The banquet was held in honor of the many friends who help to support the various activities of the organization.

CHAMPAGNE ETIQUETTE FOR EVERYONE

Whether you're a gay bon vivant or a quiet home body, there's a time in your life when you want to celebrate a birthday party, a wedding or anniversary, a holiday party, dinner for the boss. To make the evening memorable, you're going to serve French Champagne. Do you know how to store it... serve it, sip it? There's an art to all this—learn it and you'll mark yourself a "connoisseur." When you buy, you'll have your choice of a split, which is 6 1/2 ounces... a half bottle 13... a regular bottle 26... a magnum 52 (or two bottles)... a Jereboam 104 (or four bottles)! Store champagne on its side, never upright. Ideal temperature: 44 to 48°. Hold a champagne glass by the stem, not the body. And never—but never!—wrap the bottle in a towel or use a swizzle stick in the glass.

YOUR TOWN—PREPARED FOR DISASTER?

If disaster struck your town, would evacuation centers and emergency shelters be prepared? Are there professional and volunteer workers who could be mobilized immediately? Do you know where your town can seek financial help in case of catastrophe? Have homeowners been encouraged to keep basic provisions on hand for emergencies? Story offers a checklist of steps every town should take in case of local disaster—and gives expert advice for remedying shortcomings.

GIFT GIVING AROUND THE WORLD

Did you know that the filling of Christmas stockings began almost 1600 years ago? It's a fact! In the 4th century, St. Nicholas—the original Santa Claus—dropped a bag of gold coins down a chimney into a stocking a poor girl had hung by the fireplace to dry, thus initiating a lasting custom. Other colorful gift-giving traditions around the world are equally fascinating: Know in which country children go from house to house at night to collect their gifts? Why one modern American gift for women this Christmas is truly sent from heaven? Why it might be said that Christmas giving in Scandinavia is "for the birds?" A merry wrap-up of global gift-giving.

Sr. Citizens Honor Mesdames Hattie Meadows and A. Leach

The November Birthday Party of the Senior Citizens at St. Titus' Church honored Mrs. Hattie Meadows and Mrs. Ada Leach. A white linen table cloth was graced with white spiral candles and with three vases of chrysanthemums in a variety of colors, brought and arranged by Mrs. Lillie Thompson. Placed at one end of the table was a large pound cake with white icing sent by Mrs. Meadows, and at the other end a chocolate layer cake brought by Mrs. Leach. Each cake was decorated with pink candles. The soufflé cups, one at each place, were filled with nuts and mints sent by Mrs. Meadows' daughter. Added to all this were the potato chips, cheese trix, coffee, tea, cocoa, and ice cream furnished by the club.

Aside from the club gift for each honoree there were many other greetings and gifts for both. As Mrs. Meadows was unable to be present because of a recent accident, her remembrances, along with refreshments and flowers were sent to her.

Three visitors added to the happiness of the day: Mrs. Hattie Baines, mother of Mrs. C. C. Burthey; Mrs. Nannie Belle Taylor, mother of Mrs. Crusoe Geer; and Mrs. Murray Marvin, daughter of our own Mrs. Mary Simmons. Mrs. Marvin came to

MODEL MOTHERS CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. JOSEPHINE YOKLEY

The Model Mothers Club met at the home of Mrs. Josephine Yokley, 309 Wayne Circle, on November 19. Mrs. Ruby B. Philpaw served as hostess for the meeting.

The meeting was opened by song prayer after which the minutes of the last meeting were read. The President, Mrs. Massenburg, called for reports of various committees. The Social Committee presented to the group plans for a dinner to be given for members and their guests to be held on Saturday, January 29. The place for the affair is to be decided at our next meeting. Plans were also made for the children's Christmas party which is an annual affair. A nominating committee was appointed by the president to select a new slate of officers to be brought to our next meeting to be voted on. There being nothing else of importance to discuss, the meeting was turned over to our hostess, Mrs. Philpaw, who served a very tasty repast.

The members present were as follows: Mesdames Geraldine Alston, Cora Blunt, Mary Byrd, Sarah Carter, Minnie Gilmer, Mable Harris, Elizabeth Herndon, Althea Holmes, Lottie Mason, Betty Massenburg, Lena Richardson, Julius Robinson and Reba Spaulding.

HOW TO VACATION IN-THE-FRENCH STYLE

If you're looking for something different in the way of winter blues-chasers, how about a sun-and-sand vacation à la française? You needn't go to the French Riviera—just follow the knowing, tourists who are beating a path to the French Caribbean! On the islands of Guadeloupe and Martinique, the way of life is French—yet English is widely spoken. Both offer remarkable scenic beauty—artist Paul Gauguin was among the many who considered Martinique the world's most beautiful island! Enjoy shopping bargains! Prices of French wines and perfumes are lower in the islands than in France! Like colorful festivals? Observe Mardi Gras and Ash Wednesday with the islanders; a new jet route gets the carnival season off to a flying start. How to have a magnifique vacation.

FOR GALS ON THE GO: QUICK STEPS TO GOOD GROOMING

Whether you're a busy homemaker, a student or a career girl, chances are that good grooming takes up more of your valuable time than is really necessary. By heeding the hints in this story you may be able to save minutes every day and look bandbox fresh at the end of the day, too! Know what two-minute trick can restore a deflated bouffant hairdo? How you can have stronger, longer, lovelier nails—even if your work calls for typing? Why a once-a-week manicure is of vital importance for hand beauty? Time-saving tips to make good grooming a soft touch.

ed rates. The reductions have affected all classes of service, from individual homes to large industries and municipalities. Spokesmen said that the company is "continuing every effort to improve efficiency of operation—in the hope that we can continue to reduce the cost of electricity in respect to the 'sine cost of living.'"

The Duke spokesman pointed out that the National Power Survey released by the Federal Power Commission earlier this year set 1980 as the target date in which to achieve for the nation an average charge for all classes of service of 1.2 cents per kilowatt hour. Duke Power attained that average in 1960, twenty years ahead of the FPC's date. By Nov. 1965 its average revenue per kwh was 1.12 cents. The reductions of January 1, 1966 will bring this figure even lower.

HONOR WHERE HONOR IS DUE—After thirty years representing wines and spirits importers and producers, Lawrence J. Crowder of Wilson, stands before his fireplace at home viewing the awards he has received over that period.

The oldest engraved plaque is from Charles Jacquin et Cie, Inc., whom Crowder has represented almost from Repeal. Next to it are plaques from Laird and Company and Southern Comfort Corporation. The fourth award is from the J.T.S.

Brown's Sons Company, and the latest from Austin, Nichols and Company, whom Crowder has represented from 1943. Crowder is the head of the North State Company with headquarters at the National Bank Building, Wilson.
