Following the luncheon the entire party toured the studio on specially decorated trams.

Nations represented include

Honduras, Togo, Uganda, Belgium, Syria, France, United Arab Republic, Ceylon, India, Kuwait, South Africa, Uruguay, Iraq, Tunisia, Guatemala, Colombia, Argentina, Ireland, Laos, Ghana, Lebanon, United Kingdom, Brazil, Spain, Sweden and the Ivory Coast.

DBC Host to NAACP Youth Leaders Nov. 20

Durham Business College played host to the executive committee of the NAACP Youth and College Division in its first executive session November 20. Members attending were President, Kelly Alexander Jr., Charlotte; Vice President, Miss Joyce Thomas, Durham Business College; Miss Patricia Gains, Durham Business College, Charles James, N. C. College; Miss Vina Norris, Secretary; Miss La Anna Evans, and J. W. Hill, Youth Advisor, all of Durham Business College.

President Alexander presented the group with his proposed year's program which was based on the resolutions passed by the state body during the state NAACP Conference in October. The following program was adopted on the state level for NAACP Youth and College chapters:

1. To add 3,000 new Youth members to the membership roster. To accomplish this goal the president appointed Miss Joyce Thomas and Miss Vina

Norris as co-chairman of the membership drive.

2. To observe a youth Fellowship Day where all NAACP youth and College leaders will come together for indoctrination and orientation of convention policies and procedure. The president, Kelly Alexander Jr., is to chair this committee. The president indicate the date of February 5, which coincides with the annual State Branch, Youth and College Chapter Officers meeting at Charlotte.

3. To raise $1,000 for the Mother's Day Rally through the sale of NAACP Holiday seals. All of the members of the executive committee were charged with this responsibility.

4. To establish and develop a Youth Freedom Day at which time the crowning of Miss NAACP Youth Council will take place. This project will take place in the culmination of it would take place in late spring. For immediate attention was the need to raise working capital for the youth office. George K. Butterfield of N. C. College and J. W. Hill, State Youth advisor were assigned the responsibility of devising way to raise immediate funds. The next executive meeting is scheduled for early January at Charlotte.

They Can Have It

MEXICO CITY — Movie star Gloria Swanson, who made her first film in 1916, says if she had the chance to be 20 years old today, she'd refuse it. "I love beauty rather than ugliness," she said. "I'd rather dance to Viennese waltzes than the Frisco or jerk or whatever they call it." She is the 1965 "Silver Queen" at Taxco's annual silver festival.

Mrs. Jesse L. Pearson Named Social Service Coordinator

The appointment of Mrs. Jesse L. Pearson to the position of Social Service Coordinator with the Redevelopment Commission was announced by A. S. Blackwell, Director for Relocation and Property Management.

Blackwell stated it is not merely the aim to uproot the many families within the Urban Renewal Area, thinking only of the brick, mortar or demolition aspects of the overall program but along with these aspects go the myriad problems of many indigent families. The appointment of a Social Service Coordinator will serve as necessary adjunct to much needed service of the various social service disciplines within the City of Durham for these families with problems which could, in some way, be efficaciously attacked by referral to a particular social agency.

Mrs. Pearson will coordinate the referrals of families to the various agencies, as these family problems are recognized by the relocation staff.

Mrs. Pearson brings to this agency many years of experience in the field of social services. She is a graduate of NCC, and the Atlanta University School of Social Work and New York University. For the past 9 years she has been working as Field Director of the Pines of Carolina Girl Scout Council. Prior to Girl Scouting, she held the position of Case Worker with the Orange County Department of Public Welfare; the Travelers Aid Society in Spartanburg, S. C.; New York, N. Y.; and Fayetteville. She was a Case Worker with the Department of Public Welfare, in Raleigh; the Northampton County Department of Public Welfare and the Durham County Department of Public Welfare.

She is a member of the Association of Girl Scout Professional Workers; Jack and Jill of America, Inc.; Delta Sigma Theta Sorority; St. Joseph's Church; the Harriet Tubman YWCA Community Planning Council.

Blackwell stated it is his goal to see that as many families within the Urban Renewal Area as possible will be afforded the opportunity of much needed aid by being made cognizant of those social services available to them.

Miss. Movie Integrates After Violence Flares

CARTHAGE, Miss. — After suffering two Sundays of beatings, Negroes and CORE workers successfully integrated the Fox movie theater in Carthage, Mississippi, on November 21. The group of 60 integrationists saw "Joy in the Morning" completely alone as all the other patrons left shortly after the first, including five white civil rights workers, entered the theater.

FBI agents and units of the Mississippi Highway Patrol were on hand as a beefed-up city police force safely ushered the Negroes as they marched to and from the Fox, and while they watched the film. The group was led by CORE workers Sears Buckley a Mississippi native; and Walter Gilbert from Los Angeles, and local leader A. J. Lewis, adult advisor to the Jordan Student Union which sponsored the project. Carthage is located in Leake County, about 45 miles northeast of Jackson.

On previous attempts to integrate the theater the students and CORE workers were driven away and beaten by white men. The first attempt was on Sunday, Nov. 7, when 2 whites and 7 Negroes purchased tickets and went in the theater. Shortly after they entered, the film was stopped and violence erupted in the dark. They were chased out of the theater, being hit and kicked by white men, one of whom sprayed them with a fire extinguisher. The beatings continued outside until the group reached the Negro section of Carthage.

N. Carolinians Health to be Aired at Meet

Health interests of North Carolinians will be considered at the Annual Meeting of the N. C. Health Council in Durham on December 7. Representatives from 61 State-wide organizations and agencies with health related interests are expected to attend the meeting.

C. Scott Venable, Raleigh, is president of the Council. The effects of the Medicare program on institutions and individuals will be the focus of the one-day meeting. This Annual Session, to be held at the Jack Tar Hotel, will be preceded the afternoon before by a special Seminar on Recruitment.

Program Chairman E. M. Herndon, Durham, has announced the roster of speakers and subjects for the day. Registration begins at nine o'clock and the formal program at ten.

James W. Murray, Atlanta, Regional Director of the Social Security Administration, will be the lead-off speaker as he outlines provisions of Public Law 89-97, popularly referred to as Medicare. He will be introduced by J. R. Norton, M.D., Raleigh, State Health Director. Other subjects and speakers for the morning session include "What Medicare Means to Hospitals" by Marion J. Foster, Raleigh, Executive Secretary, N. C. Hospital Association; "What Medicare Means to the Practice of Medicine" by Edgar T. Beddingfield, M.D., Stantonsburg; and "What Medicare Means to Nursing Homes" by Travis Tomlinson, Raleigh, Association of Nursing Homes, Inc.

der's Day observance at Shaw University recently. Rankin, director of the Department of Administration for the State of North Carolina, read the Governor's speech after a special legislative assembly on the Speaker ban law prevented Moore's appearance. Broughton is vice-chairman of the University's board of trustees.
