

BENNETT GETS NSF GRANT FOR ANNUAL SEMINAR

GREENSBORO—A grant of $23,745 from the National Science Foundation, Washington, D. C., will enable Bennett College to hold its seventh annual summer institute in science and mathematics for high ability high school students.

The program, scheduled for six weeks during June and July, will again be directed by Dr. Henry Sayles, chairman of the college's science division.

Qualified high school juniors and seniors are eligible for the institute and instruction will be offered in biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics. An enrollment of around 80 is anticipated.

OLDER AMERICANS Enjoy Travel in India

In India, the furry little mongoose is a hero. Bristling with speed and anger, he kills dangerous snakes, particularly the deadly cobra. In this picture, a group of older American travelers are absorbed in a mongoose v. cobra demonstration being given by a snake charmer in historic Benares, India.

A Matter of Tender Meat

Anyone who has ever tried to gnaw his way through a piece of tough, stringy beef can appreciate the unique tenderizing process used on a Japanese farm about 200 miles from Tokyo. To speed fattening and help tenderize the meat every calf is given six quarts of beer a day—straight from the bottle so it can't have a chance to go flat. The cattle are also given daily massages to help ensure tenderness.

In addition to classes, laboratory periods, seminars and films, the students will also take a number of field trips to places of scientific interest in the state and will also visit in the nation's capital.

Barnhill Named County Employee For Year of 1964

CHARLOTTE—Howard C. Barnhill, health educator with Mecklenburg County Health Department and president of A&T College General Alumni Association was last week judged the "Most Valuable County Employee for 1964."

The award, a plaque was presented by the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce, under its "Know Your Government" Program in special ceremonies at a meeting of the Mecklenburg County Board of Commissioners.

The first of his race to receive the award, Barnhill was selected after a number of county workers had been nominated by their fellow employees.

Barnhill was cited for his work, particularly with teenagers, and with special low income groups, health councils.

He has served as president of the North Carolina Association of Health Educators and was recently named a member of the Executive Committee of the North Carolina Public Health Association.

A native of Greenville, N. C., he graduated from A&T College in 1936.

Mrs. Lampkin Honored By NCNW in N. Y.

NEW YORK—Mrs. Daisy Lampkin, former member of the National NAACP Board of Directors, was one of those distinguished persons honored by the National Council of Negro Women at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here, December 22.

The council's first Eleanor Roosevelt-Mary McLeod Bethune World Citizenship Award was conferred upon her.

Because of illness, Mrs. Lampkin was unable to accept the award in person. It was accepted on her behalf by Miss Lena Horne, the celebrated singer and actress.

In presenting the award, Adlai Stevenson, chief of the United States delegation to the United Nations, cited the many valuable contributions made by Mrs. Lampkin in her various activities, including the chairmanship of the NCNW's Educational Foundation.

Also honored at the NCNW's annual international debutante citizenship cotillion were Alex Quaison-Sackey, first black African to head the General Assembly of the United Nations, and Representative Edith Green of Oregon.

Mrs. Lampkin was stricken while conducting an NAACP membership campaign in Camden, N. J., last October. She is now recuperating at her home in Pittsburgh.

ASC Elections in Miss. Contested By SNCC; Charges Intimidation

MOBILE, MISS.—Recent Agricultural Stabilization Committee Community elections in Mississippi which saw five Negroes elected to committee posts for the first time, will be contested because "more Negroes might have won if there had not been such intimidation and discrimination," Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) worker said here.

Cleveland Sellers, SNCC project director here, said Negro farmers from Holmes, Issaquena, Madison, Panola and Marshall Counties had decided to contest the December

North Carolina Garden Time

Wise pruning of trees and shrubs improves the general appearance and neatness of a home landscape by maintaining, as nearly as possible, the natural growth habits of the plants; correcting damage caused by accidental injury or ice breakage; confining plants to a desired space, if necessary; stimulating the growth of flowers, fruits and foliage; and shaping plants to some desired pattern. Remember that every plant has character represented by growth habit and leaf, stem, bark, flower, or fruit color.

An understanding of the fruit or flower bearing habits of the plant is essential before one can prune intelligently. The spring blooming woody plants produce their flowers from buds already formed on wood produced in 1964 and remaining dormant over winter. This is true of lilac, forsythia, wisteria, weigelia and deutzia. The proper time to prune these plants is just after they bloom because early spring or late fall pruning would remove the buds.

The summer blooming plants such as hybrid perpetual roses, crepe myrtle, bunch and Muscadine grapes will produce their flowers on shoots produced early in 1965 and frequently referred to as the current season's growth.

Try to avoid "dehorning" or heavy cutting back. It is much better to practice what I call deep pruning. This is removal of carefully selected entire limbs or branches. If you use this method, it is much easier to control growth and maintain the general growth characteristics of your plants.

Except for the early spring flowering plants, the best time to prune is during the winter or dormant season. However, light corrective pruning can be done at any time of the year on both evergreen and deciduous plants.

Needy Miss. Families Get Xmas Turkeys

JACKSON, Miss.—Needy families throughout the state began receiving free Christmas turkeys Wednesday, Dec. 23, as a result of a "Christmas in Mississippi" project promoted by comedian Dick Gregory and newspaper columnist Drey Pearson.

Aiding in the distribution of the 20,000 turkeys were state and local officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The officials included Charles Evers, Mississippi field director; Dr. Aaron E. Henry, president of the Association's state organization; Dr. Gilbert W. Mason and Dr. Felix H. Dunn, Biloxi and Gulfport NAACP presidents, respectively.

Funds to purchase the turkeys were raised at a benefit in Chicago at which Broadway star Sammy Davis, Jr., and other nationally known entertainers participated. World-famous gospel singer Mahalia Jackson was an honorary chairman of the affair.

Dr. Darity is Emancipation Day Speaker

WELDON—Rev. G. A. Gilchrist, President of the local NAACP said this week, "The Annual Emancipation Celebration program sponsored each year by the local NAACP organization on New Year's Day will be held as usual. The meeting will be held at the Ralph J. Bunche High School, Weldon, at 7:30 P.M., January 1."

The speaker this year will be Dr. William A. Darity, Director of Program Development, under the North Carolina Fund.

Dr. Darity is a native of North Carolina and was educated in the schools of North Carolina. He received the B.S. degree from Shaw University, Master of Science from North Carolina College and the Ph.D. degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. Darity has worked with the World Health Organization, a specialized agency of the United Nations for a period of ten years. During this period he served in Syria, Jordan, Egypt, Palestine, Tunisia, Israel and many other countries in the Middle East.

Dr. Darity is presently employed as Director of Program Development of the North Carolina Fund, a Private Non-Profit Organization concerned with the Promotion of Anti-Poverty Programs. The record shows a high rate of poverty and Man-Power Revolution in Halifax and Northampton counties. Tools are available to combat these evil forces. The public is invited to attend this important meeting and hear Dr. Darity of the N. C. Fund.

Mrs. Baldwin Hostess to Rosedale Club

The Rosedale Avenue Community Club met at the home of Mrs. Beola Baldwin December 17 at 8:00 P.M.

The president, Mrs. Nottie Curry, presided over the business session. The meeting was opened with a Christmas poem, after which, the club sang Christmas carols. MONEY 'ROUND THE WORLD

HONG KONG

Ever since it was ceded by China to Britain after the Opium War in 1842, the bustling island of Hong Kong has been the first Oriental port-of-call for most world travelers. It's a flourishing city today, where ancient customs and modern hotels, eastern traditions and western influences blend harmoniously.

The basis of Hong Kong money is the Hong Kong dollar (HK$). Approx. six HK dollars equal one US dollar. Paper currency is issued in 1, 5, 10, 100, and 500 denominations and there are 5, 10 and 50 cent HK coins. There are 100 HK cents to the HK dollar. One of the greatest attractions for visitors to Hong Kong is the duty free shopping. When you shop in Hong Kong, overcome your currency problem by using First National City Bank Travelers Checks. You'll find that they are both helpful and a safety precaution wherever you travel.
