Methodists Make More Than $7,500 Contribution to Bennett

GREENSBORO — Methodists of the North-Carolina Virginia conference reported nearly $8,000 in contributions to Bennett College for the first six months of their fiscal year during their mid-year conference on Christian higher education at the college recently.
The Rev. L. A. Brown, of Greensboro, conference treasurer, reported a total of $7,740 received but said that contributions received after his report was prepared would raise this amount by at least $500. The Central District, headed by the Rev. J. W. Gwyn, reported $3,243 and next in order was the Western District, of the Rev. J. J. Patterson, with $2,236. The Eastern District of the Rev. J. W. Ferree contributed $1,318 and the Virginia District of the Rev. J. B. Betha, reported $853.
Dr. Willa B. Player, president of the college in welcoming the ministers and their wives, told them of the building program calls for bids to be submitted shortly for a new residence hall and a two-story infirmary. Money is still being sought, she said, for a new science hall to cost more than one million dollars for which $400,000 must yet be raised. She said that the current worth of the institution is now close to $8 million.

"Annual Conference Responsibility for Christian Education" was the subject of a presentation by the Rev. J. T. Jones, chairman of the conference committee on higher education, and the Rev. W. M. Wells, Jr., state director, spoke on "The Methodist Student Movement of North Carolina," tist Church, being brought
