MANGUM

Statesville Man Candidate for N.C. Legislature

STATESVILLE—From Statesville comes the report this week that interest among Negro voters of Iredell County in the May 28 Democratic Primary is at the highest peak in many years.

With the announcement several weeks ago that T. V. Mangum, prominent Negro undertaker and business man of Statesville, had entered the race as a Democratic candidate for County Commissioner, interest has continued to mount until it has reached the point where it is believed that Mangum has a good chance of being victorious in the race.

As the only Negro candidate for public office in the entire county it is believed that Mangum will not only receive a sizable vote from those of his own race but wide support from white voters of the rural sections of the county as well as Statesville where he lives and his business is located.

Plans for Big Expansion are Given Council

The trustees of Lincoln Hospital presented a proposal for expansion of its facilities to the Health Planning Council for Central Carolina Monday at a meeting held at the Carolina Inn in Chapel Hill according to F. W. Scott, director of the hospital.

The proposed expansion plans to cost some $3.5 million, would increase Lincoln's patient load from 100 to 150, provide for construction of a new nurses' home, laundry, boiler plant and resident staff quarters.

No action was taken by the council during its closed session. Officials of Watts Hospital had earlier suggested a $14.1 million expansion of that facility with hopes that Watts absorb the functions now provided by Lincoln.

Lincoln officials have indicated desires that Lincoln, which was founded 65 years ago continue the role it has taken since its origin in providing medical care and medical training.

It was not immediately determined what, if any, effect the presence of the two proposals before the council would have on each other. However, Scott reported that the Lincoln trustees are scheduled to meet with the County Commission on May 30. After that time, he said, a more detailed report will be made concerning the plans.

Under the plan presented at the meeting, the portion of the Lincoln plant constructed in 1942 will be demolished and the wing which was constructed in 1953 will be remodeled. Watts trustees are making efforts to hold a bond election in September to provide a major portion of the needed funds for the Watts expansion.

1 Senator, Representatives Elected In Lone Star State

AUSTIN, Texas—In the recent Democratic Primary, three Negroes, the first since Reconstruction Days, emerged victorious in bids for nominations to the Texas legislature.

The successful candidates are Mrs. Barbara Jordan of Houston who was elected to the senate; Joseph E. Lockridge of Dallas and Curtis M. Graves of Houston who both won House seats. However, Lockridge, who defeated two white candidates including incumbent Ben Lewis of Richardson, must now face a Republican opponent, Hank Gilliam, of Dallas, in November to be assured of a position. The other two had no Republican foes.

Mrs. Jordan, an attorney, will be the only woman among 31 senators when the 60th legislature opens sessions in January, 1967. She won over state Rep. J. C. Whitfield of Houston.

Graves, manager of a savings firm's branch office, defeated two white candidates to earn a legislative post.

There are 150 members of the House in the Lone Star State.

HOLLAND NAMED TO ARTS BOARD

HAMPTON, Virginia—Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of Hampton Institute, has been named by Gov. Mills E. Godwin to membership on the Virginia Cultural Development Commission, which was created by the General Assembly early this year.

NEW TEXAS SENATOR—The first Negro elected to sit in the upper chamber of the Texas House of Representatives since Reconstruction Days, Mrs. Barbara Jordan, is shown after she emerged victorious in the recent Democratic Primary in the Lone Star State. She had no Republican opponents and defeated J. C. Whitfield for the senatorial seat.

California Court Bans Housing Color Line

SAN FRANCISCO—In a 5-to-2 ruling, the California Supreme Court handed down a decision invalidating the state's anti-Negro Proposition 14 which permitted racial discrimination in housing.

The ruling, handed down on May 10, culminated a long and costly struggle by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and other fair housing advocates. One of the six cases on which the court based its decision was filed and argued by Nathaniel Colley, the NAACP's West Coast regional counsel.

Under Proposition 14, adopted by a referendum in November, 1964, the Unruh Civil Rights Act and the Rumford Fair Housing Act were nullified and discrimination in housing made legal. In holding Proposition 14 unconstitutional, Justice Paul Peek, See HOUSING Page 2A
