SOAP BOX DERBY DEADLINE IS SET

Some 50 Durham boys are busily engaged applying finishing touches to their racers for the annual Soap Box Derby, an event to be held on the Trinity Avenue hill going west in front of the YMCA building on July 4.

The deadline for the cars to be ready is Wednesday, June 30. That is the day the cars must be placed at the Naval Reserve Armory on Foster Street. The racers will be inspected on June 30 and July 1-2.

The trial runs for the race will be held on July 3. They will be held at the race site.

The derby is sponsored by the Durham Junior Chamber of Commerce, Carpenter's, and the Herold and Sun papers. Two more Friday night clinics will be held in the council room at the City Hall. The clinics are designed to assist the boys in building their racers.

On the Saturday night before the big race, at a site yet to be selected, members of the Durham Jaycees will stage a banquet for boys who will compete in the derby.

Lynn Campbell is the general chairman of the derby. The instruction at the clinics has been handled by Ronnie Ferrell.

Darryl Holeman was the winner last year and represented Durham in the All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio.

Pres. of Band and C Firm Addresses Morticians Meet

STATESVILLE—Robt. J. Brown, President of the B and C Associates in High Point, served as the keynote speaker for the 38th Annual Convention of the N. C. Morticians and Funeral Directors, Tuesday, June 8, in Statesville.

During his speech, Brown told his audience, "The Civil Rights Bill is not a 'cure all' for the Negro community or the Negro business. It brings with it a greater responsibility. It also makes it mandatory that the Negro improve his business and community which, in essence, will give rise to greater incentive among Negro youth to meet the challenge of today and the future."

The remarks of Brown were made at the opening session of the convention in the Unity High School.

The opening session's activities included Organ Melodies by Della Dafford; Invocation by Rev. Howard Irvin; and welcoming remarks by the Mayor of Statesville, V. G. Bagnol.

Voting

tion on voting and registration conditions as of November 4, 1964. So a change in Mississippi's voting laws at this date will probably not affect the impact of the Federal Voting Bill on the state. It is therefore likely that this action by Governor Johnson is aimed at improving Mississippi's image in order to gain public support for the state in the issue of the Challenge to the seating of Mississippi's five Congressmen by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party.

This is not the first time the State Legislature has attempted to meet a civil rights "crisis" in Mississippi. In the spring of 1964, with the Council of Federated Organizations (COFO) Summer Project impending, the Legislature considered 37 bills aimed at stifling civil rights activities. Eight of these were passed. Among the eight was an "anti-leafleting law," "Municipal Agreement Act" which all 13 municipalities to remove police forces during "riots or civil disturbances" and an appropriation of $50,000 to the State Sovereignty Commission for the purpose of fighting the 1964 Civil Rights Bill, which was before Congress at the time.

With the 1965 Voting Bill pending, and the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party's Challenge to unseat the five Mississippi Congressmen moving into its final stage, Mississippi again faces a "crisis."

The Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) plans to protest the convening of the special session of the Legislature, set to begin June 1, by urging people from all over the state to come to Jackson during the session. MFDP members and supporters will make known their objection to the fact that the State Legislators, like the five Congressmen, were not elected by all the people. They also call for Free and Open Elections following the passage of the Voting Bill.

Shows Most Whites Would Not Move if Negroes Moved Next Door

NEW YORK—Eight in ten white Americans say they would not move or sell their homes if a Negro family moved in next door, a survey revealed this week.

This was the answer to a question posed in a special Gallup poll conducted by a magazine. Results of the survey appear in an article, "America's Mood Today," published in the current issue of Look.

Significantly, only 23 per cent of white Southerners declared they would move, indicating that people visited the World's Fair, the United in the South have been more deeply affected by the race issue than most Americans realize.

The willingness to accept Negroes as neighbors was even more emphatic among the nation's white teenagers. Only 11 percent said they would want their parents to move or sell their homes. Again on the issue of race, the pollsters found that nearly five times as many Americans now consider integration the country's major concern as when a similar survey was conducted five years ago.

In the area of civil rights, white

Americans unequivocally support the Negro case, according to the poll in Look. Some six in ten adult Americans favor Federal action in the Negro's behalf, and among teen-agers, support is even stronger.

In answer to a question on voting rights, two out of three Americans feel that the Federal Government should intervene to secure the vote for Negroes in communities that seek to deny this right.

Support for Government intervention among whites is strongest in the East, Midwest and West, but a surprising number of Southerners—48 per cent—also favor Government intervention to "secure the vote for Negroes. The reaction among the nation's teen-agers is again even more pronounced.

"The reaction of our white majority to the persistent Negro challenge strongly suggests that while the little men of our land have been making the ugly headlines, most Americans have been doing some basic thinking," the article said.

Y. P. H. A.

The Y. P. H. A. discussed unity among themselves. This is where unity started, when Jesus was asked to sum up His concept of religious law. He said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. . . . Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Love is that which harmonizes, integrates, and unites. Love is unity. Unity is what religion is about. Love breaks down all barriers, destroys all walls, fill in all gulfs, wipes all sense of separation and isolation. Love makes possible the awakening of the higher consciousness in man and leads man to a first hand experience of God.
