

Hillside Wins Sixth Straight

Duke Univ. Enrolls First Negro To Football Grant-In-Aid

men. Outlaw and McLaurin are the starters but Monroe sees plenty of action in a reserve role. Outlaw is one of the co-captains of the Hornet team.

Hornets Halt Laurinburg Quint

John Bullock scored 41 points to lead the Hillside Hornets to a 110-106 win over previously undefeated Laurinburg Institute last Friday in the Hillside Gymnasium.
Bullock completely stole the show from Laurinburg's Charles Scott as he also grabbed 25 rebounds and was credited with 13 assists. Scott, who has reported signed a grant-in-aid with Davidson College, scored 15 points before he fouled out of the non-conference game with seven minutes remaining.
Despite the fine overall play by "Gat", it was the clutch shooting by Michael Hayes in the last two minutes that pulled the game out of the fire to preserve the Hornets' sixth straight win of the season. Over a two year period the defending state 4-A champions have won 15 consecutive games.

Hillside went ahead 10-9 on a shot by Danny McLaurin 5:32 left in the first quarter and never trailed again but the visitors pulled to within two points at 101-99 with 2:38 remaining. Hayes scored four baskets in the next two minutes to put the Hornets out of danger.
Hayes finished the game with 23 points for Hillside. Alvin Rencher tallied 38 markers for Laurinburg.
In the preliminary contest, the Hillside Jayvees won their 34th straight win over a three year period by defeating Laurinburg junior varsity 57-40.

Eagles Turn Back Panther Basketeers

With all five starters scoring in double figures, the North Carolina College Eagles defeated the Virginia Union University Panthers Saturday night, 82-76 in a Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association game played in the R. L. McDougald Gymnasium.
The win for the Eagles, their seventh against two losses, avenged an 80-78 setback to the Richmond, Va. quintet earlier in the week. All of the games for the Eagles have been against conference foes.
Coach Floyd Brown's cagers moved out to a comfortable 47-31 halftime lead but had to stave off several gallant scoring threats by the visitors in the last seven minutes of the loosely played encounter. NCC never trailed in the game but Va Union narrowed NCC's 16 point halftime lead to five points with 7:30 left in the game. But Roy Killens scored a couple of quick baskets at this point to up the lead to nine points with six minutes left.
Lee Davis emerged as the individual star for the home-standers, leading NCC in the scoring and rebounding departments. Davis, a 6-7 sophomore from Raleigh, score 21 points, 15 in the first half and graded 17 rebounds.
Ted Manning, who holds the all time scoring record for NCC, had an extremely cold night from the floor. The 6-4 senior from Baltimore hit on only four of 20 shots from the field and finished the night with 18 points. This was the season's lowest point total for Manning who now has scored 1,827 points in his four year career at the institution.
The old record of 1,770 points was held by Sam Jones, now a super star for the world champion Boston Celtics. Jones compiled his record during the 1951-54 and the 1956-57 seasons.
Union's hope for winning all but went down the drain when the visitors lost their number one scorer, Michael Davis. Davis, a 6-4 freshman from Brooklyn, N. Y., who ranks among the top ten scorers in the small college division, was ejected from the contest with 15 minutes remaining for committing a flagrant foul. Davis was true on only three of 16 shots from the floor but added seven of seven from the charity line for 13 points, far below his 26 plus point average.
The Panthers, with a sound of seven men, were forced to play the last portion of the final stanza with only five players. After Davis was ejected from the game, Union lost Michael Williams by the foul route and finished the game

INTEGRATION CLOSER TO HOME

The signing of Allen Parks to a Duke University football grant-in-aid here this week is only bringing to light that integration is closer to home. Parks was sought by other members of the Atlantic Coast Conference including Wake Forest, North Carolina, Maryland and Davidson.

This was the first Negro Duke has signed to an athletic grant-in-aid but Wake Forest and Maryland have had Negroes playing on their football team. Wake Forest had two Negroes on its varsity squad last season and both boys turned in remarkable performances in starting roles.

Come September Cladius Claiborne, a member of the Duke freshman basketball team, is attending school on an academic scholarship. Howard Stanback, a Hillside graduate and a Durham lad, will join Robert Grant and Butch Henry on the Demon Deacons' team. Stanback is a tackle.

It was once said by a well known coach in the Atlantic Coast Conference that it was a shame and a disgrace to have some of the top athletes in North Carolina go out of the state to college because members of the ACC failed to accept them because they were Negroes.

It has been reported that Wake Forest has signed two more highly publicized football players. Jimmy Kirkpatrick and Oscar Polite has inked papers to attend the Baptist institution. Kirkpatrick starred for the undefeated Myers Park team of Charlotte and Polite was a standout for Fayetteville's E. E. Smith.

with three players with four personal fouls apiece.
Albert Connor tallied 12 points for the Eagles, Daniel McClain 11, Curtis Watkins 11 and Killens nine. Harvey Dock led the Union scoring with 20 points.
NCC will meet A. and T. College in Greensboro Saturday for its final game before a two week layoff for examinations.

Most of the North Carolina boys who went out of state to school have made outstanding showings. The Big Ten got most of these boys including Bobby Bell, Walt Bellamy, Lou Hudson and Jim Raye.

DON'T BE SURPRISE TO SEE SOME CAGERS SIGN TOO

The signing of Parks this week to a football scholarship seconds the motion for the basketball players. No later than last Friday, several coaches from the ACC and Southern Conference were present at the Hillside-Laurinburg basketball game.

It has been reported that Laurinburg's Charles Scott has signed a grant-in-aid with Davidson College and several coaches from that school were present at the game including head coach Lefty Drissell. Also spied in the overcrowded gymnasium was Duke's assistant basketball coach, Chuck Daly.

The coaches as well as the spectators saw an offensive show for their money. Scott had drawn all the headlines preceding the game but Hillside's John Bullock made the coaches take a second look.
Odd enough, Bullock and Scott were defended against each other and both players wore jersey number 33. So the 33's put on a show for the people. Hillside fought off several gallant efforts by Laurinburg for a 110-106 win.

Going into the non-conference game, Laurinburg was undefeated in seven games and averaging 103 points per game while Hillside was unbeaten in five games scoring at the rate of 107 points per test. The difference in the game was four points—the exact difference the two teams averages.

Koufax Named Sports Mag. Man of Year

NEW YORK—Sandy Koufax has been named Sport magazine's "Man of the Year" for 1965 in its 19th annual "Top Performer" selections appearing in the current issue of the magazine.
The Los Angeles Dodger pitching star, who captured the same award in 1963, is the first winner to gain Sport's "Man of the Year" distinction for a second time. He was also named Sport's "Top Performer in Baseball."

Say the editors in explanation of their choice: "Not one of baseball's pitching immortals—not Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean, Left Grove, Bob Feller—even in his best year, had as good a year as Sandy Koufax in 1965."

Another special award covering the entire world of sports goes to spectacular Chicago Bear running-back Gale Sayers, named Sport's "Rookie of the Year." Last year's top all-sports rookie was Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins.

running w ltors ucf mtm ro Sport also named the other winners of its 19th annual "Top Performer" awards, covering participants in every major sport. Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns was named "Top Performer in Pro Football," and Mike Garrett of the University of Southern California received the "Top Performer in College Football" award.

In basketball, Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics received the "Pro" citation and Bill Bradley of Princeton was his "College" counterpart. High-scoring Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks won the "Top Performer in Hockey" honors.
The "Top Performer in Boxing" was heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, and on the other end of the scale, Willie Shoemaker rode off with "Top Performer in Racing" honors. NCAA and AA Uchampion Roy Saari of USC captured Sport's "Top Performer in Swimming" award.

Virginia's Dunbar High Star Choice of Blue Devil Eleven

Duke University has signed its first Negro football player to an athletic grant-in-aid.
Allen Parks, husky tackle at Dunbar High School in Lynchburg, Va., confirmed Monday that he has accepted a four-year football scholarship to become the first member of his race to do so. He will enroll here next September.

A 6-2, 225-pounder, Parks said from his home in Lynchburg that he had signed the papers over the past weekend and mailed them to Duke's chief recruiter and assistant athletic director, Carl James.
James was unavailable for comment last night. He's in Washington for the NCAA convention this week along with most of Duke's other football coaches, including the resigned Bill Murray.
Athletic Director Eddie Cameron, contacted in Washington earlier in the day regarding reports that Parks had signed, remarked: "I sure hope it's true. He's a good boy, a very good athlete and an excellent student. We'd like to have him very much."

While Parks is the first Negro football player ever to accept a football grant-in-aid at Duke, he isn't the school's first Negro athlete.
C. B. Claiborne, youthful Negro from Danville, Va., is playing on the current Duke freshman basketball squad and averaging 8.7 points and 5.5 rebounds per game. He's attending the Methodist institution on an academic scholarship, however.
Parks, who plans to study law at Duke, has been an outstanding tackle the last two seasons at Dunbar.
President of his senior class, he has an academic average of 90.

Duke BOUND—Allen Parks has signed a football grant-in-aid with Duke University. Parks, who will enter Duke in September to study law, is a 6-2, 225 pounder from Dunbar High School in Lynchburg, Va. Parks is the first Negro to ink a football grant-in-aid with Duke even though Cladius Claiborne is attending the school on an academic scholarship. Duke officials seem to be more than happy about the signing of Parks who as president of his senior class, has maintained an academic average of 90.

Parks visited the local campus several days ago, being on hand for the Duke-Penn State basketball game here last Monday night.
Duke becomes the third Atlantic Coast Conference member to recruit Negro footballers. Daryl Hill played at Maryland two seasons ago, while Wake Forest had two offensive starters last fall in guard Robert Grant of Jacksonville, and end Kenneth Henry of Greensboro, both sophomores with two more seasons of eligibility.

Although Duke has been without a head football coach since Murray resigned following the final game of the season with Carolina, Nov. 20, the recruiting program for next September's freshman squad has continued under the direction of Murray himself.

larily named in "Golf." Randy Matson of Texas A. and M., the world record-holder with a shot put of more than 70 feet, is "Top Performer in Track and Field," completing Sport magazine's 1965 awards listings.

TOP SCORER IN NCC HISTORY—Ted Manning has established a new career scoring record for North Carolina College. The 6-4 senior forward from Baltimore, Md. broke Sam Jones' four year scoring fete of 1,770 points with a 28 point performance against Hampton Institute in Hampton last week. Through games of last Saturday, Manning has scored 1,827 points.

Three-Times Ted Mack Winner

DAYTONA BEACH, Florida—Miss Clemertine Hightower, a junior majoring in Music at Bethune-Cookman College became a three-time winner on the Ted Mack Amateur Hour according to Oscar Schonmaker, an official on the nationally televised show.
Miss Hightower won a large margin when the final votes were recently received from across the nation after her September 19, 1965 appearance. Earlier in the year she won in Miami, Florida, (March 21, 1965) and New York, (June 20, 1965).
After a third victory in Chicago the talented opera singer, qualified for the finals, the place and date to be announced later. A win in the finals would give her a full scholarship to Julliard School of Music, New York and singing engagements at Radio City Music Hall.

Miss Hightower became interested in concert singing when her choral director at Northwest High School, Jacksonville, Florida, recognized her talents and convinced her to pursue opera as a career.
She is attending Bethune-Cookman College at Daytona Beach, Florida, on a music scholarship.
