Shaw U. President Announces Liquidation of University Debt

RALEIGH — President James E. Cheek announced Tuesday, July 14, at a special session of the Shaw University Trustee Board, that the current indebtedness of the University has been now liquidated. Today, since the Emergency Campaign was launched six months ago, Shaw has received a total of $329,405.

The trustees voted for the school to remain on its present site, and approved preliminary plans calling for the construction of high-rise building complexes for academic and residence use with plan to acquire land contiguous to the University's East Campus. The building program will enable the school to nearly double its present enrollment which was 630 during the past academic year.

Also, the trustees officially approved the sale of the West Campus building to the City of Raleigh for $205,000.

Dr. Cheek stated that the Five Million Dollar Centennial Development program will be launched during the year of the Centennial in 1965; however, preliminary plans are now underway for this project. The Centennial Development Committee is composed of representatives from the trustees, faculty, Baptist Church, alumni, friends and supporters of Shaw. The fund raising program will cover a five-year period and will underwrite the cost of the new facilities, and a completely new academic program.

Dr. Cheek said that the development program plans envision the erection of three five or six-story contemporary style building complexes to replace most of the present buildings. The first complex would be a residence center with separate wings for male and female students, and facilities for dining hall and student union.

A Learning Center with classroom facilities and a library would be the second of the buildings to be erected according to the plan. The last building under the program will be a Fine Arts Center, containing an auditorium and facilities for music, drama and art.

Dr. Cheek attributed the success of the Emergency Fund Drive to the generous responses from alumni, churches and friends of the institution throughout the state and nation. Large contributions were received from the American Baptist Convention, $40,000; Southern Baptist Convention, $10,000; and the Gulf Oil Corporation $5,000. Students from Shaw and other colleges in the city raised more than $4,500 during a two-day campaign.

The University recently received $177,000 as its share of the first distribution from the United Negro College Fund Development Campaign conducted in 1963. This money, according to the President, constitutes the first gift to the University's Centennial Development Program.

North Carolina Garden Time

By M. E. GARDNER

A request has been received concerning the proper method of handling red raspberry plants after the fruiting period has been completed. Since there is similarity in the handling of black raspberry and dewberry plants we might as well give attention to all three.

The red raspberry: Old fruiting canes should be removed immediately after the crop is harvested. Cut the old canes close to the ground. New canes (suckers) will come from root buds.

If you are using the hedge-row system of training, do not let rows become wider than about two feet. This can be done by cutting out (roots and all) suckers as they appear. If you are using the hill system, save 8-10 canes for the 1965 crop around each stake.

The black raspberry: Remove the fruiting canes after harvest. This plant does not "sucker" from root buds as the new canes originate at the base or crown of the plant. When the new canes are two or three feet in height, pinch out the tip of each new cane. This will destroy apical dominance and cause branching. Branching is desirable for two reasons: In the first place pinching will result in a low stocky plant; and secondly, the yield should be better the following year.

The dewberry: Old fruiting canes should be removed after harvest as was the case with the red and black raspberries. There are two methods employed depending upon where your planting is located in the state.

In the lower Piedmont and Coastal Plain, all canes (old and new) are removed at the crown or base of the plant. The growing season in these regions is long enough to produce sufficient new canes for a good crop in 1965. This procedure at

American Teachers Association To Hold 61st Annual Convention

ATLANTA, Ga.—Approximately 1000 teachers from twenty states are expected to converge on Atlanta for the 61st annual convention of the American Teachers Association scheduled for Taft Hall

July 27-29. The convention theme is "Education: Freedom's Tool." Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, is the keynote. Also scheduled for major addresses are the president of the 38,000-member organization, Dr. J. Rupert Picott, also executive secretary of the Virginia Teachers Association; Dr. Richard V. Moore, president of Bethune-Cookman College and immediate past president of ATA; and State Senator Constance Baker Motley, of New York, who will speak at the convention banquet at the Atlanta American Motor Hotel as the climactic feature of the three-day confab.

A series of workshops will focus on current problems in education: Programmed Instruction, The Non-Graded School, "Drop-Outs," Citizenship, Textbook Revision, and Teacher Competence and Evaluation.

Also listed among workshop directors and chairmen are the following: Dr. Augustus Adair, Morgan State College; Dr. Norman R. Dixon, Southern U.; Dr. Neill Sullivan, superintendent of Prince Edward County (Virginia) Free School Association and superintendent-elect of the public schools of Berkeley, California; Mrs. Rosa Willis, field secretary for the Virginia Teachers Association; Dr. Geo. W. Brooks, Dean of the Division of Graduate Studies, South Carolina State A. and M. College; Dr. H. A. Marshall, Norfolk Division of Virginia State College; Dr. Harry Johnson, Virginia State College; Dr. Walter N. Ridley, president of Elizabeth City (N.C.) State Teachers College; Richard Mendonhall, U. S. Department of Labor; Dr. Horace Mann Bond, dean of Atlanta University's School of Education; Dr. Walter I. Murray, Brooklyn College; and Dr. H. E.
