Over Million for 2 White Schools $175,000 For 1 Negro School

Negro leadership circles were rocked Wednesday when it was announced by the County Board of Education that $175,000 of a $7.5 million school bond was allocated for Pearisontown School, while two white schools were earmarked for improvements totaling $1,250,000.

The information, revealed by Lester Smith, county school business manager, aroused charges of inequity in the distribution of school funds.

Smith said a gymnasium and eight classrooms will be financed with the money earmarked for Pearisontown. Final plans are now complete and will be presented for the board's approval Monday.

An auditorium and 30 classrooms costing some $750,000 are scheduled for Jordan Junior-Senior High School, and a gymnasium and about 22 classrooms will be constructed at Carrington Junior High School at a cost of some $500,000 according to the announcement. Work at all three schools is expected to be complete before the 1965-66 school year begins.

According to Smith, the new classrooms will relieve crowded conditions at Carrington, and the additional classrooms at Jordan will provide space to add the seventh grade to that school which now has grades eight through 12. The seventh grade was said necessary to complete the junior-senior high school.

Hillside Park Residents Start Paving Drive

In an all-out effort to hasten the paving of the dusty and rocky portion of East Alton Street between Janet and Otis streets, the residents of this section will meet Sunday, September 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hines, 109 East Alton St. at 4:00 P. M. to map plans for a paving drive.

This unpaved portion of Alton Street has long been an eye-sore to visitors as well as residents of this community.

Many of the residents complain of being unable to open their windows and doors for fear of having their furniture covered with the yellow dust stirred up when automobiles enter or leave this section.

This exclusive section was begun some years ago by the Greenberg Construction Co. Many of the residents who purchased homes in this development being led to believe that the entire section would be paved.

The students who leave or enter this portion of the street to and from school find great difficulty on rainy days trying to walk through this section without having their shoes caked with yellow mud.

City Councilman J. S. Stewart was to have been present at this meeting but for a previous commitment will be unable to attend. However, he has offered his wholehearted support to the drive, and has promised to be present for the next meeting.

Dr. Samuel D. Proctor Named to Nat'l Council of Churches Position

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Dr. Samuel D. Proctor, associate director of the Peace Corps, has been named general director of interpretation of the National Council of Churches, it was announced this week by the Council's general secretary, Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy. His appointment becomes effective Sept. 14.

Dr. Proctor comes to the National Council from the Peace Corps, with which he has been associated for the past two years. In his new post he succeeds Dr. Murray S. Stedman, Jr., who has resigned to join the faculty of Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., as head of its Government Department.

"The appointment of so distinguished an American and churchman as Dr. Proctor," Dr. Espy said. "His experience as a leader in the church, the Negro community and the Federal Government, together with his years of service in the field of education, eminently qualifies him for significant contributions in the cooperative church movement."

As general director of interpretation, Dr. Proctor will assist and advise the general secretary and other National Council staff "in matters of public relations, representation and interpretation," he will assume leadership in formulating common position statements for use in interpreting past or continuing activities of the Council," Dr. Espy said.

An ordained minister of the American Baptist Convention, Dr. Proctor was president of the Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina, Greensboro, until 1962, when he left to become Peace Corps representative to Director Sergeant Shriver. In 1963 he was named associate director of the Peace Corps, with responsibility for administering its volunteer program.

Before assuming the presidency of the Agricultural and Technical College, Dr. Proctor served for 11 years in academic and administrative

All-White Jury Frees Sheriff of Beating Charge

GREENSBORO — An all-white Grand Jury, on hearing the case of a Durham County Deputy Sheriff accused of the unprovoked beating of a Durham County citizen, found "no true bill" in the case here Sept. 3.

The deputy, I. E. Jacobs, had been accused of beating with his rightstick Edward Evans, 43, last January in the back yard of the deputy's home. During the beating Evans' arm was fractured by a blow from the nightstick according to a physician who examined him immediately following the incident.

Testimony indicated that Jacobs and Bill Jones, another Deputy Sheriff, went to Evans' home on the afternoon of January 25 and demanded that Evans get into the car they were driving. Assuming he had committed a traffic violation while driving home, he accused

Philadelphia In Lead as Vote Drive Opens

NEW YORK — Leading the NAACP's nationwide registration drive is the Philadelphia branch which has added more than 53,000 names to the voters' rolls in that city over a period of six weeks.

By the time registration closes on Sept. 14, "We will have increased the number of Negro voters in this city by at least 100,000." Cecil Moore, president of the Philadelphia NAACP, confidently predicted. The drive, he said, had been interrupted by the disturbances the weekend of Aug. 28-30, "but our workers are back now getting our people registered."

Reports received in the National Office of the NAACP indicate a steadily mounting momentum in the most extensive registration drive ever undertaken by the Association.

Four staff members are devoting full time to this effort which Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins has called the Association's No. 1 project. They are Miss Althea Simmons who was brought to New York from her post in Los Angeles to head up and coordinate the nationwide drive; Calvin D. Banks, operating out of New York City for the non-southern states; John Brooks, based at Richmond, Va., and W. C. Patton at Memphis, for the southern states.

Thousands of volunteers have been enlisted by the branches throughout the country to carry on the sometimes tedious work of setting people to go to the registration offices in order to be able to vote in the presidential election. These volunteers, on whom the success of the drive depends, execute a wide range of tasks—getting lists of unregistered citizens, door-to-door canvassing, making telephone calls, addressing and stuffing envelopes, handing out literature, and the like.

The drive embraces not only the
