Shaw U. Bears Latest Victims Of Eagle Quint

The North Carolina College Eagle quint continued their winning ways on foreign courts with a pair of wins last week. NCC downed Johnson C. Smith University, 78-64 last Tuesday in Charlotte and scored a 101-88 victory over the Shaw University Bears in Raleigh last Saturday.

The two conference wins for Coach Floyd Brown's cagers moved their young seasonal league record to 4-0. NCC has a pair of games this week against Saint Augustine's College and Winston-Salem State College before the holiday break.

Again it was the scoring of Ted Manning and the rebounding of Lee Davis that led the Eagles to the two wins. Manning scored 33 points in the win over the Golden Bulls and tallied 28 markers against the determined Shaw club. Davis pulled off 12 rebounds against Smith and grabbed 13 loose balls off the boards in Raleigh. Davis gave his hometown folks something to cheer about last Saturday when he not only rebounded for NCC but he scored 25 points.

NCC moved out from a two point halftime lead at 34-32 with a 44 point second half for the win over the Bulls. The Eagles held their own on the board against Smith. Each team collected 46 rebounds.

NCC had to fight off several scoring efforts by the Bears Saturday night to preserve their win over the home standers. Shaw, always tough to beat at home, was playing without the services of its star backcourt operator, Ira Mitchell who was injured in the Virginia Union game last Friday night in Richmond, Va.

Following the pair of games this week, NCC is expected to participate in the Holiday Tournament which will be held in Winston-Salem Dec. 31 and Jan. 1.

Tigers Score Heavily Over Henderson Five

The Merrick-Moore Tigers, with all their starters scoring in double figures, shellacked the visiting Henderson Institute Panthers, 117-27 last Friday night in the Merrick-Moore Gymnasium.

Coach Harry Edmonds' cagers were ready from the word go as the defending state 3-A champions built up a 54-15 lead at the intermission. All five starters scored at least 15 points for Merrick-Moore.

Allen Reddish with 26 points one less than the team total for Henderson, led the Tigers' attack. Larry Jones contributed 34, Alphoso Hamilton 19, Al Pollard 16 and Clifton Holloway 15.

The win for Merrick-Moore was its second in as many games. Not a single player scored in double figures for the Panthers.

The Merrick-Moore Jayvees eased by the Henderson Institute juniors, 50-44 in the preliminary tilt.

Hornets Win Over Stephens-Lee of Asheville

By EARL MASON
Times Sports Editor

The high scoring machine of the Hillside Hornets erupted for their second straight win by defeating Stephens-Lee of Asheville, 130-70 last Friday night in the Hillside Gymnasium.

After a 138 point production against Little River two weeks ago, the Hornets continued their pressing, fast-breaking tactics with a 76 point second half enroute to their one-sided win over the Asheville quintet. Stephens-Lee has never defeated Hillside in a basketball game.

Coach Carl Easterling's "pony express" went ahead 6-5 on a jumper by George Outlaw and never trailed again in the non-conference 4-A scrap. At the end of the first quarter, Hillside led 30-12.

A 13 point first quarter by John Bullock and a 12 point second stanza by William Harris led the Hornets to a 54-30 margin at the intermission.

With the slow first half under their belts, Hillside, exploded for 32 points in the third period and 42 in the last frame to completely outclass the visitors from the mountain.

Harris led all scorers for Hillside with 25 points. Bullock collected 23 markers, Outlaw 17 and Danny McLaurin 16. The Hornets shot 41% from the floor hitting on 55 of 133 shots as compared with 34% for Stephens-Lee. Bullock led the rebounding department for the locals with 17 retreats as Hillside outrebounced the Bears, 73-32.

Coach Willie Bradshaw's junior varsity withstood several gallant efforts by the Shepherd Panthers for a 63-52 win in the preliminary contest. The win was the 31st for the Baby Hornets over a three year period. Dwight Womble tallied 13 points for Hillside. Paul Stroud led all scorers with 23 points while teammate Ronald Eley had 20.

Hillside plays host to E. E. Smith of Fayetteville Friday before visiting the Little River Gymnasium Saturday night for a return match.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS CRACK CENTURY MARK

Hillside and Merrick-Moore basketball teams gave the people what they came to see—a plenty of points. The Merrick-Moore Tigers, seldom known for their high point total, shellacked the visiting Henderson Institute Panthers, 117-27 last Friday in the Merrick-Moore Gymnasium. Hillside cracked the 100 point category for the second time this young season in as many outings by downing the Stephen-Lee Bears of Asheville, 130-70.

Scoring at the rate of about four points per minute, Coach Carl Easterling's cagers may be on the verge of becoming the highest scoring team in the state. At the present, the Hornets are averaging 134 points per game giving up exactly 70 points in both outings.

Coach Harry Edmonds' quintet is capable of scoring 100 points or more but running up high scores is not a custom for the Durham County cagers. Merrick-Moore manages to win games but not with the explosive offensive.

This corner is in search now for the highest point total by a high school team in the state of North Carolina. At the rate Hillside is scoring, the pressing, fast-breaking "pony express" of the Hornets may be within reach of a state record.

THOMAS LONG OFF TO GOOD START

Hillside's basketball product to Norfolk State, Thomas Long is off to a good start with Spartans. Norfolk State won the CIAA tournament championship last year and returning from that team, Coach Ernie Fears has eight lettermen returning including three starters. In his pre-season summary, Fears stated he felt the strength of the team lie in the freshmen.

In their seasonal opener, the Spartans came from behind to defeat Bethune-Cookman in the 12th Annual Georgia Invitational Basketball Tournament, 111-105. In this game, the first one for Long in the collegiate ranks, the 6-1 AllState performer for last year's state championship Hillside five, came off the bench with 3:38 left in the game and scored 13 points to lead the Spartans to victory. Norfolk went on to win the tournament, defeating Winston-Salem State College, 89-79 in the finals.

In a statement from Long to this pillar, he said "to be a team of this caliber is one thing, and to be able to play is another. I am just glad to be associated with a team like this."

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS MAKE START TO FORM CONFERENCE

This pillar has received from a very reliable source that the Negro junior high schools here in Durham have taken the first steps toward emerging with the white junior high schools to form an inter-city-county conference. With the large number of junior high school basketball teams here in our city and county school system, Durham should have a conference of its own.

A suggested eight team curcuit would give seven junior high teams the chance to play each other on a home bases, thus accumulating the 14-game maximum for junior high teams. This would eliminate traveling problems and expenses.

Take for instance now, Whitted and Shepard Junior High Schools can play only two games on the junior level in Durham. The rest of the games have to be played out of town.

What this corner is suggesting is the formation of a city-county integrated league and let the local schools play one another. At the end of the season, a visitation trophy can be awarded and let the eight teams play a single elimination tournament and crown a tournament winner. This would create interest among the junior high teams since the teams do not have anything to look forward to at the end of the season.

The first step, that is the writing to the school superintendent, to form such a league has already been undertaken. Now it is in the hands of the school officials to say yes or no to the proposed idea. This corner would go all out to see this basketball program here in our city.

gan defeated A. and M., annual game-host, by a score of 36 to 7. For young Jolivet, the return to Miami's Orange Bowl was something of a triumph. In '63 his Bears had lost to the A. and M. Rattlers, 30-7. At the game's end, Williams was certainly the Tallahassee Institution's hero, for he had put the Rattlers on the score board for its only touchdown—an 83-yd., first quarter kick-off return.

was that Japan had joined the Axis with Germany and Italy. Attendant bad news was that after a daylight raid by 800 planes, London was fighting its worst fires. The footballers of the class of '41 served their country at war—of the 25 winners, ten went into the Navy, five into the Army, four into the Air Force and three into the Marines. The proud service record they compiled in those years is the beginning of their claim to this honor.

A&T LEADER—Robert Saunders, captain of the A&T Aggies basketball team, will lead A&T in the Gate City Classic which will be played in Greensboro this weekend. A. and T. is the lone CIAA representative in the tournament while the other three teams are from the Carolina Conference.

A. and T. will meet Elon College Friday night and Western Carolina will play Guilford Saturday night. Guilford will tangle with Elon and the Aggies will play Western Carolina.

HENDERSON LAD NOW STARRING FOR NEW YORK FOOTBALL TIGERS

BRONX, N. Y. — Fred Rico Chavis, a native of Henderson and a graduate of Henderson Institute, is the one reason the New York Tigers are in first place in the Northeastern Semi-Pro Football League.

The Tigers, a semi-pro football team in Bronx, N. Y., are currently sporting an 8-1 record and is riding high in first place in the league. Chavis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Chavis of 706 Orange Street in Henderson, is now enrolled in New York City College here.

William Garner, skipper and owner of the New York club labels Chavis as one of the most exciting players in the league. Chavis got his real chance when a starter was injured. Since then, the 175-pounder has scored 15 tds, passed for three six pointers, caught 18 passes for 467 yards and gained 884 yards rushing. Chavis has played halfback and the flanker position.

Chavis is certain to be in the running for the Rookie of the Year honors at least if Garner has anything to do with it.

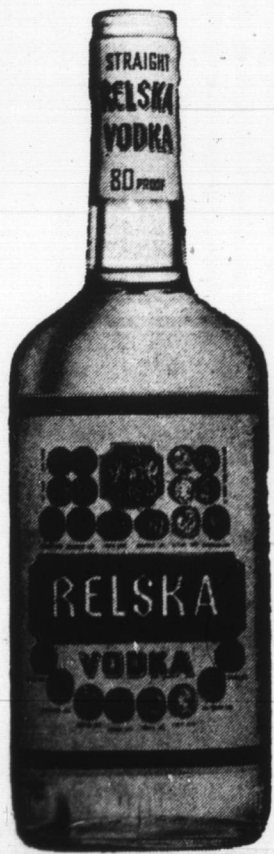

According to the North Carolina Heart Association, more than 390,000 American lives were lost in battle during the four years of World War II. During the same four years, however, 2,300,000 Americans died of the heart and blood vessel diseases.
