Record Number Vote In State as Johnson Wins

Veteran political observers, on observing Tuesday's election results stated Wednesday that the Negro vote was unmistakably the key to Democratic victories in Durham County and in the state.

Statewide, some 260,000 Negroes are registered and an estimated 200,000—a record-breaking turnout—went to polling places Tuesday with the majority supporting candidates representing the Democratic Party. Though aware that estimates placed the Negro vote going to Dan K. Moore in the gubernatorial race at 95 per cent, the observers indicated that with a mere 75 per cent of the Negroes favoring Moore, he would have gained 150,000 votes.

At the county level, it was stated that Robert Gavin, the Republican candidate, would have defeated his mountain-born opponent in Durham by 15,000 to 17,000 votes if Gavin had been the Negro voters' choice.

Ellis Jones, Sr., chairman of the Sub-Committee on Politics of the Durham Committee on Negro Affairs, expressed approval on noting the large number of citizens who went to the polls and indicated his organization was well pleased with the results.

John Wheeler, general chairman of the organization, also voiced satisfaction concerning the turnout and election results. In addition to supporting Moore, the Durham Committee also backed President Johnson and Hubert Humphrey who were listed with 22,864 votes in Durham County's See DEMOCRATS, 4A

KKK Activity On Rise in State Claims SCEF

NEW ORLEANS—Ku Klux Klan activity in North Carolina has been rising with the continued increase of voter registration by Negro citizens of that state. The New York Times of September 9 says the state now has the largest and strongest Klan organization in 40 years.

Klansmen have been most active in the northeastern part of the state, particularly in Halifax County. This is where John R. Salter, Jr., SCEF field organizer, has been helping Negroes to register and vote.

Crosses are burned in great numbers and Klansmen roam the Negro sections of the cities and towns. Although the robed men threaten Negro leaders, none are ever arrested. Neither have police made any effort to protect Negro cities from possible violence.

Salter and Negro leaders have complained to the mayor of Enfield and the sheriff of Halifax County. They sent copies of their complaints to federal and state officials. There has been no response.

It becomes obvious that nothing will be done by these officials without help from friends elsewhere in the nation.

You are urged to send letters and telegrams demanding an end of this Klan activity, which is in violation of state and federal laws. Address communications to Harry Branch, Chairman, Halifax County Board of Commissioners, Enfield, N. C. Copies should go to Gov. Terry Sanford, State Capitol, Raleigh, and to Burke Marshall, Civil Rights Div. U. S. Dept. of Justice, Washington, D. C. Also please ask friends to act.

Teacher Segregation In N. C. Schools Argued

BALTIMORE, Md. — Two cases challenging the legality of continued teacher segregation in North Carolina public schools were argued before the Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit here today by NAACP Legal Defense Fund attorneys.

Both appeals grew out of attempts by North Carolina Negroes to speed the desegregation process in Statesville and Buncombe County. Legal Defense Fund lawyers James M. Nabrit III and Derrick A. Bell, Jr., presented the arguments today.

The Legal Defense Fund attorneys have both specialized in school desegregation cases for many years, in addition to their efforts to defend peaceful demonstrators, to end segregation in hospitals, public facilities, and urban renewal projects and to secure the enforcement of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Teacher assignment on the basis of race has been repeatedly declared unconstitutional by other Federal Courts. Last spring the U. S. Supreme Court upheld this view when it refused to consider a similar case from Florida, thus supporting the Legal Defense Fund's contention teacher segregation has ill effects on both the pupils and their mentors.

The Statesville and Buncombe County cases are among 83 school suits currently on the Legal Defense Fund docket. In each of the cases argued today, issues other than teacher segregation were considered as well. In the Statesville action, Legal Defense Fund lawyers challenged a lower court ruling that allowed the school board to continue its policy of requiring Negroes to request transfers and delaying ac-
