

NEW YORK — Progress toward perfection of new birth control methods widely useful in all cultures and acceptable to all religions will be a central subject at the International Planned Parenthood Federation conference in Singapore February 10-16.

Some 800 delegates and observers from 35 nations are gathering in Singapore for the meetings. A. U. S. delegation of scientists, executives and other leaders representing the Planned Parenthood movement in this country will attend.

Heading the delegation of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America-World Population Emergency Campaign are: Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, President; Mr. Donald B. Straus, Chairman; Mr. Cass Canfield, Sr., and Mrs. Robert M. Ferguson, all of New York.

Other American participants will attend from Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Boston, Philadelphia, San Antonio and other U. S. cities. (List attached.)

Overall theme of the conference is "Changing Patterns in Fertility." The inaugural address will be delivered by Singapore's Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew on Sunday, February 10 at the Victoria Theatre. Plenary sessions will be held at the University of Singapore.

"Control" and "Communications" will be key words in scientific discussions at the meetings: Control — signifying new methods of birth control, in use or under development, including the oral contraceptives and intrauterine devices. Communications — signifying problems relevant to informing the people of developing nations about the importance and availability of birth control.

Dr. Guttmacher will be Chairman of a medical session on oral contraceptive compounds. Mrs. Naomi Gray, PPFA-WPEC Field Director, will present a paper on new ways of reaching those in need of birth control in the U. S., especially migrant workers. Dr. Mary S. Calderone, PPFA-WPEC Medical Director, will report on comparative studies of birth control methods used in the U. S.

From Central South America, participants will attend from Honduras, Guatemala, Mexico and from Chile, first Roman Catholic country to announce official concern about national needs for birth control.

Margaret Tynes Scores in Italy

By A. V. HENDERSON
MILAN — Margaret Tynes has followed up her big hit as "Sole" in Spoleto's Festival of Two Worlds by taming the world's loughest opera audience in Parma's Teatro Reale. Singers who have escaped call it by another name, "The Lion Pit."

The Negro-Indian soprano from Virginia won applause in the North Italian city noted for its cheese, ham and violets, any one of which might end up on the stage of the Teatro Reale—more likely the first two products.

"I can't complain about my reception there," Miss Tynes said. If she did, she would be in the company of Caruso and Toscanini, who were heckled by the Lion Pit. The slender soprano had been a sensation earlier at the Spoleto festival managed by her friend, Composer Gian Carlo Menotti.

"At Parma they hushed me twice, because instead of singing I recited 'Assassin' and 'I swear.' But my score had the notation that at these points I was to recite, not sing. However, at the 'Vissi d'arte' they applauded me a great deal."

Last season, because of Parma's yawling lions, one tenor skipped town, a soprano fainted, and Renata Tebaldi, Italy's greatest singer, dropped out of a performance with a "light throat."

While singing in Europe, Miss Tynes met a Czech whose family now lives in Munich. She has a television appearance scheduled for London. In between this and other engagements, she plans on getting married, this, place and groom a secret.

Virginia State's Star Player Frank Stephens Is Considered Top Flight Performer by the Experts

PETERSBURG, Va.—One of the brightest pro prospects in current CIAA circles might not have both ered to play basketball had it not been for a persistent high school coach.

Frank Stephens, Virginia State's 6-8 forward, was a 6-7 junior at Camden (N.J.) High School when he decided to engage in the run and shoot game, only at the college urging of Anthony Alfano, head basketball coach at Camden High.

Steven helped his team to New Jersey Group IV championships in '59 and '60, and was the sixth man on a team which included Ron Smith and Reggie Hammond, now at Tennessee State, and Sonny Sunckett, who is at Seton Hall V-State Coach Shelton Matthews went to Camden to see one of the championship five, but Wilbert "Pony" Wilson, former Trojan football and track star, indicated that Stephens was the "sleeper" of the group.

The rest of the story is being written in the annuals of Virginia State college lore. During his freshman year, the youngster scored 174 points (6.9 ppg) and grabbed 126 rebounds in a relief role. Last season he upped his scoring to 277 points (10.7 ppg) and was the second high rebounder with 238 recoveries.

In the Warriors balanced attack, Steve is now the top scorer and rebounder, averaging nearly 15 points and 11 rebounds each contest.

The likeable youngster has an assortment of shots dispatched with fluid moves. It's not unusual to see him shoot a left-handed jumper from the corner, followed by a hook from the key, a right-handed jump shot from out front, or driving layup.

From home base in tough South Camden, Steven has made giant strides. His biggest moment was being selected to the All-Tournament team at the Georgia Invitational Tourney in December. He was a second team selectee in the CIAA Tournament last year.

Two of basketball's most respected coaches, Johnny McLendon, now at Tennessee State, and Bones McKinney at Wake Forest, have termed Stephens as a top-flight player with great potential in the play-for-pay ranks.

Steve plans a career in corrective therapy, but would not turn down a pro offer. Even with all this, the lad has another year to cavort for Virginia State.

Hot Soup For Box Lunches

Lunch box carriers come in all ages. They travel to schools, to factories, to offices. In 40% of all homes someone carries a lunch at least every other weekday. 20% of those are carried by youngsters (up to 13). 11% by teenagers, 15% by women, and 54% by men. To keep all these folks happy, to keep lunch high in nutritional standards, many homemakers depend on hot soup from a vacuum bottle. Regardless of varied food likes, there's a kind of canned condensed soup to fit all tastes, and it provides the hot element so necessary to good meal planning.

Vegetable beef, beef noodle or beef soup make meals richer in protein. If lunch is low in vegetables, one of the vegetable-rich soups may be added. Soups prepared with milk improve, in nutritional value, help increase milk intake for children or adults. Soup and sandwiches have been hailed as America's favorite lunch. This team makes a well balanced meal, and an easy one to tote for lunch. The soup and sandwich meal stands complete with a dessert of cookies, cake or fruit.

BEAN POT SOUP
Lightly brown 1 frankfurter, thinly sliced in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Add 1 can (11 1/4 ounces) condensed bean with bacon soup and 1 soup can water. Heat, stirring now and then. Pour into wide mouth vacuum bottle which has been rinsed in hot water. Makes 6 to 8 servings.
