BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA MEETING OF NAACP TO STRESS POLITICS

NEW YORK — The NAACP will place major attention at its September weekend meeting in Birmingham, Ala., on the teaching of the "ABC's of practical politics," it was announced this week.

A special workshop will be held on political action at the two-day conference, September 11-12, which is expected to draw hundreds of NAACP delegates from all over the country. There will be a regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors in Birmingham following the two-day meeting on Monday, Sept. 13.

United Nations Under Secretary Ralph Bunche will deliver the main address at the Sunday afternoon mass rally and closing meeting of the conference.

Executive Director Roy Wilkins will be the speaker at the Human Rights dinner, Saturday night, Sept. 11, in the Birmingham municipal auditorium.
