CARNATION COOKING HINTS
By Mary Blake
HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR AND HER STAFF

Let the whole family make "Can't Fail" 5-Minute Fudge this Christmas. It's quick and easy—no thermometer needed and no long tiresome beating either! Double-rich Carnation Evaporated Milk insures creamy, smooth fudge every time. Do make it often, for your family and friends.

FIVE-MINUTE FUDGE
(Makes about 2 pounds)

2 tablespoons butter	1 1/2 cups (about 16 medium) diced marshmallows
2/3 cup (small can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK	1 1/2 cups (1 1/2 6-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 1/2 cups sugar	1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine butter, Carnation, sugar and salt in saucepan over medium heat. Bring to a boil, and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. (Start timing when mixture starts to "bubble" around edges of pan.) Remove from heat. Add marshmallows, chocolate, nuts and vanilla. Stir vigorously for 1 minute (or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended). Pour into 8-inch square buttered pan. Cool. Cut in squares.

GI's Wife Helps Promote U. S. Foods At Germany Fair

Special from Cologne, Germany—Anyone would think that the wife of a U. S. Air Force officer stationed abroad (and the mother of four voracious children) would have had her hands full without taking on another big job.

Yet Mrs. Darlene Moody recently did exactly that. She helped promote U. S. farm products last month at the largest international food fair in Europe.

Planning the menus and supervising the food served at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's exhibit at the Cologne Food Fair was something of a postman's holiday for this tall, fair-haired woman who was born in Salem, S. Dak. and who is married to Lt. Col. Robert Moody currently stationed in Brussels.

Cooking happens to be one of Mrs. Moody's specialties—and probably the principal one. Another is bridge: just recently she won the NATO Bridge Tournament in Europe. She is also very active in the life of the American community in the Belgian capital where she was president of the American Women's Club this past year.

Though Mrs. Moody takes delight in the fine food served on the Continent, she still prefers American cooking. She feeds her family—three boys and one girl—ranging from 8 to 16 years—American-style meals. When they sit down to dinner in Brussels they could be anywhere in the United States, for the meal might include pork chops, sweet potatoes, broccoli, Waldorf salad, and ice cream.

In her entertaining, it which she and her husband do quite a little. Mrs. Moody also sticks to American favorites. But this takes a little doing, especially when the dinner has to be put together unexpectedly.

Like women all over the United States, Mrs. Moody has learned to rely on the vast array of frozen, premixed and dehydrated foods that are available in every American supermarket. Very few of

TALLADEGA COLLEGE CELEBRATE FOUNDERS DAY

These so-called convenience foods are available in Brussels—though the Belgian frozen food industry is making a good start, but mostly with fruits and vegetables. So Mrs. Moody makes a 5-hour drive once a month into Germany where an American commissary is stocked with these easy to prepare products.

On Sunday afternoon Dr. Waldo Blachet, Administrative Dean of Fort Valley State College, and a 1931 cum laude graduate of Talladega, from New Orleans, will be guest speaker for the Sunday afternoon program.

Congratulations to Talladega College for 32 years of continuous service in the field of education.

SPORTIVE SEPARATES SET SEWING-FASHION PACE

by Elsie Archer

Is it true that school girls are going to be draped in layers and layers of clothing with heavy textured socks and stockings and long boots that come up to the knee? Yes! American designers and fashion experts have created a whole new look that will be seen all over the school campus...here and everywhere.

Skirts, blouses, sweaters and over-tops are no longer thought of only as the school girls outfit. These separates...worn in layers...coordinated properly make the ideal outfit for women of all ages. No matter what you expect of your wardrobe and regardless of the kind of life you live, you will find that this new sportive look is going to be the all-around look this season.

Skirts and blouses are no longer clothing incidentals. They have their own individual importance. This importance is played up by the very way they are coordinated with other "layered" or separate garments. It is also important to tie these individual pieces together to give a complete costume look.

They have always been perfectly comfortable on the school campus. And they will have an executive business-like look as they take their places during the business hours. This popular style will be seen at football games and will be worn by out-door sports enthusiasts.

Realizing that these sportive separates are flattening as well as practical, the home-sewer cannot afford to be without, at least one complete grouping. It is still not too late to get on this fashion bandwagon.

You can really go to town in making a fabric selection. Switch the colors and fabrics to please your own individual taste. For the girl returning, (or even if she's already returned) to school and wanting to start with one group of change-abouts, take a look at the navy blue and white checked vest, photographed to the right. Here, this bold checked vest is teamed up with a deep glowing cranberry red woolen skirt. With every sleeveless vest or pullover top goes a tailored skirt or classic blouse. More times than not, it is one in white crepe.

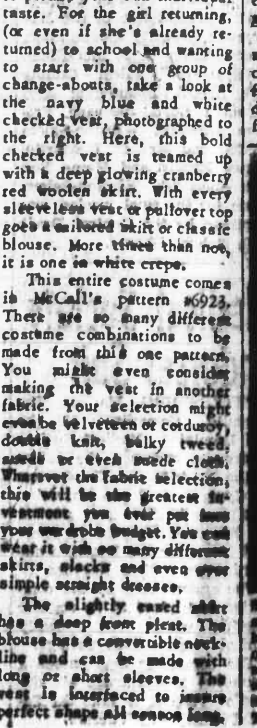

This entire costume comes in McCall's pattern #6923. There are so many different costume combinations to be made from this one pattern. You might even consider making the vest in another fabric. Your selection might even be velveteen or corduroy, double knit, bulky tweed, corduroy or even suede cloth. Whichever the fabric selection, this will be the greatest investment you ever put into your wardrobe budget. You can wear it with so many different skirts, slacks and even over simple straight dresses.

The slightly eased skirt has a deep front pleat. The blouse has a convertible neckline and can be made with long or short sleeves. The vest is designed to insure perfect shape all season long.

McCall's next Sportive look is pattern #6983. These separates have a dressed-up look and, again is destined to go anywhere. What could be a more perfect way to look while presiding at committee meetings or for a day of shopping in town? Even the school girl would be the "most" in the luscious combination of light coffee brown, beige and pink. The slim-line of the three-gore skirt is coffee brown. The straight sharp line makes perfect balance for the sweater-inspired, pull-over top and classic skirt.

The sweater look top gives the look of a handknit sweater. But with fabric bought by the yard, made from a pattern and stitched as you would on any other fabric, in no time you have a ribbed knit-look sweater. This in a soft pink beige is a beautiful combination with the pink crepe blouse. For a brightly dressy look the three-quartered sleeves are gathered into a wide band.

The "layered look", the separate look or any look you choose to call it, is the fashionable look. This look is definitely going to set the fashion pace for Fall 1963.
