resolution that would unseat the Mississippi Congressional delegation on the ground that it was elected by the "systematic exclusion of Negroes from the election process in Mississippi.'

The civil liberties organization released the text of a mem orandum sent to every Conthe challegene which was initiated last fall by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Par-

The contest was brought under a section of the Constitution which provides that the House is to "be judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members. After months of legal sparring, including the taking of depositions in Mississippi by both sides, an elections sub committee of the House Administration Committee will hold a hearing on the issue tomorrow (Sept. 13). The subcommittee will hear a motion made by four of the five Missippi Congressmen to dismiss the complaint. It is expected that the matter will be reported to the House for floor ac tion later this week.

The ACLU memorandum charged that denial of voting rights to Mississippi Negroes violates both the 14th Amend ment's guarantee of equal pro tection of the law and the 15th Amendment's prohibition оп abridging the right to vote because of "race, color, or previous condition of servitude." KINSTON - Racial barriers are being maintained at Christ the King Parochial School, operated here by the Catholic church through the Holy Trinity Church, according to reports which indicate the Holy Trini ty priest, Rev. John A. Weid inger, refused to admit the first Negro children to apply. Mrs. William Beech, Jr., a life-long Catholic, said that Sister M. Dolores, principal of Holy Trinity had accepted an application for her two children, Deborah Angela and Christopher Bernard, graciously when she applied in June. However, shortly before school opened, when she telephone concerning enrollment particulars, she was told her children must attend Father Paul Me morial School, operated solely for Negro children, through the Our Lady of Atonem Church.

Christ the King and Father Paul are said to have the same scholastic standards, and both chools offer instruction from kindergarten to the eighth grade level. A hot lunch proram is available at Christ the King School but no such facility is in effect at Father Paul.

The public schools of Kins ton and Lenoir County have accepted applications for ad-mittance of pupils on a non-Con racial basis. Although there were reports of several with-Ala., is a graduate of Hampton drawals and transfers, these were said to be due to change of mind of students and parents and not to refusal on the part of school authorities to ed savings and loan associaenroll students without bias. tion.
