

Last Rites Held For Young Man Killed By Shotgun Blast

YOUNG BOY DROWNS IN WATER HOLE

11-Year Old Couldn't Swim Loses Life In Try

An 11-year-old boy drowned in 10 feet of water Monday morning after he jumped into a rain-swollen pit of Borden Brick and Tile Co., on Hoover Road to cool off.

Durham County Coroner Dr. D. R. Perry, stated the youth, Donald Ray Gulley, of 2408 Kate Street, was dead when he was pulled from the water shortly after 11 a. m.

Gulley had gone with three other youths to pick dewberries and after they had finished and were returning home they passed the water hole. One of the youths, Melvin Council, 14, of 621 King St., said as they reached the pit Gulley, undressed and jumped in.

Council told authorities he attempted to save Gulley but his efforts were fruitless.

Two members of the Durham Rescue Squad, Ronald Riggsbee and Norman Leathers, who are scuba divers as well as firemen, recovered the body after probing the 6-by-100-foot water hole. "It was a rather treacherous place," Riggsbee said, "with its rocky bottom and numerous dropoffs."

Raymond, Gulley, father of the victim, was present when the body was brought to the surface. He revealed that his son could not swim.

A Borden foreman, Earl Travis, was quoted by Sheriff's Deputy T. C. Leary as stating the hole used as a catch basin, was posted, and that youths seeking a swimming place are often chased away.

The Deputy said he was told the hole was usually kept pumped out but the vandals had broken one pump and another was in the process of being installed when the drowning occurred.

Massie Speaks To Summer School Group

Dr. Samuel P. Massie, president of North Carolina College, discussed the obligations of citizens and institutions in the Great Society as he delivered the principal address at the college's summer session assembly Wednesday, June 16.

The assembly, held in the B. N. Duke Auditorium, is the only one scheduled for the summer.

Speaking on the obligations for education in the Great Society, Massie said that individuals must inquire: "For value received—that is, for the choice of a good life—what do we promise to pay?"

First, he said, there is the obligation of the individual, who should make extra efforts toward personal and intellectual development.

A special obligation is also placed upon those who teach, he continued. "You have a special opportunity and responsibility, for the students of this generation—the students whom you teach—have the greatest opportunity for service that any generation of Negro youth has ever had."

A third group facing special obligations, he stated, consists of schools and colleges, and a fourth comprises the state and the nation. "The passage of the greatest appropriation for education by the federal government in the history of our nation, the large appropriation by the General Assembly—all testify to the awareness of the great needs of education.

Mary Ann, Mary Louise, Mary Catherine, Mary Alice

Fultz Quads Now Co-eds At Bethune-Cookman College

DATONA BEACH—Bethune-Cookman College has a quadruple treat in its freshman class—the attractive and talented Fultz Quadruplet from Milton, N. C.

The four girls, just past their 19th birthday, registered Tuesday for B-CC's summer term. They were graduated two weeks ago from Caswell County High School, Yanceyville, N. C.

Music is the Fultz' talent and they have their own string quartet. Mary Louise and Mary Catherine play the violin, Mary Ann, the viola, and Mary Alice, the cello. All of the girls plan to be music majors and to become music instructors. They have given several concerts in Virginia and North Carolina.

Although some parents might shudder at the thought of having four daughters of the same age, their adopted mother, Mrs. Charles A. Saylor who with her husband accompanied the girls to Daytona Beach, says she has enjoyed bringing up her four girls. The only problem she said, was that all growing pains were multiplied four times.

The Saylor's adopted the quads in 1956 when the girls' parents were no longer able to care for them.

Another problem has been protecting the quads from publicity so they could have a normal childhood, she added. The girls have been sponsored from birth by a milk company and

See QUADS Page 2A

Funeral for Shotgun Victim Held At First Calvary Bapt. Church

Funeral services for Frank Draper Brown II, 21, who was killed by a shot-gun blast Friday, were held Tuesday at the First Calvary Baptist Church with the Rev. A. L. Thompson delivering the eulogy.

William Charles Hogan was being held by police in connection with the death. According to police officers, Brown was sitting on a trunk at Hogan's home, 1207 Morehead Ave., when he was shot with a 12 gauge shot-gun about 8 p. m. Friday. The victim, who had been visiting the home, was pronounced dead on arrival at Duke Hospital.

The 29-year-old suspect was detained without privilege of bond. He was quoted by officer R. G. Sullivan as saying the shot-gun accidentally fired as he picked it up after it had been dropped to the floor. An alleged witness to the incident was still being sought by the police at press time.

BROWN

Brown, the son of Mrs. Ruby Lee Hughes of 1010 Proctor St., and the late Frank Brown Jr., was a graduate of Hillside High. See BROWN Page 2A

Opera Singer Awarded NAACP Spingarn Medal

LEONTYNE PRICE RECIPIENT OF ANNUAL PRIZE

NEW YORK—(By special wire to Carolina Times) Leontyne Price, celebrated opera singer, has been chosen the 50th Spingarn Medalist, NAACP executive director Roy Wilkins announced this week.

Because Miss Price will be unable to attend the NAACP annual convention in Denver, June 28-3, presentation of the medal will be made at a later time, probably this fall.

The Spingarn Medal was instituted in 1914 by the late J. E. Spingarn to be awarded annually to Negro Americans for distinguished achievement. Among previous winners of the coveted gold medal are Roy Wilkins, Ralph J. Bunche, Martin Luther King, Carl Murphy, Marian Anderson, Thurgood Marshall, Jackie Robinson, Mrs. Daisy Bates and the "Little Rock Nine," Langston Hughes, Robert C. Weaver and Duke Ellington.

Miss Price has won worldwide acclaim for her performances in leading opera houses of Europe and America.

NEXT WEEK

A Colorful 12-page Magazine Section "National Scene" will be included in our July 3 issue

The Carolina Times

THE TRUTH UNBRIEDED

VOLUME 42 — No. 24

DURHAM, N. C.—SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1965

PRICE 15 Cents

Massive Voter Registration Drive Launched By SCLC

Dr. King Heads Ga. Campaign

ATLANTA—The most comprehensive voter registration project was launched here this by the SCLC headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The project was officially opened with the arrival here last Sunday of university instructors and students from campuses throughout the nation.

The academic volunteers were here for six-days of intensive orientation for SCLC's Summer Community Organization and Political Education Project, called (SCOPE).

SCOPE is under the direction of Hosea L. Williams, a key aide to SCLC President Dr. M. L. King. Williams a veteran of many voter registration campaigns in the south, also directed the triumphant Selma to Montgomery March.

The six-day orientation session in which some of the nation's prominent scholars, labor leaders and government officials were involved, was headed by Bayard Rustin, executive director of the A. Phillip Randolph Institute in New York.

Associate director to Rustin was Norman Hill, former program director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and now with the Industrial Union Department, AFL-CIO, Wash., D. C.

Morris Brown College served as headquarters for the orientation sessions. However, other See DRIVE Page 2A

It became a family affair as David S. Coley, right manager of the Greensboro District of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, was last week honored as "Manager of the Year" in the annual competition among the company's 33 district offices. At left are W. A. Clement, Durham, vice-president and agency director, who presented the plaque and delivered the dinner address, and Mrs. Clement and at right center is Mrs. Coley.

CIVIL RIGHTS AND

Poverty To Feature NAACP Convention

Operation Breakthrough Offices Move to Scarborough Building

The neighborhood center of Operation Breakthrough's "Target Area A" has been moved from 215 Ramseur St. to the former quarters of the Southeastern Business College over the Scarborough and Hargett Funeral Home on Pettigrew Street, according to Howard Fuller, chief coordinator for that area.

The new three-floor location, Fuller said, provides enough space not only for his staff's offices, but also for various classes, community meetings and perhaps even some game activities.

"We feel fortunate to have this location it can easily be reached by those we want to serve," Fuller said. "We hope the people in our target area will feel the center is theirs, for it is; and our success is going to depend heavily upon their taking part. It also has not come to 'give away' anything, but only to help those willing to help themselves to have a better life."

Fuller further revealed that he hopes to hire next fall about 20 people who live in the target area. These people would work out of the Pettigrew St. office as home makers, health aides, directors of tutorial centers, teacher's aides and recruiters for adult education and job placements.

"Target Area A" covers an area containing about 10,000 residents, and includes the Hayti, Hillside Park, McDougald Terrace and Morehead Avenue Negro communities.

55th Annual Session To Convene In Denver, Colorado

NEW YORK—Major emphasis of the 56th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to be held in Denver, Col., June 28-July 3, will be placed on implementation of civil rights and anti-poverty legislation.

The convention, which is expected to draw approximately 1,500 delegates, will also focus on the challenge presented by President Johnson in his address at Howard University, "To Fulfill These Rights," school desegregation, political action, employment and housing.

Several major addresses are scheduled for the six-day convention which will meet at the Denver Hilton Hotel. The keynote address on Monday night, June 28, will be delivered by NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins.

Other speakers will include Wiley A. Branton, executive secretary of the President's Council on Equal Opportunity; Bishop Stephen G. Spottwood, chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors; Mrs. (Pat) Roberts Harris, U. S. Ambassador to Luxembourg; Mal Goode, ABC-TV news correspondent; and Dr. Buell Gallagher, president of the College of New York and a member of the NAACP Board of Directors.

New features of this year's convention will include a branch problem clinic to be held daily for delegates with special organizational problems a Leadership Development In-

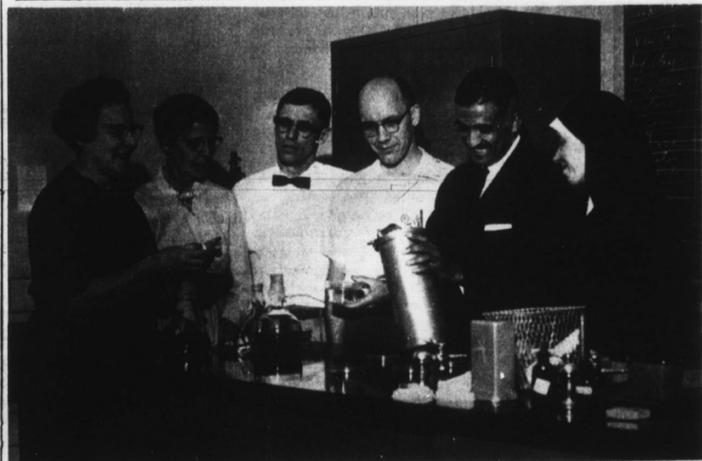

MRS. HUSBAND

Mrs. Husband's Funeral To Be Held Jun. 25

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Husband, 70, wife of J. M. Husband, 620 Dunbar St., will be held at the Covenant Presbyterian Church, Friday, June 25, at 4:00 p. m. The Rev. J. W. Smith, pastor, will officiate.

See MRS. HUSBAND on 2A

SCIENTISTS AT NCC—This group of "students" and teachers all holders of doctoral degrees, examine laboratory equipment used in microbiology for growing bacteria with and without air as an activity of North Carolina College's National Science Foundation Institute in microbiology for college teachers. Among the 33 teachers enrolled in the institute eight hold earned doctoral degrees. Left to right: Dr. Neil Hirschberg, NCC Professor of Biology and director of the Institute; Dr. Anna B. Fisher, Northwestern State College (Oklahoma); Dr. John Shibley, La Grange College (Georgia); Dr. Paul R. Shilling, Hartwick College (New York); NCC President, Samuel P. Massey and Sister Marie B. Witte, Marian College (Indiana).

Ask to End Exclusion of Poor From Jury Duty

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Supreme Court was asked today to end exclusion of the poor from the nation's jury rolls by attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund. "Exclusion of poor persons as a class, because of their inability to serve without pay on state criminal juries, is a violation of the 14th Amendment," Fund attorneys asserted. The Supreme Court was asked to review this issue in con-

See COURT Page 2A