HOLMAN T. PETTIFORD

The high school basketball schedule seems to get more interesting each week. If this trend is maintained, the climatic tournaments in late February and early March will be something to behold.

This week brought the first clash of Hillside's stinging Hornets with Merrick Moore's scrapping Tigers. Fayetteville's E. E. Smith at Raleigh's Ligon, Elm City's Douglass at Rocky Mount's Booker T. Washington, Southwest at Beaufort's Queen Street Clayton Cooper at Berry O'Kelly of Raleigh, State School at Lockhart Riley Hill, Selma Harrison at Garner Consolidated, Wake Forest DuBois at Apex Consolidated, Zebulon Shepard at Springfield, Garner Consolidated at Wake Forest DuBois, Raleigh's Ligon at Fayetteville's E. E. Smith, Elizabeth City's P. W. Moore at Kinston Adkin, Melver at Elm City Douglass, Wilson Darden at Greenville C. M. Epps, Wintfall Perquimans County Union at Southeastern, Berry O'Kelly at Apex Consolidated, State School at Clayton Cooper, Fuquay Consolidated at Sanford Wicker, Zebulon Shepard at Lockhart and Elizabeth City P. W. Moore at Rocky Mount Booker T. Washington.

HORNETS NIP TROJANS

The Trojans of Darden High School of Wilson started the second half of their current basketball season with a perfect 10-0 record. However, Hillside's stinging Hornets halted the string with a 60-58 decision in the Hornets Nest last Friday evening in a hard fought contest that went right down to the wire. The victory gained revenge for the coach Carl Easterling's Hornets for the 65-59 defeat handed them in Wilson earlier this season.

After the game Friday night Darden coach S. E. Gray stated that the toughest part of his schedule still remained to be played. Gray further stated that the Eastern 4-A schools are so well balanced that any one of six schools could end up in the top spot in the conference. In line for top honors in his estimation were Hillside, Ligon, E. E. Smith, Williston of Wilmington, Rocky Mount B. T. Washington and his own Trojans.

HORNET J. V. BOWS TO LIGON

Coach Willie Bradshaw's blue and white clad baby Hornets put up an awful scrap before bowing to the Ligon J. V. 43-38 in Raleigh last Tuesday evening. William Harris and Melvin Hayes produced 11 counters apiece in an effort to stave off defeat while Melvin and Branch had a 12 and 14 points spree for the encounter. The junior Hornets are 9-1 on the season. The nightcap found the varsity game a nip and tuck affair with neither team able to gain a substantial point spread. After trailing 27-20 at intermission and 38-33 at the outset of the final stanza, the Hornets cut the count to 49-46 with 1:19 left in the contest. Coach Carl Easterling got his charges off to a 6-1 lead but Ligon's Williams and Bailey went to work to erase the deficit and find the range for 20 and 10 counters respectively. The Hornets currently sport a 3-3 conference slate and a 5-5 worksheet for the season while Ligon is 5-5 also.

Thomas Long was the key to the Hornet victory in the contest against Darden Friday evening. He paced all scorers with 20 counters while George Outlaw dumped in 14. Long's two chairty tosses and clutch jump shot clinched the margin for the Durham quint. Bill Farmer paced the Darden quint with 16 points.

HILLSIDE'S J. V.'s behind the scoring efforts of Frank Brown (15 points) turned back the junior Trojans 57-37 in the preliminary.

HILLSIDE-MERRICK MOORE GAME A TOSS UP

When the Hornets host the Tigers in the Hornets Nest Friday evening, historians can throw the book away and start writing a new volume. Past records mean nothing and past games have only been the preliminary to this main attraction. Coach Harry Edmonds will take out his file this week and have the Tigers' claws good and sharp by game time. However, Hornet coach Carl Easterling won't be sitting idle while all this is going on. He plans to use a new device to whet his cagers' stingers to a fine mettle. This game will go right down to the wire with some of the finest basketball of the season in focus not to mention the masterminding of both coaches. Sports lovers of the Durham area are looking forward with wild anticipation to this attraction.

LITTLE RIVER PINS MERRICK-MOORE

Coach Ervin Johnson piloted his Busy Beavers to a 15-0 season worksheet with a 71-58 decision over coach Harry R. Edmond's scrapping Tigers Friday evening in a cross county dribble derby. Held to a tight half — 37-37 at intermission — the heavily Beavers rallied behind Medford Hawley's 25 points and Bobby McCall 13 points spree to insure the win late in the fourth and final stanza. Little River's next encounter was with Person County High of Roxboro Tuesday evening as they went after their 16th straight victory.

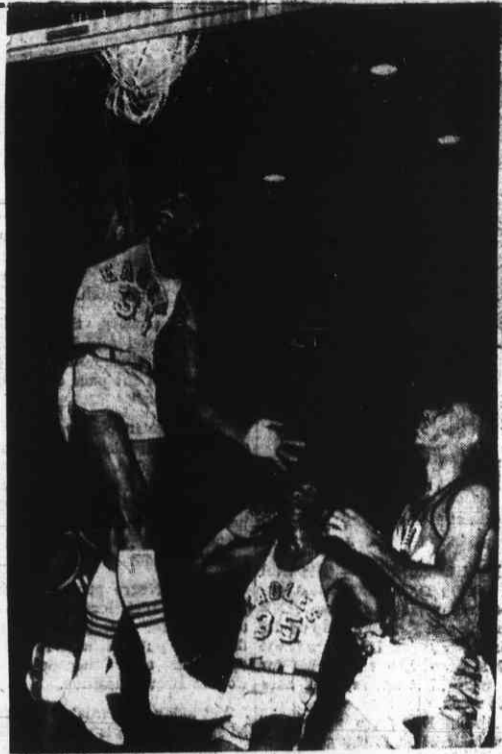

Merrick Moore's J. V. pinned Little River 45-31 in the preliminary.

WHITTED DECIDED BY WASHINGTON JR. HIGH

Whitted Junior High's Vikings dropped their first game in three starts to the talented Washington Junior of Raleigh 53-52. Dav is paced the Vikings cause with 20 points while Stone had 27 for the winners. Coach Leonard Williams had his crew ahead at intermission 29-23 but was unable to keep up the pressure until the final gun. The Vikings currently possess a 2-1 slate.

LINCOLN TRIMS SHAWTOWN

Gaining its fourth victory against five losses, Lincoln High of Chapel Hill dumped Shawtown High of Lillington 73-52 Friday evening in the Tiger's haunt. Fred Baldwin's 25 points and James Davis's 20 sparked coach W. D. Peerman's crew. William McLean hit the cords for 22 in the losers effort. In a Tuesday night battle Merrick

A FLYING EAGLE — Ted Manning, North Carolina College's leading rebounder eaps high and "dunks" a score in the Eagle's recent 83-76 win over the Virginia Union Panthers. C., national president of the organization, stated that women graduates of A. and T. Final details connected with full corporate membership by the college have been completed.

Mrs. Lucille Jewell, a member of the A. and T. faculty in the Department of English and a long time member of the Association, was named by Dr. Proctor as liaison officer between the college and the AAUW.

"On-the-Job" Training Sought By VA for Vets

WASHINGTON — Opening "on-the-job" training of disabled veterans is being sought by the Veterans Administration as the surest way to obtain permanent employment for the veteran when his training is completed.

Merely to train veterans in vocational schools or colleges accomplishes only a part of the task — they are still unemployed. Their handicaps rather than their abilities may loom large in a prospective employer's eyes. On the hand, VA officials have learned, if an employer trains the disabled veteran in his own shop, there is strong assurance that he will retain the trained veteran as a "tailor-made" employee.

The VA asks the aid of the veterans groups, employment agencies and the business world in general in locating employers who will offer disabled but ambitious veterans a chance to take training in specialized lines of work with a goal of permanent employment.

Aggies Edge Norfolk State In Cliff Hanger

GREENSBORO — The A. and T. College Aggies last week avenged an earlier defeat by edging the Norfolk State College Spartans, 51-50, in a CIAA basketball game here at the Charles-Moore Gymnasium.

More than 3,000 fans witnessed the cliff-hanger, a tight defensive struggle which saw the lead change hands 11 times in the final seven minutes of play. The low, total score for both teams was a sort of record for Moore Gymnasium. Not since the emporium was built 10 years ago have the Aggies and their opponents scored as few as 101 points.

The fired up Virginians, who had defeated the Aggies in Norfolk the week before jumped off to an 8-2 lead and held it through most of the first stanza. A. and T. mustered a scoring rally and closed the gap to two points at the end of the half, behind at 22-24.

Knocking the count, 24-all on the first play in the second period, A. and T. played catchup for the next 11 minutes.

The Aggies went ahead for good with 3:50 left in the ball game, as Warren Davis bucketed a layup and Adrian Sanders a free throw shot, resulting in a 3-point lead, 47-44, the biggest edge the locals had all night.

In those final minutes A. and T. was held to four-free throws, while the Norfolk club dumped in three-field goals, the last coming at the buzzer.

Johnny Morris and David Brown, both of State, led all scorers with 16-points each. Jim Jackson, with 14-points, was best for the Aggies.

Trial of Accused Slayer of Evers Set for Jan. 27

JACKSON, Miss. — The trial of Byron de la Beckwith, accused assassin of Medgar Evers, NAACP field secretary for the State of Mississippi, is scheduled to open here Monday, Jan. 27.

The trial date was set by Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick on Nov. 25, following the return of the accused men to Hinds County jail here. At that time District Attorney Bill Waller asked that 12 trial days be set aside for the case.

Mr. Evers was shot in the back from ambush on the night of June 11 as he was about to enter his home after attending an NAACP rally in the city. Taken to the University Hospital in Jackson, he died within an hour. The NAACP promptly offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of his slayer. Other organizations, including the City of Jacksonville, also offered rewards.

On June 24, FBI investigations led to the arrest of Beckwith who was indicted and charged with the murder. Subjected to psychiatric tests, he was adjudged mentally competent to stand trial.

A PREDICTION OF THE LISTON-CLAY FIGHT

By BRUCE G. BRIDGES: Clay is going to lose that fight, Liston's going to hit him with a mighty right!

Clay wants to be the champ. But the outlook is pretty damn! Clay says he'll get Liston in four or five. If he does, "Man Alive!" Clay thinks he is a powerhouse. But to Liston he's just a mouse! He has floored those other guys. But when he fights Liston, he's in for a surprise!

Clay is just a loudmouthed drip. And will never win the heavy-weight championship! He claims he has a beautiful tan. But he's the ugliest guy all over this land!

Liston is as strong as a bear. Where Clay's strength is, I know not where!

Clay may have a body of endurance.

But before he fights Liston, he'd better increase his insurance! Does Clay know who's in Liston's fists?

More than Chubby Creeker had in the twist!

Not long after Clay will hear the bell ring.

Around his head birds will sing! Clay is very much immature. Liston will win I'm quite sure! When Liston lands that mighty blow,

To the floor Clay will go!

Clay says Liston isn't fast.

Just how long will this kid last? Cassius Clay is not mighty enough.

To whip Sonny Liston he'll have to be tough!

To conclude this story I would say:

Cassius Clay is the Louisville lip. That Sonny Liston is gonna whip!

Is He All Right?

Happily, this time, the answer is yes. But 250,000 times each year across this country, the answer is a heartbreaking, fearful no.

Why does something go wrong when these tiny bodies are being formed? Why is a seriously defective child born to one out of every ten American families?

Can more of these children be helped with present medical knowledge? What more do we need to know to prevent this from happening to babies not yet born?

Answers to these questions are being sought in nation-wide programs supported by your contributions to The National Foundation-March of Dimes—the largest single source of private support for birth defects research and care in history. These answers will help prevent birth defects, a problem which concerns every family everywhere.
